

FEDERAL OFFICIALS RETURNED YESTERDAY FROM PARKERSBURG

New Busy Preparing Papers for Injunction Hearings to Be Held at Clarksburg.

Federal officials returned here yesterday from Parkersburg where they have been busy in preparing papers for the office of U. S. District Attorney T. A. Brown's office for the injunctions to be asked for on October 3 at Clarksburg, against a number of alleged violators of the federal prohibition laws.

U. S. Deputy Marshal John M. Short was busy yesterday serving notices upon alleged operators of the place of injunctions.

The notices read that George R. Heide and J. Walter Rose, federal prohibition enforcement officers, appeared before the court several weeks ago asking that injunctions be issued against them to prevent the possession, sale, manufacture, importing or exporting liquors.

Henry is alleged to have attacked a man named Edward Fritz, a Williamson coal miner, Sunday night on South Main street and robbed him of $10.

Fritz said he came to Wheeling from Williamson in search of work. He met Henry and they visited a speaker. Fritz of Henry's company, he left him and they later met on Main street and soon after robbed him.

Henry denied the charge. He admitted striking Fritz but said it was merely a fight after Fritz called him vile names.

MRS. GORDON GETS 18 YEARS IN PEN

Pleading guilty to a charge of second degree murder, Mrs. Frances Gordon, nee, who shot and killed her husband at their Triadelphia home several months ago, was sentenced to serve 18 years in the state penitentiary yesterday in criminal court by Judge Alan H. Robinson.

Fear of the law resulted in the woman's plea, although her attorney, Edgar Glass and A. W. Less, wanted the case to go to trial.

This is one of the longest terms ever given a woman on any charge in the Ohio county criminal court.

When asked if she realized the nature of the plea she was making and that it meant a long penitentiary sentence, Mrs. Gordon admitted she did and had nothing to say in her own defense.

Mrs. Gordon killed her husband last July at their home in Triadelphia. Gordon returned home from a miners' local meeting and insisted that the wife stop playing a game. They quarrelled and went into the bedroom where two shots were fired.

TWO HELD TO COURT ON LIQUOR CHARGES

George Phillips, 31 Bow street, and his next door neighbor, Frank Brocher, 26 Bow street, were held under $500 bond yesterday afternoon by U. S. Commissioner W. J. Cotton for their appearance at the term of federal court to be held at Clarksburg next month.

Phillips is alleged to have had in his possession two quarts of moonshine liquor, while in the Brocher home were found a number of men and a gallon of moonshine liquor.

Rebuilding--Remodeling-- And Housecleaning

And Doing "Business as Usual" All
The Time

The three big "counter attractions" are not big enough to offset the attractiveness of the goods on the counters.

Rebuilding—a big job and distracting to regular selling, but we've been selling goods right along.

Remodeling—even more distracting, for it brings the noise of the hammer and saw right into the aisles, but hasn't hindered our selling.

And housecleaning—that's a constant job in this store but magnified many times by the rebuilding and remodeling. And not even housecleaning operations have kept the people away from this store.
