A Prominent Officer of the Order of the Rebecca writes to Thank Doan's Kidney Pills for it.

Mrs. C. E. Bumgardner, a local officer of the Rebecca, of Topeka, Kans., Room 10, 812 Kansas Ave., writes: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills during the past year, for kidney trouble and kindred ailments. I was suffering from pains in the back and headaches, but found after the use of one box of the remedy that the troubles gradually disappeared so that before I had finished a second package I was well, I therefore, heartily endorse your remedy." The Uses and Values of Metal.

Seventy-five cents' worth of iron ore when turned into bar iron is worth $5. If you make it into horseshoes it is worth $10 or if into table knives $180. Seventy-five cents' worth of iron ore manufactured into needles is worth $6,800, and when converted into some kinds of fancy buttons it is worth about $30,000. If the iron is made into watch springs the product is worth ten times more than the buttons, and when turned into hair springs it will sell for the enormous sum of $400,000.

Chilean Port.

Arsenic Aids Climbers.

The practice of eating arsenic is very prevalent among the peasantry of the mountainous districts of Austria-Hungary and France. They say that this poison enables them to ascend with ease heights which otherwise they could only climb with great distress to the chest.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Nominations at the regular Republican State Convention held at Winona, August 2, 1904, to be voted for at the general election, Tuesday, November 8, 1904.

For United States Senator,
 HON. GEORGE S. NIXON, of Humboldt Co.
 For Member of Congress,
 HON. JAMES A. YERINGTON, of Ormsby Co.
 For Supreme Judge,
 HON. FRANK E. NORCROSS, of Washoe Co.
 For Presidential Elector,
 HON. JAMES BUTLER, of Nye Co.
 HON. A. WEAVER, of Storey Co.
 HON. W. J. FLEMING, of Elko Co.
 For Regent of State University—Long Term,
 HON. OSCAR J. SMITH, of Washoe Co.
 Short Term,
 HON. H. F. STARRETT, of Elko Co.

THE PLATFORM.

The Republican party of Nevada in State Convention assembled reaffirms its adherence to the principles of Republicanism as expressed in the national platform and wrought into the government of the nation from Abraham Lincoln to Theodore Roosevelt. The history of Republicanism is the party's mightiest platform. Endorsing the nominees of the national convention, we affirm that no man in public or private life in this country is more fitted to honestly, daring, uncompromisingly independence, steadfastness in what he believes to be right and sound judgment to guide the American people in the fulfillment of their destiny the next four years than Theodore Roosevelt, the statesman in peace, the hero in war, the westerner always, and the Republican nominee for president of the United States.

We respectfully suggest to the voters of Nevada that Alton Brooks Parker is too closely allied with the selfish corporate and moneyed institutions of Wall street and the lawless and predatory monopolistic trusts of the country to qualify him for the discharge of the duties of the office for which the Democratic party of the United States has selected him, and that no language which we can frame more aptly illustrates his disqualifications than that freely and publicly employed by William J. Bryan, W. R. Hearst and other leading men conspicuously prominent in the environment of the Democratic presidential nominees were subject to free and untrammelled discussion.

NATIONAL IRRIGATION.

We congratulate the people of the State of Nevada upon the passage of the national irrigation law, which will ultimately reclaim the arid lands of the west, and which will within a few years transform the desert wastes of Nevada into fruitful homesteads. We assert that the attempt to steal the credit of this great act for one man is a travesty on fact and justice. To thousands of western citizens who have agitated this subject, to the western senators and congressmen who for twenty-five years have persistently urged and fought for irrigation legislation, and to the engineers who have measured western streams and threaded the mountains and deserts to learn the possibilities of storage and reclamation we give due and generous credit and the fullness of our gratitude. But above all we declare that the ringing and insistent recommendation of Theodore Roosevelt that congress consider this subject was responsible for the crystallization of all theories and plans into the bill known as the National Irrigation law, which was framed and agreed to by all western senators and congressmen, and introduced simultaneously in the senate and house and which would have failed in the house had not Theodore Roosevelt finally brought his great influence to bear to secure its passage.

We rejoice in the acquisition by the United States of sufficient isthmian territory upon which to excavate, construct and operate a commercial canal between the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans entirely regulated and controlled by the government of the United States and which will greatly promote the industrial development of all sections of the Pacific Coast, and we especially regret that Senator Francis G. Newlands so far forgot the substantial interests of the state of Nevada as to interpose his vote in the senate of the United States against the ratification of the treaty between the United States and the Republic of Panama in a vain attempt to interdict the building of such canal.

UNITED STATES SENATORSHIP.

We congratulate the people of Nevada upon the awakening of her prosperity in field and mine, and that the hour is struck which closes a quarter of a century of state depression. That the dawn has begun of a new era wherein this commonwealth is destined to take high rank in agriculture, the industries and mining. New leaders are called for to represent in congress the new spirit of state development. For the senate of the United States the Republican party presents the name of Hon. George S. Nixon, an able, true and loyal citizen worthy of such choice, familiar with and interested in the varied industries of our state, and who is the first candidate for that supreme office presented by a Nevada convention in the past twenty years who is a bona fide resident and citizen of Nevada, and pledges the efforts of the Republican party to use all honorable means, and the votes of its members in the state legislature, to secure his election.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

We submit the labor record of the Republican party against the professions of Democracy. Republicanism has built up a tariff wall about this country which gives the American markets to the products of American labor. It has in every state where its power enacted legislation favoring shorter hours and sanitary conditions of labor, prohibited child labor, and passed stringent laws for the safeguarding of the life and limb of employees. It has under Theodore Roosevelt substituted arbitration as in the coal strike, for the bullet and bayonet of the last Democratic administration in its settlement of the Pullman strike. Promising little, performing much, it has been the true and tried friend of both capital and labor, whom it holds as equal and concordant parts of the nation's industrial economy. The Republican party will not support capital in oppression nor labor in violence. It recognizes organized labor as the unity of industrial action, striving to secure a more equitable distribution of the fruits of industry. It is the trusted ally of both capital and labor, for capital in the things which are essential to the successful government of enterprises and with labor in its crusade for consistent hours at the highest wages consistent with the successful conduct of business. In this state it favors eight hours' labor upon all public works and on the legal work day in mine, hotels, mills and smelters, and will uphold legislation giving it proper and equitable force and effect.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

We favor the economical conduct of the state government, the generous treatment of the orphan wards of the state, and the humane care of the insane. We are justly proud of the public school system of Nevada, and the State University, and will favor all reasonable propositions calculated to improve their efficiency and usefulness.

Maister McTavish's Bon Mot.

At an auction sale in a Scottish village the auctioneer was trying to sell a number of domestic utensils, including a porridge pot. As usual, he was making a great fuss. Finishing, his keen eye caught a well-known worthy, the head, standing at the back of the crowd, and he shouted out: "Maister McTavish, make an offer for this pot! Why, it would make a splendid kirik bell!" "Aye," replied the head, "if your tongue was in it!"

Mineral Oil in India.

The production of mineral oil in India has made remarkable strides during the last decade. In 1897 the output amounted to only 18,100,000 gallons, whereas in 1902 it had increased to $6,607,000 gallons. Burma in this period trebled its output from 18,000,000 to $4,000,000. These large quantities notwithstanding, nearly two-thirds of the consumption is still supplied from abroad.—London Engineer.

Meant His Words to Last.

Not many months ago a clergyman preached on Sunday evening from text, "My words shall not pass away." Exactly a fortnight later the same clergyman preached the same sermon from the same text in the same church, to the wonderment of practically the same congregation. Evidently it was his determination that at any rate his words should not pass away from the memory of his hearers.

Famous English Castle.

Raglan, near Monmouth in England, is pre-eminent among English castles, as Heidelberg among those upon the Rhine. Its towers and halls have a rich hue given by the red sandstone of which they are built. It has a mighty tower than was half destroyed after its last great siege so that it might not trouble the enemy again. For here, after his fatal battle at Naseby, Charles I. found refuge with Lord Beauchamp, one of his staunchest supporters, although already past fourscore years. Fifty thousand men and $500,000 he placed at the service of his luckless guest, but in vain. Then came Fairfax and the last castle faithful to the monarch fell, costing its loyal owner a second sum of equal value and imprisonment.

Whistler a Poor Customer.

"Curiously enough," remarks Mortimer Menpes, "whenever one came in contact with Whistler one entirely forgot one's own affairs and became completely occupied with his. The fit of the master's coat was far more important to me than my own artistic work. At the tailor's Whistler would give an elaborate description of how a certain coat was to be made and the tailor would carry out his directions literally. But no sooner had the man accomplished the work than Whistler would say: 'This is all wrong. How dare you say that it is what I told you to do? I am a painter. It is not my business to make coats. That is your province. Therefore you should have gone to me to do what you knew to be right.'"

Reform Hurts Corset Trade.

A Hungarian government document notes a great decline in the manufacture of corsets; some factories have been closed, others have largely reduced their working force. It attributes this result to the growing custom of wearing "reform clothing," and to the persistent denunciation of corsets by physicians.

JAPS SHOW NO MERCY

ROUGHLY TREAT JUNKS WHO CUMGLE DISPATCHES.

The Junks Are Generally Sunk by the Captors and the Men on Board Taken into Port Dalny.

Chinese, Russians and Japanese at Chefoo all agree that the Japanese vessels blockading Port Arthur are paying particular attention to junks which for months past have been trying to smuggle dispatches and supplies into the fortress and that when caught the crews are roughly treated. The junks generally are sunk and the men on board taken into Port Dalny. By mistake the Japanese sunk a junk which was carrying delicacies to General Nogi from an admirer, but a part of the cargo was recovered. General Nogi commands the Japanese besiegers. The Japanese are employing severe measures in this respect with the idea of intimidating blockade runners. Russian civilians who have reached Chefoo from Port Arthur says that canned corn beef is plentiful there and that the fresh meat supply consists of twelve horses slaughtered daily. Life in the town when no bombardment is going on, proceeds much as it did in times of peace. Church services are held as usual in the dismantled church and the band follows the former custom of playing in public twice a week.

All the Russians in Chefoo agree that the Japanese do not occupy any fort on the inner line of defenses. The forts which were damaged have been repaired almost as good as new during the comparative quiet of the last eighteen days. These Russians do not believe that the Japanese will succeed in taking the fortress.

Local students of the military situation at Port Arthur, basing their deductions upon recent developments there, are of the opinion that another grand assault is either occurring at the present time or is imminent. This opinion is based on the heavy bombardment of the Russian stronghold that occurred on September 16, for such a bombardment forms the usual prelude to an assault.

The arrival at Chefoo of important messengers from Port Arthur at a time when the running of the blockade is extremely perilous, furnishes an authoritative statement that the Japanese siege works are completed, and on reports of Japanese success at Port Dalny an assault was expected to take place in a few days. These reports were received last week.

As Russians See It.

St. Petersburg continues without official confirmation of the report that the Japanese are advancing north of Mukden, and the statement is therefore not credited to the Russian capital. General Sakharoff reports that there was no fighting in the vicinity of Mukden Friday or Saturday, but notes the arrival of reinforcements for the Japanese along the whole line of the Japanese front.

The interval of quiet has afforded General Kuropatkin opportunity to strengthen his defenses and he has received large reinforcements since his retreat to Mukden.

There are indications of a revival of the struggle for the possession of Port Arthur.

Russian Warship Tied Up Until the War Ends.

Official orders have been issued by Captain Drake, ordnance officer at the Mare Island navy yard, to Gunner Shuttleworth, to commence dismantling the Lena, the Russian vessel in harbor at San Francisco. The breach locks of the larger guns, all the small arms, except the officers' sidearms and revolvers, ammunition, ordnance stores and torpedoes will all be removed.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "From a reliable source it has been learned that the Lena was not alone in her wanderings in the eastern Pacific ocean, and it is stated with authority that somewhere east of a line drawn from the Hawaiian Islands to Unalaska, in the Aleutian chain, at least, two of the Czar's cruisers are roaming the seas, and apt at any time, singly or together, to seek the safe haven found by the Lena."

Farmer Deeds His Boy Away.

A quit-claim deed filed at Franklin, Pa., for record, transfers a human being from one man to another, which is probably the first time in the history of the country that such a paper has ever been executed. The maker of the deed is E. A. Albaugh, of Forest county, who transfers to J. George Schmidt of Pleasantville, Venango county, his son, Clifford Albaugh, whom Mr. Schmidt obligates himself to keep and send to school. The boy's mother is dead. It is set forth in the deed that the lad is to be known as Clifford Albaugh Schmidt.

Are Willing to Quit.

Advices received from Uruguay say that Basilio Munoz, successor to General Aparicio Saravia as the head of the revolutionary forces, has written to President Ordonez of Uruguay, expressing his belief in the futility of further bloodshed now that Saravia is dead, and asking the president to propose conditions of peace. President Ordonez replied that while desiring a cessation of the struggle, the government was not prepared to make conditions, although it stood ready to entertain reasonable proposals.

California Girl Played the Limit.

The rough and tumble life of prospectors, miners and gamblers of Goldfield, the bustling new mining city of Nevada, was changed for a short time when Miss Nivens, a young woman from California, strode into one of the largest gambling halls and started to play the limit at the faro table. Interest at once centered around the young woman. She played for two hours, and at one time her winnings amounted to nearly $2,000. Then her luck changed and her last cent was lost. She parted with $500—all the money she had with her.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—Miss GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association.

It is clearly shown in this young lady's letter that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will certainly cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all; and for the absolute cure of all kinds of female ills no substitute can possibly take its place. Women should bear this important fact in mind when they go into a drug store, and be sure not to accept anything that is claimed to be "just as good" as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for no other medicine for female ills has made so many actual cures.

How Another Sufferer Was Cured.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot praise your wonderful remedies enough, for they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. For the last eight years and more I suffered with female troubles, was very weak, could not do my household work, and had nervous prostration. Some days I would faint unconscious for a whole day and night. My neighbors thought I could never recover, but, thanks to your medicine, I now feel like a different woman.

"I feel very grateful to you and will recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all. It has now been four years since I had the last spell of nervous prostration. I only weighed ninety-eight pounds at that time; now I weigh one hundred and twenty-three."

"I consider your Vegetable Compound the finest remedy made. Thanking you many times for the benefit I received from your medicine, I remain, Yours truly, Mrs. J. H. Farmer, 2809 Elliott Ave., St. Louis, Mo."

Remember Mrs. Pinkham's Advice is free and all sick women are foolish if they do not ask for it. She speaks from the widest experience, and has helped multitudes of women.

$5000 FORFEIT if on demand forthwith produces the original letters and signatures of those testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
