

Every pay day put some money in the bank

YOU can always afford something---no matter how small

—put it in the bank. The most successful men in the world says, "Your expenses should never exceed your income."

Take that advice—and bank the surplus. It will make you independent—is a safeguard against sickness, accident and misfortune. Next pay day—don't forget—start it here—even a dollar will do.

Enjoying Himself in Washington.

Forrest Stuart, who is now in the postoffice department at Washington, D. C., writes to the Examiner under date of August 5th, as follows:

"I receive the Examiner every week and enjoy reading it. Am glad Mr. Smith and Mr. French came thru with flying colors. I have made a great many acquaintances here, including a number of the senators and congressmen, and am commencing to feel quite at home in Washington. Saturday, thru the courtesy of Representative French, I had the honor of being introduced to President Taft at the White House.

"I visited the Gettysburg battlefield and several other points of historical interest this summer. We are having delightful weather, and have experienced only a few hot days so far.

"Will enter upon my studies at George Washington University in October."

BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS.

Will Give One Performance at Pocatello on August 29.

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth and newly added spectacle of "Cleopatra" will give one performance only in Pocatello on Thursday, Aug. 29.

The spectacle in itself is an attraction that should fill the big tent and draw thousands of visitors from the surrounding districts. It is beyond question the greatest production of its kind ever seen in America.

The world's most skillful scenic artists, costumers, property builders, chorus directors and stage managers were engaged to mount the production. A stage bigger than a hundred theatres was built and made portable so that it can be conveyed from town to town and erected each day in the main tent. The circus proprietors have thus made it possible for those who live in contributory towns, even farmers and their families, to see the magnificent wordless play that is an attraction in the largest cities. It is enacted with a cast of 1,250 actors, a grand opera chorus, and orchestra of 100 soloists, a ballet of 350 dancing girls, 650 horses, five herds of elephants, caravans of camels, and a trainload of special devices, costumes, scenery and electrical mechanism for producing such effects as lightning, thunder, sand storms on the desert, volcanoes in action, sun-rise, floods and mirages.

The regular circus program is the finest the Barnum and Bailey management has ever offered. Thrilling acts are presented by Katie Sandwina, the strongest and most beautiful woman before the public; Mae Writh, the greatest of all riders; a company of Japanese wrestlers, athletes, swordsmen and jiu jitsu experts, Winston's riding seals, and Victoria Codona, queen of high wire performers. There are 400 performers. In the menagerie will be found the only baby giraffe on exhibition in the world.

YOUR CHILD'S YESIGHT is of vital importance to you and the greatest care should be taken that it be not allowed to study, or read or write in a faint light. Nothing weakens the eyes quicker than straining them! Save the child complaining of headaches, from further suffering, by bringing it here for an eye examination. We will provide the right kind of glasses to improve its vision, remove the headaches, and make the child happy.

COLONIAL PLAYERS TWO NIGHTS NEXT WEEK

The announcement of the coming of Mr. Ralph Cloninger supported by the Colonial players next Monday and Tuesday nights, August 19 and 20, will be welcome news to all lovers of the drama, and the further announcement of the two plays decided upon should prove most satisfactory. The play for the first night Monday, August 19, will be Miss Margaret Mayo's latest story "Polly of the Circus." The story of Polly is undoubtedly one of the most intense, clean and interesting of present day plays and is as sweet and fragrant as a rose bed. As the story unfolds act after act the tears of the audience act as a dew. All love Polly, sympathize with her, and want to share her troubles and sorrows. All those quaint New England characters that surround Polly, and the story grows upon you from act to act until they seem like people you have known in the past. It will do you good to visit Polly—you will think of her and talk of her for many days to come.

Tuesday night, Mrs. M. E. Braden's famous love story, "Married in Haste," will be produced. It is doubtful if there is a woman or miss in this city who have not read this wonderful book. Mr. Cloninger's presentation of the play leaves nothing to be desired. The intense story of love and intrigue is closely formed the stage settings are beautiful and costumes gorgeous.

Seats now selling at Riter's drug store for both nights. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents. Be one of the first nighters and have no regrets Tuesday morning.

Strenuous Exercise. They were talking about the value of regular physical exercise, and one of the group, noticing that Meredith Nicholson the author, seemed pretty fit, asked him what he did to keep in condition.

"Who, me?" he exclaimed. "Why, I don't need any calisthenics or things of that sort. I live in a house on the sunset side of the street, and I get all the exercise my system needs in building the fire every morning."

"That doesn't seem to offer much chance for exercise," remarked a friend. "What kind of fire is it you build, wood or coal?"

"Neither," replied Nicholson. "We use gas, and I have to scratch a match every time I light the fire."
