FIREMEN'S CONVENTION. This Convention as sembled in Columbus, Ohio, on Thursday last. About fifty delegates were in attendance. A permanent association of the Firemen of Ohio was formed. They also voted to have a grand parade of all the fire companies of the State in the city of Dayton, on the 10th day of September next. It is contemplated to hold these gatherings every year, in different localities in Ohio.

A New Post Route.-Among the last and best acts of Congress, was that establishing a post route from Wellsburg, via Bethany, to West Alexander, Pa. We have not yet learned whether the mail is to be carried from here to Alexan der by the cars, and thence to Bethany and Wellsburg, or whether it will go up to the last named place first. We suggest to our friends along the route, that now is their time to subscribe either for the TRI-WEEKLY or DAILY IN-

More than freenty United States. different classes were brought forward in succession, and the sedularship of each subjected to a separate and trying ordeal. In the higher classes, the questions were presented in writing, and the answers required to be given also in writing. With but few exceptions, some of the most difficult problems and proportions of Migneratics and of Mathematical Philosophy were readily and clearly worked out and denounstrated, and translations, at once elegant and critically accurate, given of some of the finest passages in the classics. In the various departments of the School of Chemistry, as well as in the several classes in the School of Modern Languages, the high character of the Students. different classes were brought forward in suc-Languages, the high character of the Students for Industry and Scholarship, was creditably sustained. Young Lewis (for the stranger could not have been more than twenty-one) nodded his head in assent to the patriotic sentiment, had applied himself to the viands, in the discussion of which he was not so much absorbed as to be insensible to the female portion of the family. He was a gallant, quick-eyed young fellow, with a sungallant, quick-eyed young fellow, with a sungallant, quick-eyed young fellow, with a sungallant, and a framk, prepossessing countenance. Such an one is never wanting in sympathy with the fair sex, wheresoever its representatives be found, or however scanty be the personal attractions which they may chance to possess. "No, sir," was the answer. "At least not a great distance. I am on surveying business, connected with the New York dispute. We Vermonters have just declared our independence of York State, are about running the boundary ine, and I am going to operate in the lower part of the State.
