

CROWDS AT COLUMBUS KNIGHTS' CARNIVAL AND FESTIVAL INCREASE

ENJOYMENT REIGNS SUPREME AS MERRY-MAKERS ENTER SPIRIT OF EVENT

Prizes Awarded Man and Woman. Miss Paul Leads in Contest.

Howard Kollohaugh trying to find out if he stands a chance for the prize for being the heaviest man at the show tonight.

Increasing numbers are attending the Knights of Columbus Indoor Carnival and Circus at the Carroll club and last evening between 2,000 and 2,500 people took in the fun at the big show.

Like the previous evening the big crowd was swept away with the spirit of the affair, and old King Employment reigned supreme. Young men and old men, young women and old women all became children again and for several hours had the time of their young lives.

While every feature of the affair attracted its corte of admirers none could be said to be the most popular unless it was Monte Carlo where 10 cents was worth a thousand dollars. The various devices were crowded all evening and thousands-dollar bills were looked like small change.

The Ford booth, where the Ford motor car was on display for the contest was the centre of much attention and the competition to secure this gas wagon is very keen. It will close Saturday night and the winner will be announced.

Prizes were given last evening for the shortest man and woman in the house at 10 o'clock. Mr. L. A. Puck, 5 feet 3 1/2, of 82 Eighth street, won the men's prize, a $500 hat given by Allen & Hunter, while Mrs. H. J. Bailey, Berkeley, 1 foot 8 1/2, of 100 Main street, won the ladies' prize, a slip-cover donated by the Bon-Ton.

Ballots Counted.

The ladies' popularity contest for the $500 diamond ring, and while Miss Paul and Miss Becker are still in the lead, Miss Mary Casey replaced Miss Betty Hornick for third place. The other contestants made big gains and the gap is gradually closing up. Miss Duane is looked upon as a dark horse and the finish of the contest may see the standing reversed. The standing at 5:30 last evening was as follows:

Alma Paul	12,221
Margaret Becker	12,221
Mary Casey	2,291
Betty Hornick	2,279
Helen Fally	2,279
Anna Elmer	2,279
Dorothy Genter	2,279
Letty Elton	2,279
Nellie Hawkins	2,279
Mayme (Mrs.) Wareski	2,279
Margaret LeValle	2,279
June Carroll	2,279
Georgia McLandahan	2,279
Mary Duane	2,279
In the contest for girls at the St. Joseph's academy the competition is very keen and the race very interesting. The standing in this contest to date follows:

Mary McLannan	2,219
Gertrude Flynn	2,100
Mary Votel	2,091
Mary Dickman	2,525
Mary K. Polton	825
Emma Trautwein	753

Rose M. Rabes 210
Katherine Forhan 240
Helen Barron 242
Gertrude Stuehr 242
Loretta Murray 200
Mary E. Schaefer 178
Clara McLandahan 59
A boys' contest was also held in the Cathedral High school and the leaders reported to date are as follows:

Joseph Fahy 2,548
Rud Hanna 4,348
John Emmert 1,700
Edward Kerner 1,711
Amos Joseph 1,220
Harold Lang 125
John Callahan 25

These last two contests have closed and the winners will be handed over for their prizes. Some of the youngsters called a very large vote attesting to their popularity.

Heaviest Tonight.
Tonight's prizes will be awarded for the heaviest man and woman in the hall at 10 o'clock and 7 o'clock scores will be used to determine the correct weight of the contestants.

Added features each evening serve to make the event doubly interesting and the old saying of "something doing every minute" aptly describes the big show for there is something doing every minute and all over the building.

An exceptionally large crowd is anticipated for this evening and the many special features is calculated to pack the building from 7 o'clock tonight until midnight. There is no admission fee and a visit to the big show will carry you back to your kid days. There is fun for young and old and it is fast and furious.

EBERT'S TERM IS PROLONGED
Berlin, Oct. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Reichstag by a vote of 314 to 76 today decided to prolong the term of Friedrich Ebert in the German presidential office until June 30, 1925.

The extension of President Ebert's term became a virtual certainty last week when the political parties agreed to the introduction of a bill in the Reichstag amending the constitution to that effect. Here Ebert was elected provisional president by the National assembly at Weimar before the adoption of the constitution which provides that the president shall be elected by universal suffrage for a term of seven years. The question of an election under the constitution has been pressing for some time, but it was recently decided that the present unsettled conditions were unsuitable for a presidential campaign.

Here's Something for Girls to Try

Walking the greased pole, with a leg of mutton as the prize, is the newest of sports for women. The new idea comes from England. The pole is projected from a pierhead or dock and is well greased. The women competitors, clad in bathing costume, are supposed to reach the end of the pole where is the prize leg of mutton. Of course if one of the contestants slips and carries the other with her, two others continue the game. Here are two fair bathers just managing to hang on, with the prize not far off.

SUPREME COURT
Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Opinions discussing the legal points involved in mandamus writs issued in the Wayne county election fight were handed down today by the supreme court of appeals with decisions in 13 other cases most of which dealt with interpretations of contracts.

The court granted writs of mandamus October 18 as asked by the Republican and Democratic executive committees in Wayne county, commanding the county court to appoint as election officials the men named on lists supplied by the party committees. The opinion in the case brought by the Democratic committee declares that when the men whose names are certified to the county court have all the qualifications required by law "neither the county chairman nor the county court has the right to strike from the list any of the names so selected by the county committee and substitute others of their choice therefore."

Both opinions were written by Judge Ritz.

FIVE CAPTAINS PLAY ON NOTRE DAME TEAM

Leader in Every Branch of Scholastic Sports Recorded on Rockne's 1922 Eleven.

By CRANK WALLACE.

One reason for the remarkable success of the Notre Dame football team is the versatility of the men whom Coach Rockne experiments. On the squad of 1922, for instance, are found the captains of the five important athletic teams of the university.

Captain Carberry, left end, is the captain of the captains because he captains the gridiron eleven.

Paul Castner, fullback and all-American prospect because of his running, passing, punting and drop-kicking ability, is also captain of the baseball team. Last year he pitched a no-hits no-run victory over Purdue and shut out Michigan, 5-0. He captained the hockey team for two seasons.

Gus Biesch, right halfback, whose running against Rutgers was a sensation at the Polo Grounds last year, is captain of the track team. He is world's champion in the 440-yard low hurdles and 40-yard low hurdles and was a member of the 1920 Olympic team of the United States.

Mickey Kane, candidate for left halfback, who featured the opening game of the 1921 baseball season but each looked away from the professional game for one more year in college.

Neil Clinn, who stepped into the right guard position when Eddie Degee had a shoulder torn, captained the hockey team which won the undisputed western college title last year.

In addition to the captains, twelve other men on the squad have won letters in other sports than football. This number will be greatly increased by the end of the year when the flock of sophomores will join with football monograms this season will have had an opportunity to shine in other sports.
