

RETURNED.

The Cabinet Back From the Vice President's Funeral.

THE CIVILIZATION OF THE INDIAN.

Alfred C. Egerter, Appointed Surveyor of the Port of Wheeling, W. Va.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—The Baltimore and Ohio special train, which conveyed Secretary Bayard, Lamar, and Whitney, and Postmaster General Vilas to Indianapolis, reached here on the return trip at 3:30 o'clock to-day. It was utterly impossible to convince the crowds which had gathered at the many points along the route that President Cleveland was not on board. The impression that the President was with the party also prevailed among the masses in Indianapolis, and when the first or pilot section of the Cabinet special left the Union depot the cars with curtains closely drawn were occupied by the immense throng as those singled out by the President and his friends. As a matter of fact, the only occupants of the first train, besides employees, were Senators Voorhees and Vest and several members of the House Finance Committee. Upon arrival in Washington Col. John M. Wilson, U. S. A., went directly to the Executive Mansion and delivered Mrs. Hendricks and acknowledgments of the President's autograph letter and by Miss Cleveland. With the exception of Secretary Whitney, who took the Congressional express for New York, the members of the Cabinet proceeded to their respective homes.

A KIND LETTER

From the President to Marshal McMichael Appointing His Successor.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—On the day following the inauguration of President Cleveland, Mr. Clayton McMichael, Marshal of the District of Columbia, presented his written resignation of that office. Since that time Mr. McMichael has made repeated requests to be relieved at the earliest convenience of the Executive. To-day the President addressed the Marshal the following autograph letter, with permission to make it public:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., December 2, 1885.

MY DEAR SIR—I have this day determined to appoint as your successor in the office of Marshal of the District of Columbia, Mr. Albert A. Wilson, of this city. It is my earnest desire that you will continue in the legitimate and efficient functions of the office the same clear methods and admirable system which you have maintained. I bespeak for him the consideration and kindness which you have expressed yourself as willing and anxious to extend to your successor. It is my earnest desire that you will continue in the legitimate and efficient functions of the office the same clear methods and admirable system which you have maintained. I bespeak for him the consideration and kindness which you have expressed yourself as willing and anxious to extend to your successor.

Yours, very sincerely,

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Mr. Wilson is President of the Firemen's Insurance Company, Vice President of the Metropolitan Railway Co., of Washington, and a director of the National Bank of the Republic.

A RIVER DISASTER.

The Towboat Iron City Blown to Pieces.

SEVEN MEN INJURED AND ONE KILLED

The Boat Strikes a Natural Gas Main in the Allegheny, the Gas Ignites and Explodes.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., December 2.—The towboat Iron City, was blown to pieces this morning at about 2 o'clock, while stuck on the bar at the head of Herf's Island, in the Allegheny river. The crew numbering six men were blown into the river. The engineer, George Ashton, was instantly killed, Fred Jackson was fatally injured and the others seriously hurt. The vessel was burned down to the waters edge and is a total loss. About 6 o'clock in the evening the Iron City in running down the river was swung on to the bar, where she went badly aground, just over the main pipes of the Philadelphia Gas Company. All evening and up to the time of the explosion, the vessel was being towed by a tug. Shortly after 2 o'clock a final effort was made to get off the bar.

THE EXPLOSION.

The engines were forced to their fullest capacity, but the boilers could not stand the pressure and collapsed. The concussion from the explosion was terrific and awoke the upper end of the two cities. The pier of the vessel were blown from the middle of the river where the boat was rounded to the Allegheny shore five hundred yards away. A part of the cabin ached on the roof of the tannery, directly opposite on the Allegheny side. The water was shallow and the crew with the exception of Ashton and Jackson, easily reached the bar. Within a few minutes after the explosion the river banks and the island became thickly crowded with people. The few skiffs that could be secured there at once filled with eager crews of rescuers, who hastened to the scene of the disaster.

THE SURVIVORS.

Of the crew were taken from the bar and drawn to the Allegheny shore, where all possible was done for their injuries. There names were:

ROBT. JACKSON, fireman, badly burned and scalded.

JOE RICHARDSON, badly injured.

SMITH WALKER, an ex-convict, severely hurt.

BILLY WENTLY, leg broken.

JOE GILBERT, the owner, said to be severely injured.

W. GILBERT, will probably die.

The remains of George Ashton, the engineer, were removed to his home. The Iron City was built in this city eleven years ago and was 135 feet long and 25 feet wide. When built she was considered an excellent craft and last continually been engaged in harbor towing. Her original cost was about $16,000.

CAUSED BY NATURAL GAS.

PITTSBURGH, December 2.—The accident to the towboat Iron City, which was wrecked this morning, was caused by natural gas. The boat struck a gas main and ruptured it. The gas caught fire from the furnace and the explosion ensued. The injured are doing well except Gilbert, who will die. The boat was insured for $3,000 in the Louisville and Hall companies.

RAVAGES OF THE INDIANS.

Nineteen Men and Women Killed Near Apache—Battle Near Denning.

TUCSON, ARIZ., December 2.—Official news from Ft. Bowie says that a party of Indians under the lead of Josanie, a brother of Chihuahua, were seen near Fort Apache on the 23d ult. Next day one of their number was killed in an attack upon a camp of White Mountain Indians about eight miles southwest of Apache. The following day they attacked another camp of White Mountain Indians, and killed 12 women, 4 children and 1 man. It is reported here that 40 Indians left the reservation and are heading for Santa Rita. Settlers in the valley and soldiers camped in the Harshaw mountains have been notified.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., December 2.—Judge J. M. Jackson, of the Wood County Circuit Court, today in the noted B. & O. bridge case decided in favor of the State. This is of interest to our State, county and city, involving taxable property to the amount of $315,090.

REV. DR. PERSHING

On Trial in Pittsburgh on Twenty-five Specific Charges.

PITTSBURGH, December 2.—Rev. Dr. J. C. Pershing, a prominent Methodist divine and President of the Pittsburgh Female College, will be put on trial in Christ M. E. Church in this city on the 19th inst. The indictment which has been drawn up by three ministers, contains twenty-five specific charges, among them falsehood, obtaining money under false pretences and conduct unbecoming a minister. There will be a sharp array of counsel at the trial. Dr. Pershing has many friends and they will stand by him.

Editor Moore Guilty.

CINCINNATI, December 2.—The committee appointed by Commander of the Grand Commandery of Ohio Knights Templar, to investigate charges against Rev. Henry Moore, editor of the Masonic Review, has found him guilty, and sentenced him to indefinite suspension. The charge arose from an article published in the Review, the authorship of which was attributed to the editor. Judge Forsaker has given no time of appeal to the Grand Commandery.

Aged One Hundred and Seventeen.

LOUISVILLE, KY., December 2.—Charlotte Wickfield, colored, died here to-day, aged 117. She has fifteen living children, the oldest nearly a hundred years old, and sixty grand children. She claims to have been married to a confederate soldier in the battle of Yorktown. Her second husband was 112 years old. She was hale and hearty until recently.

WOMEN ATTACKED BY A DEER.

The Kind of Pet Animals They Have in the Western Country.

DENVER, COL., December 2.—A strange, and what is threatened to be a serious accident, occurred in the city of Gunnison last evening. As Mrs. Robert Harris and Mrs. E. W. Eastman were taking a walk near the western edge of the town with a baby carriage containing an infant and a child three or four years old, they encountered a pet deer which immediately showed a disposition to fight. The mother dragged her child from the carriage just as the deer fastened his horn in the wheels and sent the vehicle over his head. Rushing upon the woman with the infant he gave them a similar toss, landing them in the brush near the roadside. The woman was thrown to the ground and was considerably bruised. While the other woman was endeavoring to avoid his sharp horns a young man rushed to her rescue with a dog, but the angry beast settled the dog with one thrust and then he sprang upon the young man, who fired two ineffectual shots from his revolver, which only seemed to increase the deer's anger. He sprang upon the man and thrust one of his antlers through his thigh, inflicting a serious wound. Then, as he stood over his prostrate victim, a second man, who had been attracted to the scene, killed the animal with a double-barreled shotgun. The injuries to the women are not serious.

SMALLPOX SCARE IN CHICAGO.

One Man Taken With the Disease and Health Authorities Alarmed.

CHICAGO, December 2.—The health officials were considerably alarmed yesterday afternoon by a report that smallpox had broken out at No. 137 Ambrose street. A physician from the department was sent out to investigate and found that the rumor was well founded. A young man named Louis Laibach, 19 years of age, was found ill with a well defined case. The hospital ambulance was sent for and the young man sent to the past house. He had been sick two or three days. The health officers vaccinated the other members of the family and others who had come in contact with the patient. His house and its contents were thoroughly fumigated. It is supposed that young Laibach must have contracted the disease by infection from No. 279 Coulter street, less than two blocks distant, where a young man named Mulligan was stricken with the disease November 2d. Mulligan afterward died at the smallpox hospital.

BLOWN HIGH UP.

A Kentucky Mine Explosion—How the Accident Happened.

OWENSVILLE, KY., December 2.—The following particulars of the fearful accident at the State Creek Iron Company's mines have been received: John and Lufe Staten had been operating a bank in partnership, and after making a heavy blast they sent it off, and together with several others who were working close to them, retired to a safe distance to await the explosion. It is supposed that the fuse was not properly lit, and the explosion occurred, they came to the conclusion that the fuse must be defective, and all ventured up for the purpose of replacing it with a good one. Just as they reached the spot, the blast went off with the above result. At this time it is impossible to tell the extent of all the injuries received, but John and Lufe Staten were blown fifty feet in the air, and were falling fearfully bruised by the fragments of ore. Both of Refell's eyes were burned out. The names of the other injured have not been learned. They were all poor laborers and have families. Dr. J. T. Callett, of this place, has been summoned to their aid.

A MACHINIST'S DEATH.

The Terrible Fate That Overtook a Man Employed at the B. & O.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., December 2.—M. F. McGinnis, of Florida, a machinist of the Iron-Mountain Railroad Company, while testing an engine which he had just repaired, met his death in a horrible manner yesterday. He was making a run of a few miles with the engine when it suddenly toppled over. He was caught under the engine so that the engineer could not extricate him. He remained there until he was found. When he was taken out the clothing had been burned from his legs and the flesh on his left hip was tried and smoked and his right side burned to a crisp. He died shortly afterwards.

THE DEFENSE OF RIOT'S EXECUTION.

MONTREAL, December 2.—The defense of the Dominion Government on the execution of the late Governor of the Province of Quebec, was published today. The document covers five pages, is in the shape of a report to the Privy Council by the Minister of Justice, Sir Alexander Campbell, and reviews the whole subject in an exhaustive manner, showing that according to the authority of the Catholic Church in the Northwest, the riot was not a riot, but a rebellion. His motives were purely mercenary, he was willing at any time to sell out for a few thousand dollars.

General Assembly of Virginia.

RICHMOND, VA., December 2.—The General Assembly of Virginia met in regular session today at noon. The session was opened by the reading of a message from Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. They are Democrats. A joint resolution was adopted appointing a committee to prepare appropriate resolutions to the late Vice President. Thos. A. Hendricks. The House adopted a resolution that the vote cast in the last election for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor be counted to-morrow.

Manufacturers Combining.

BOSTON, December 2.—About 250 shoe manufacturers met here to-day. An organization was formed under the name of the "New England Boot and Shoe Association." The object of the association is to combine the various small organizations into one body, which may in time assume national and perhaps international proportions and thus be enabled to successfully cope with the Knights of Labor. It is understood that no definite action was taken in regard to the existing strikes.

A Well Known Citizen of Lancaster, Pa.

Mr. L. D. Keifer, writes: Having a sprained leg, I have been unable to move for several days. I have tried many remedies, but have not been able to get any relief. I have been advised to try your "Volatile Bait," and I have just received a bottle. I am using it, and I feel that it will cure me. I am writing you to let you know that you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. The only standard fifty cent article for the hair.

In the Dear Old Days.

HIS FATHER'S WILFUL SON.

Young James Bayard Engaged to Marry a West Virginia Farmer's Daughter.

WASHINGTON, December 2.—A society paper here officially announces the engagement of Mr. James Bayard, eldest son of the Secretary of State, to Miss Deakins, of Fort Pendleton, W. Va. This is the sequel of the romance of young Bayard's experience at Saggs' Fort, in that State. Young Bayard, on account of a foolish escapade with Butler Mahone and one or two other sons of Senators several years ago, was arrested by the Washington police. The boys were discharged after a slight reprimand. Mr. Bayard was greatly mortified, and sent his son home to Delaware. He has since forgiven his return to Washington. The father virtually cast off his son later, as he would not observe his father's wishes. Last winter young Bayard taught school in the mountain town of Saggs' Fort, under the protecting wing of ex-Senator Henry G. Davis. It was during his winter's residence in this place that young Bayard fell in love with Miss Deakins. The latter is the daughter of an honest farmer. During the winter Miss Deakins found employment at the little hotel kept by her father. It was there that young Bayard met her. He said they became engaged last winter and that the marriage was to take place as soon as the Secretary's son could get an office. It is understood that ex-Senator Henry G. Davis procured the appointment of Secretary of Arizona Territory for young Bayard, so as to get him as far away from West Virginia as possible, to prevent a marriage that would not be approved by the proud Secretary of State. The appointment was procured through the joint influence of ex-Senator Davis and Senator Gorman, as the Secretary would not even listen to the doing of anything for his willful son. Whatever may have been the motives of Senator Gorman and Davis, young Bayard remains loyal to his mountain sweetheart. The official announcement of the engagement indicates that young Bayard will not go West until he can take Miss Deakins with him as his wife. It is understood that the Secretary of State still refuses to recognize his son in any way.

WELLSBURG.

The K. of P. Carnival a Success—Charged With Felonious Assault.

WELLSBURG, December 2.—The K. of P. Lodge, No. 30, of this place, gave a successful carnival at the Gas City rink last night. The rink was densely crowded, one hundred and ninety dollars and thirty-five cents being in the net proceeds. Several prizes were awarded. The first one of importance was an elegant gold watch to the young lady who received the most votes at ten cents each. This prize was awarded to Miss Doran, daughter of John Doran, of this place. She had received 1,452 votes. Miss Ollie Harvey received the second prize, consisting of an elegant blue plush dressing case containing a handsome set. Elmer Thompson carried off a large cake for wearing the largest hat. Ashley Cooper received a large comfort as the wearer of the smallest hat. Wm. Brownlee was awarded the best skate and was awarded a pair of club skates. John B. Redman was the fastest skater, and received a carpenter's set. Miss Rose Speidel was the most graceful lady skater, and was presented with a woolen set. Rev. Walkinshaw and E. P. Nazam made the presenting speeches.

which Morris Billingsley was charged with making a felonious assault upon Joseph Kraus. The parties are boys, aged about 15 years and work at the Riverside glass works. Kraus is said to be in a critical condition from a blow on the head with a piece of iron. The case was continued until Saturday in violation of the defense. The stroke was inflicted about two weeks ago, and is considered serious, as the boy is in a bad way.

PARKERSBURG.

Testing the Water Works—The Gibbens Heirs Case—Notes.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., December 2.—Under the direction of an expert, the Parkersburg Water Works are now undergoing a thorough test, and it is believed that every thing so far is satisfactory.

Vice-President Thompson, of the Ohio River Railroad, returned to-day from a trip to Wheeling.

The case of Gibbens heirs vs. the Ohio River Railroad Company is still occupying the attention of the Circuit Court. Counsel for the Gibbens heirs are, Hon. John A. Hutchinson and D. H. Leonard for the defense.

D. E. Stalnaker, of Wheeling, and Will Cunningham, of Bellaire, are attorneys for the Gibbens heirs.

Captain E. B. Cooper and Mr. A. J. Slavin are negotiating for the steamer Emma Graham which was sunk at Ripley Landing a few days ago.

The Return of the Cabinet.

CUMBERLAND, MD., December 2.—The Baltimore and Ohio special train with the members of the Cabinet on board, arrived here yesterday morning. The train was met by a large number of people, and the members of the Cabinet were warmly greeted. The train arrived at 12:02 p. m. After a good night's rest the party arrived at Washington at 3:30 o'clock.

A Floor Battle in New Mexico.

DENVER, N. M., December 2.—Renegades visited the reservation and attempted to get the rest of the Indians to join them, but the interview resulted in a fight, in which 21 reservation Indians and one hostile were killed. Lieut. Gen. Sheridan and staff left for the East yesterday.

Bryon never uttered truer words than when he said, "Physicians mend or cure us."

But what physicians do not cure, the world has agreed that there is no remedy equal to Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

All Respect Paid to Veteran Warriors.

The heroes of the recent unpleasantness are fast passing away. In each section of this fair land, now happily reunited forever, the warriors are cherished and made much of, and a fair example shown in the universal respect and strict honesty shown by the G. T. B. Bearpaw, of La., and Jubal A. Early, of Va., in the sole responsibility of the Grand Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery. The 187th Monthly and the Semi-Annual Drawing will scatter over half a million on Tuesday, Dec. 15th, at New Orleans, La., and any one desiring information should send in an application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Try the experiment of proving your luck.
