IS TO BELONG TO LABOR UNIONS.

Attorney General Olney Writes a Letter Expressing His Opinion in the Case of the Reading Employes and the Receivers of that Road-Unions Are the Only Means Labor Has of Defending Itself Against Organizations of Capital, and Those Unions Are Not To Be Suppressed By Courts.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., November 8 .-The controversy between the ecelvers of the Reading Railroad Company and such employes as are members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, bas prompted an expression of opinion from Attorney General Olney in the form of a letter to Judge Dailas, of the United States Circuit Court, before whom the case is pending. The difficulty between the two organizations reached a crisis on August 15 last, when General Superintendent Sweigard summoned before him eleven employes and notified them that they should abandon the Brotherhood as a condition of retaining their places with the railroad company. Vigorous protests were made against this alternative, and the Brotherhood urged the receivers to withdraw it, but in answer the receivers, on September 17, wrote:
"The policy of this company is well known to be that it will not consent that persons in its service shall owe allegiance to other organizations, which may make claims upon them which are incompatable with their duties to their emoloyers. This position was taken advisedly, and we have no intention of departing from it."

Attorney General Olney's letter is an exhaustive discussion of the question presented, and he reviews the various problems and the consistent solutions to be applied in every aspect. In substance, he holds that labor unorganized is practically powerless that in combinations such as this lies the only safeguard of the workingma his dealings with organized capital; that his right to belong to such a un -peneficial in intent and purpose-is a legal right which he cannot be deprived
