THEATRICAL

"THE LIE" NEXT ATTRACTION
BY E. FORREST TAYLOR CO.

The author of "The Lie" is too well known to need any humble words of praise from me, says E. Forrest Taylor, local theatrical favorite. Margaret Illington used this play as a starring vehicle for two years. And this will give Miss Daniels one of her greatest opportunities of showing her stage ability. The comedy is quaint and delightful. This is a special production and the management promises the theatre goers of Montpelier and vicinity one of the very best attractions yet this season. At the Gem Theatre, Thursday evening, Feb. 24.

CONWAY TEARLE HAS
STARRING ROLE IN
"MAROONED HEARTS"

Conway Tearle, idol of millions of theatre goers, now has come into his inheritance in stardom, and his first picture, "Marooned Hearts," is to be shown at the Gem Theatre, Saturday afternoon and night this week.

His first picture, "Marooned Hearts," is a play that provides him an ideal part for his talents—a picture play that calls for a virile fighting man working out his own destiny under difficulties and winning a beautiful woman.

The story is of a man, a woman and a human brute who are thrown together on a tropical island by the fortunes of the sea. And the woman is the only one of her sex that the man cordially hates. With the coming of the conflict between the two men, there develops one of the most dramatic situations ever recorded on the screen.
