Liniment.

This Liniment is a valuable auxiliary in the treatment of some of the most formidable diseases with which it is car foot to content; for instance, inflammation of the lungs and lowels. By a thorough and continued application of this Liniment over the region of the affected organ, these oth etwise formidable diseases are at once disarmed of more than half their terrors, particularly among children, and thousands of mothers, were they allowed to speak, would with all the eloquence of feeling and affection, hear their united testimony to the fact that it had snatcheditheir children from the very jaws of death, and restored them to their for mer health and beauty. Again, it will be found a powerful auxiliary in removing what is generally known as an Agno Gake, or an enlargement of the spleen, in all cases where an external application is of service, this limment will be found useful.

TWENTY YEARS OF EXPERIENCE In the treatment of a class of diseases hitherto neglected and imperfectly understood, has enabled BR. KINKE-LIN, (Anthor of a work on Setf-Preservation,) to prove that nine tenihs of the causes of nervous debility, local and constitutional weakness, mental and physical suffer-ing, are traceable to certain habits, forming the most se-cretyet deadiy and fatal springs of domestic misery and TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There is an evil I and sometimes indulged in by boys, in solitude, often growing up with them to manhood, and which, if not reformed in due time, not only begets zerious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, insi lous, and devastating affections. Few of those who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the nervous systems shattered, feet strange and unaccountable feelings, and vague fears in the mind.

The unfortunate thus afflicted becomes feeble, is unable to labor with accustomed sigor, or to apply his mit do to study; his step is tardy and weak, he is dult, irresolute, and engages in his sport with less energy than usual. If he emmacipates himself before the practice has done its worst end enter matrimony, his matriage is unfruit, and his sense tells him that this is caused by his early follies. These are considerations which should another the attention of those similarly attented.

As Invaluable Medicine.—It is but seldom we find among the many remedies offered to the public for the cure of disease, one we can consent to commend, or whose virtues we are able to discover, and have always seduously avoided giving utterance to anything that might lead any one to suppose that we placed any faith in their pretensions. But with reference to a remedy manu actured in this place, and which has become as familiar to the public as household words, we speck from knowledge of its intrinsic excellencies, its adaptation to many of the ills of it e, and the security with which it may be used. We sreak of the Nouparell Nerveand Hone Limiment, preparable by H. Carr & Co., from a prescription furnished by Dr Watson Carr, late of Morgantown, and now of Wheeting, one of the most eminent Physicians in Virgina. This Limiment is based upon the broad principle that any remedy which will relieve external pain, will if properly compounded, be equally effications in removing internal affections, a principle that has been successfully developed.—It is simply the offspring of Science, being mild and simple in its action, and yet revealing in its effects a power more incredible, reaching the most hidden sinews of man and beast—and yet being innoxious to the weakest infant.—It is also by far the cheepest Limiment in the market, being put up in bottles twice as large as the majority, and one fourth larger than the largest, besides being more than four times as strong. We commend it to those in want of a safe and certain remedy.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published, on the class of diseases of which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent, however fastidious, car object to placing it in the hands of its sons. The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of, and 'with too little breath to puff, and 'too little presumption to impose,' he has offered to the world at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruits of some twenty years must successful practice '—Herald.

'No teacher or parent should be without the knowledge imparted in this invaluable work. It would save years of pain, mortification and sorrow to the youth under their change.'—People's Macoate.
