The President is bearing up remarkably well in his deep affilction. The traces of his great sorrow are plain and unmistak-able, but apparently he has nerved himself to face the affliction with fortitude.

It was the expressed wish of the President to the members of the cabinet who called this morning that the affairs of the Government be proceeded with as usual and fin deference to the request the heads of the several executive departments were at their desks during the greater part of the day and the departments remained open as usual. It is expected that such members of the Cabinet as can safely leave their official duties will accompany the funeral party to Indianapolis in the capacity of honorary pall-bearers. The President's grand-children were given their breakfast after the other members of the family and then in charge of their nurses, they were taken out for their usual morning walk in the White House grounds.

The cemetery at Indianapolis is directly north of the city about two or three miles from the city limits. It is one of the few really beautiful spots about Indianapolis whose location is too flat to admit of the

Postmaster General Wanamaker was one of the first members of the Cabinet to arrive at the Executive mansion. THE VENERABLE DR. SCOTT,

Mrs. Harrison's father, now in his 93d year. He tearfully told his friends how he spent the evening beside the bed of his stricken child and finally retired, leaving her peacefully sleeping. When he awoke this morning they told him his dear one ad passed on before. He could hardly realize, he said, that she should be taken and e left, and he could not understand why it hould be so, but his faith in the wisdom of the Master sustained him and gave him strength to bear this great sorrow.

Though no selection of body bearers has yet been made, it is probable that the corpse will be borne by White House em-ployes. About one o'clock Mr. Russell Harrison, Mr. McKee and Mr. Halford visited the estalishment of Undertaker Spears and selected a casket. The one which was finally decided upon was made of Spanish red cedar, covered with fine black broad-cloth. This casket has a copper metalic inner case, heremetically sealed, lined with cream tufted satin. The exterior of the casket has no ornamentation whatever, except the oxidized bar handles, which run its full length, and a solid silver oxidized plate bearing this inscription:

> CAROLINE SCOTT HARRISON, Wife of BENJAMIN HARRISON,

The traveling case is also made of Spanish red cedar highly polished with brass handles and corners. This case is said to be one of the finest ever constructed. Secretary Rusk will reach here to-night, and Secretary Elkins will also arrive in time for the funeral, so that all the mem-bers of the cabinet will be present at the uneral. They will act as honorary pall cearers at the services in this city. Vice-President Morton, who telegraphed during the day asking the time of funeral, and Chief Justice Fuller, may also be asked to serve as pall bearers.

The body bearers will be employes of the White House. The pall-bearers who will officiate at Indianapolis have been selected. They are: Dr. H. R. Allen, John B. Elam, Hugh Hanna, E. B. Martindale, Gen. Lew Wallace, of Crawfordsville, Hon. Wm. E. Niblack, of Vincennes, John R. Elder and Theo P. Haughey.
All the members of the President's fam

y with the exception of his three randchildren, will accompany the remains f Mrs. Harrison to Indianapolis. This, of course, includes Dr. Scott, the venerable father of the deceased. Mr. J. R. McKee, the President's son-inaw, has cancelled an important business engagement in Boston to-morrow, and will iso accompany the President, as will also the ladies of their families. It is also likely that Vice President Morton and family, Chief Justice Fuller and a few others will e especially invited to accompany the

Although the wife of the President is held strictly to be a private individual, the death of Mrs. Harrison will be made the subject of a good deal of formal notice that ordinarily accompanies the death of a President. In this city the foreign ministers will call on the Secretary of State, and extend to him for transmission to the President, messages conveying their own personal sympathy as well as that sent them by their home governments. Later these messages will be more fully and formally expressed in writing and placed in the files of the State Department.

The death of Mrs. Harrison will interrupt for some time the social functions at Washington. The Vice President and Mrs. Morton and the members of the Cabinet and their wives being in a sense the official family of the President, it is understood will go into mourning, and will therefore withdraw from all participation in social events for one month. This custom obtains in foreign countries upon the death of a Queen. desolation and sadness to the homes of two of the Cabinet, came quickly to the minds of every one. She did all that official posion could suggest, but more than that her tender thought and consideration for each ndividual found manifestation in every possible way. Her real grief and solicitude touched every one and her part in assuaging the sorrows in the families of Secretary Tracy and the stricker household of Secretary Windom, are well remembered. The effect of the death of Mrs. Harrison on general society will be marked. It has ome at a quiet season, but if it had been at any other period, it would have been similarly observed. Many handsome floral offerings were re-ceived and were sent up stairs to Mrs. Dimmick and Mrs. McKee. The crysan themum was one of Mrs. Harrison's favor-ite flowers, and many of her friends sent tributes composed wholly of varieties of this flower.

Ex-Secretary Blaine's Message of Sympathy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 25 .- Ex-Secretary Blaine, sent over a message to the President during the morning. It was contained in an envelope directed in Mr. Blaine's own hand-writing and was sent up stairs to the President.

It was an autograph letter and was short and tendered the President the sympathy of himself and Mrs. Blaine. Among the persons other than those hereofore mentioned from whom telegrams of ondolence were received were the following: Thomas B. Bryan, Vice President of the World's Columbian Exposition, and Hon. Wm. R. Merriman, Governor of Minnesota.ex-President Grover Cleveland, Vice President Morton, Hon. Whitelaw Reid, Hon. Thomas H. Carter, Governor Chase, of Indiana and State officers, Hon. Robert T. James Whitcomb Kiley's Tribute, James Whitcomb Riley to-day contributed the following lines in memory of Mrs. Harrison to the Indianapolis News:

Now utter calm and rest. Hands folded o'er the breast In peace the placidest all trials past—
All fever soothed—all pain
Annulled in heart and brain,
Never to vex again— She sleeps at last.

She sleeps; but O! most dear And best beloved of her Ye sleep not—nay, nor stir, Save but to bow The closer each to each, With sobs and broken speech That all in vain beseech Her answer now.

And lo, we weep with you—
One grief the wide world through;
Yet, with the faith she knew,
We see her still,
Even as here she stood—
All that was pure and good
And sweet in womanhood—

And sweet in womanho God's will her will.

CAMPBELL IS CONFIDENT

That the Demograts Will Carry New York, Connecticut and Indiana.

CHICAGO, October 25 .- "New York, in my opinion, will go Democratic," said ex-Governor James E. Campbell, of Ohio, who is stopping at the Richelieu. "I am just from the battle grounds of that State, and after a careful study of the situation there, I am convinced of Cleveland's vic-tory. In New York City all differences have been adjusted. In my trip about the State, during which I made a number of speeches, I found the Cleveland sentiment

"How about Ohio? do you count on carrying the Buckeye State?" we are saying nothing regarding Ohio. We hope for the best. I am sure, however, of the success of the Democratic ticket in Indiana and Connecticut."

GENERAL C. C. WATTS

Replies to Some of Elkins' Statements Concerning State Issues. Special Telegram to the Register.

Davis, W. Va., October 25 .- Gen. C. C. Watts spoke to an audience of four hundred to five hundred people in the Town Hall here last night. He spoke a little more than two hours and held the closest attention of his hearers. He paid due at-tention to the various phases of the tariff and found time to speak about the Force bill and State issues besides. He spoke of the laws enacted by the last Legislature, commonly known as the coal miners law. the anti-script law and the mechanic's lien law and showed that these laws simply give to employer and employee their just dues and no more.

Mr. Elkins had said in one of his speeches that the Democratic party in this State deserves defeat on account of the passage of these labor laws and Mr. Elkins also said the Republicans must carry the State Legislature so as to prevent the enactment of any more such measures. Mr. guaranteed his rights. The good strong points in the General's speech were many and all well received. During the speech a Democrat: "That's enough, I am satisfied I have been voting wrong and hereafter I will correct the mistake by voting the Democratic ticket."

All parties conceded that it was a strong speech; the best made here so far. The General has had splendid meetings and has done good work at Elk Garden, Davis and Parsons, and is billed for Thomas to-night, where he is expected to have a rousing meeting.

GOV. FLOWER AND SENATOR HILL

Make Speeches - The Party is United on the Nominees of the Chicago Convention - Senator Hill's Good Advice to His Hearers-The Big Hall Packed to the Doors, and the Streets Surrounding It Jammed.

NEW YORK, October 25.—Tammany has attified. With the flash of red fire in the tranquil sky, with the roar and shock of rising cheers, and with the acclaim of thousands of loyal braves, the Democratic society made known to-night that it was loyal to the Democratic nominees.

While yet the walls of big Tammany Hall shook and rocked and swayed to the Hail shook and rocked and swayed to the welcome of Senator Hill, and while yet the throng about the twelve open-air overflow stands filled up the streets and paralyzed traffic for blocks around, Tammany leaders declared that it was the most gignantic mass meeting that the matrocalis of gantic mass meeting that the metropolis of America had ever seen. When the doors were thrown open at 7 o'clock, the throng that had stood clamoring for two hours at the entrance rushed in-to the hall with cheers of enthusiasm. In a few minutes the building was packed.

National Chairman Harrity accompanied by National Committeemen Don Dickinson and B. B. Smalley and other prominent Democrats came into the hall. The applause that greeted them had scarcely died away when the hurricane of cheers went forth to welcome the speakers of the evening who came upon the stage escorted by the leaders of Tammany Hall. When quiet was restored, State Senator George F. Roesch, in a short speech introduced Gov. Roswell P. Flower as chairman.

After a few informal remarks, in which he spoke of the sympathy the political op-ponents of President Harrison had for him n his bereavement, the Governor said that the Democrats were working for Democratic victory, because they believed that would bring better government and a better living for the masses.

The action of the Chicago convention had put the Democrats on their mettle. It had practically bidded them to prove their Democracy, and they were going to do it. Though the Democracy of the Empire State, through its regularly constituted delegation, declared in favor of another candidate than him whom a majority of the party wanted, it had loyally submitted to the wisdom of that majority, and throughout the entire country no party machinery was doing greater work Democratic success in this campaign than the Democratic organization of the State of New York.

No local political organization anywhere was doing more for the Democratic cause nization The exthan the Tammany organization. The ex-Gilroy, a man whose honorable record in the public service demonstrated his capacity and ability for the mayoralty, would strengthen the national ticket and encourage the Democracy of the country. 'As to the Force bill," he concluded, "when the Republican party has reached that condition, where to insure political supremacy, it dares not to trust the unintimidated honest vote of the people, but seeks to perpetuate its power by deliberate arbitrary subversion of constitutional gov-ernment, it is time for Americans everywhere to rise up to strike the sceptre of power from these unworthy hands.

Following Mr. Flower's speech came the reading by Secretary McGoldey of the list of vice presidents and secretaries, and then the unanimous adoption of resolutions, and endorsing Cleveland and Stevenson and condemning the Force bill. Governor Flower next introduced Senator David B. Hill. At the mention of the ex-Governor's name there was another out-burst of cheers. The name of "Hill," "Hill," was shouted time after time. spread to the street and was taken up by the multitude and only died away when the people became exhausted. The Senator awaited patiently for the restoration of order and then began his speech.

Mr. Hill said in part: This occasion is the first time I have had the honor of addressing the Democracy of New York in this ancient and honored temple of De mecracy. I am not unmindful of the fact that the Democrats of Tammany Hall were among my staunchest supporters during all the period from the memorable campaign of 1885, though the great contest of 1888, in the Senatorial conest of 1891 and to the last occasion when the Democracy of the Empire State hon-ored me with their confidence at Albany and Chicago

To-day the great reliance of intelligent political observers for the success of our national candidate in this Slate is upon the immense majority which is expected to be rolled up in this city under the auspices of the magnificent organization of Tammany Hall, which in recent years has known no such word as defeat, and to which all eyes are now turned and upon which our hopes are centered.

Those who because of personal disappointments, or because candidates of their particular choice have not been nominated, would encourage the temporary defeat of their party usually live to regret their action and to realize how difficult it is for that party to regain the ground that has been unwisely and foolishly lost. I believe in a healthy, strong and vigor-ons partisanship. This does not mean the manifestation of a narrow, hide-bound or selfish spirit.

Mr. Hill then turned his attention to the tariff, and made an exhaustive argu-ment against the constitutionality of Republican protection, and then discussed the views of Madison and Jackson.

Fusion Arranged in Oregon.

PORTLAND, OREGON, October 25.— Fusion between the Democrats and the People's party was completed yesterday. Colonel R. A. Miller was taken from the Democratic electoral ticket and I. N. Pierce, one of the People's party electors substituted. This was followed by the withdrawal of another Democratic elector. The members of the two parties will give their votes to two Democratic and two People's party candidates. Leaders of both parties are confident. They are al-ready figuring upon 16,000 majority. This is based upon the votes both parties cast at the State election in June.

Gives His Reasons For His Faith in the Election of Mr. Cleveland-The People are Thinking and Not Hallooing. Special Telegram to the Register.

Washington, D. C., October 25.—Mr. Wayne MacVeagh, Garfield's Attorney General, who recently paralyzed the Republicans by coming out for Cleveland in a ringing letter, followed by a brilliant speech, was in Washington to-day. He said he was confident Cleveland would be The tone of public sentiment demanded better men and better methods in politics. The people were not doing as much parading and hurrahing, but they were thinking seriously of the moral side of politics, and they had evidently become convinced that the time had come to lift it to a higher plane. They were using their reason and could no longer be influenced by partisan prejudice. Mr. MacVeagh said he said he had discovered evidence of this in the thousands of letters of thanks he had received, because of his recent public utterances in the newspapers and en the platform in Philadelphia. He has received such letters, he says, from all parts of the country; from some of the most prominent persons in the country and from plain people in many of the States and in all is expressed an appreciation of the moral purpose discerned in what he wrote or said. The fact that it is the avowed purpose of those who are trying to elect Mr. Cleveland to bring the people back to a serious consideration of the principles and to con-sider the well being of the great mass of people rather than the will of mere politicians he regards as an assurance of the support of the people who are seriously considering only what will be best for the

LOTS OF ROMANCE.

Three Sisters to be Married To-Day in the Same Church by One Pastor. NEW YORK, October 25 .- A triple wedding will take place to-morrow evening in St. John's Methodist Episcopal church, Williamsburgh. Three marriages have all the elements of romance. Colonel J. Kennedy Stout, of Spokane Falls, Washn. will wed Miss Ida Homan; Miss Carrie Homan will be married to George Tidbale, of 125 Claymer street, and Miss Mollie Homan will become the wife of Lloyd Lonegan, of Bedford Avenue. Little Gertie Homan, the child-actress, has in each instance figured as the unintentional match-maker. The three prospective bridegrooms met the little wizard, and loving her loved her elder counterparts. The Colonel from Washington, owner of the Spokane Spokesman, interviewed her behind the scenes in the Spokane Opera House. A correspondence ensued, and when Gertie could not write her sister Ida wrote for her. The correspondence led to an exchange of photo-graphs, this to a declaration of love and naturally to an engagement by mail. Sunday the Colonel was met at the depot in Jersey City by Miss Ida, the other sisters and their prospective husbands.

Miss Mollie, younger sister of Miss Ida also became acquainted with a newspaper man, whom she is about to marry, through unintentional ministrations of little Gertie, who was a guest at the home of Mr. Lonegan, in Chicago, fourteen months ago. Last, though not least, comes the engage-ment of Mr. George Tidbale to Miss Carrie Homan, the eldest of the unmarried sisters. The couple met at the opening of the Arlington House, 143 Bedford avenue, some seven months ago.

FUSION FAVORED

By the Democrats of Nebraska-A Plan

to Elect Weaver Electors. OMAHA, NEB., October 25.—For some time the leading Democrats of Nebraska have been discussing the advisability of withdrawing the entire State and electoral ticket and combining with the Alliz ce, thus throwing the Presidential votes of the State to Weaver. A meeting on the subject was held in Omaha last night.

Leaders of the party from all over the State were present. The discussion was heated. One element desired to keep all a hard task before them, and candidates in the field to encourage the party elsewhere, others favored abandon-licks from now till election day for party elsewhere, others favored abandon-ing the field. It was decided after a stormy discussion to postpone the matter until a few days before election. It is stated that the whole ticket will be withdrawn. It is also rumored that a secret circular will be issued for them advising Democrats to vote for Weaver electors, but as to the State ticket to support their candidates, Fusion would have carried had it not been through a desire to maintain the State organization.

Federal Office Holder, Devoting Their Time to West Virginia Politics.

Special Telegram to the Registe Kingwood. W. Va., October 25.—Federal office holders under the present administration are surely doing their full share of the work in the political field in this State, as well as elsewhere. In fact, asice from these and their hirelings, very little active work is being done for the Republicans. Local politicians do not show that earnest ness that is customarily a feature of national. campaigns but the fellows who feed at the public crib are leaving no stone unturned ander which there is a possibility of finding but a vote. One would think, if the machinery of the Government is working satisfactorily at this time, that the salaries of Elkius, Mason, Sturgiss, the two Whites and a host of others, including about half the postmas-ters in the State, might be permanently saved to the Treasury, for none of them have done a hand's turn toward managing or conducting their offices for weeks. None of these men are spellbinders is the ordinary acceptance of the term, for they don't make speeches make speeches to the masses, but the way they cast a spell over those actors who are susceptible to their wiles, is amazing. The Republicans are on the still hunt, and these federal office-holders are the keenest nosed hounds in the pack. The dogs that give tongue when following their game are not doing the actual work this fall, and are out more to distract attention from the silent travelers than to carry on the alleged campaign of education.

The educated voters the Republicans are seeking are the ones who have been taught that the almighty dollar or a remunerative public office are more desirable than a clear conscience following in the wake of a vote honestly cast or political influence given for principles' sake, and if any such exist they surely will be found.

John W. Mason, Commissioner of Inter-nal Revenue, is now in this county, and will remain this week and probably longer if he can find any sort of political engineering to direct. Mason's office has a large force of subordinates in West Virginia, and they are bending every effort to the task of maintaining the present administration in Mason's work is very largely carried on through A. B. White, Collector of Internal Revenue for this State, though he gives it his personal supervision and is not above patting a voter on the back and looking af-ter his needs. White has been absent from his office almost continuously since the actual work of the campaign opened. A recent issue of his paper, the Journal, said that he has been at home for the first time in several weeks, and that he reported the his office almost continuously since the ac-tual work of the campaign opened. A rein several weeks, and that he reported the Republican campaign work as progressing nicely all over the State.

Among the whole batch of federal officeholders, none perhaps has better opportun-ities for political work, and none takes better care to see that they are improved than United States Marshal H. S. White. His deputies are stationed in every county in the State and his legitimate duties take him among them very frequently. The counties in which the Republicans expect the greatest results from their colonization schemes contain the greatest proportianate number of these deputies and none of them are allowed to forget what they are there

Elkins, who has been working in West Virginia with great assiduity, has the double purpose of continuing Harrison in power and securing the Senatorship to urge him on. His attention has been given very much more to the local and legislative elections than to what many would think more important. There are those who think the wily Stephen would rather be a Scnator with a Democratic administration than to be outside the sacred precincts of the party. Never has this State been con-tested by the Republicans as it is being contested this time. Never was there so much money and never was it so unscrupulously used as in this campaign. De should not allow the stealthiness of the opposition's movements to deceive them, for the new tack is being most thoroughly and carefully worked and by men who have all to gain by success.

Kand and Will Do All in Its Power to Bring the Disorderly People to Justice-The Night Force of Deputy Sheriffs Increased-The Disorderly Element Said to Include Only a Few.

HOMESTEAD, PA., October 25 .- Mr. Chas. Goddell, who is a member of the school poard, and who is employed at the Home stead steel works, was brutally assaulted on Sixth avenue some time during last on Sixth avenue some time during last night. The attacking party used for a bludgeon a stone tied in a handkerchief. He ran into Nick Scwartz' kloon for protection. His injuries are quitz serious.

Al. Snyder, while on his way to the mill along the P., McK. & Y. tracks, was followed by a crowd of Homesteaders and beaten. He was knocked down several times and when he reached the mill was bleeding from a number of wounds.

Thoms Jamison, a roller in the mill, was chased along Eighth avenue by a strik named Flynn. The latter had a brick in his hand and as he ran along after the nonunionist, Mr. Jamison called upon a coal and iron policeman for protection and the officer tripped Flynn. While on the ground the striker drew a revolver to fire at the retreating non-unionist but was restrained. A stranger from Braddock was set upon this evening at the corner of 4th avenue and McClure street and severely beaten

The crowd thought he was a workman from the mill, but he was not. There were two movings of non-union men into houses in the borough to-day, and in both cases there was some disorder. Several parties forced their way into one house, cut up some clothing and smashed several trunks. They are known and the town is being searched for them. It is so apparent that there is a growing feeling of unrest that to-night the force of deputies dition to the usual guards at the non-union poarding houses. The conservative element among the ocked out men deplore this disorder as calculated to work injury to the cause, and they together with the borough police are busying themselves in ferreting out the persons who have been prominent in the attacks.

A member of the advisory board stated to-night that the disorderly element in-cluded less than a dozen men, and the members of the board will assist the office wrong doers to of the law in bringing

AN INHUMAN Administers Strychnine

Refuses Her. a Gla New York, October van, of Roslyn, L. I., committed suicide by taking strychnine last Saturday after an unsuccessful but horrible attempt to polson his wife. After administering the poison, Sullivan watched his wife writhing in ex-

Senator with a Democratic administration than to be outside the sacred precincts of the Senate chamber with Harrison on the throne. His work for the logislative tickets, of course, carries with it its full force for the presidential electors, except in isolated cases where he can find a man who will wink at his principles so far as the State is concerned, but who draws the line before reaching national issues.

The Democracy should not indulge in any feelings of over-confidence, for circumstances do not warrant it. They have a hard task before them, and mercy, forgiveness and aid to the last. Mrs. Sullivan is still alive but her condition is critical.

Had a Successful Trip.

Halifax, N. S., October 25.—Maurice Edwards, who, with his brother William and Capt. O'Leary returned from the Northern Pacific a week ago after a successful twelve months' expedition on the schooner Ocean Belle, says there can be no doubt that the "Maud Mack" is lost with her crew. Mr. Edwards shot 200 seals this trip and sixty last year. He says that bravado on the part of scalers causes them to be seized. Had a Successful Trip.
