Wants Meeting Of State P. M. S.

MORGANTOWN TO MAKE A STRONG BID—MEETING TO BE HELD.
MORGANTOWN, Nov. 22.—Morgantown wants the next meeting of the State Association of Postmasters formed some time ago with Col. S. A. Posten as president. Other towns are after the meeting which is to be held in January. It has been proposed by the Wheeling papers that the various postmasters vote on their place where they desire it to be held. Parkersburg and Wheeling are making a strong bid for the meeting.

This place is alive to the importance of holding as many State meetings as possible in Morgantown. President Sturgiss and other members of the board of trade have taken up the matter and the following call was issued: "To Members of the Board of Trade and Citizens of Morgantown:

You are urged to attend a public meeting to be held at the court house on Tuesday evening, November 26, 1907, at 7 o'clock to take action upon a proposed invitation to be extended to the State Association of Postmasters of the 1st, 2d and 3d class to hold its first annual meeting in this city in January next. The first assistant postmaster general, Hon. F. S. Hitchcock, has expressed his intention to be present and will deliver an address. It is earnestly desired that a large attendance of members of the Board of Trade, and citizens generally be present and that a cordial invitation be extended to the postmasters and General Hitchcock to hold the meeting at Morgantown and to plan for the proper entertainment.

Other cities will invite the Postmasters' Association to hold its sessions with them and if we want the next meeting to be held here we will have to hustle ourselves.

GEO. C. STURGISS, Pres.
GEO. M. WOODS, Sec.
Morgantown Board of Trade.

BLIND GIRL LEADS HER CLASS.
This Second Helen Keller has a Range of Accomplishments.

The latest achievement of the "enlightened blind" is the graduation, at the head of her class at the McKinley High school, Chicago, of Miss Edith M. Griffin, who has not seen since she was twenty months old. There were seventy in her class, and she led them all in scholarship says the December Delinquent.

Miss Griffin can memorize the substance of seven or eight pages of history and science after they have been read to her once. She uses a Braille typewriter at times, but she is at home with the ordinary machine as well. She speaks French and German, has studied Latin and Greek, has written essays on Herbert Spencer's works, and is an accomplished musician. Moreover, she sews well and prides herself on mending her mother in all housekeeping cares.

Miss Griffin is as cheerful as the day is long. She finds her life full of interests and possibilities of helpfulness. "I haven't any vain regrets," she says—a philosophy of life to which more fortunate mortals can seldom arrive.

BALTIMORE AMERICAN TELLS OF WATSON'S PRIZE WINNERS

Fairmont Wins In Horse Show

The Baltimore American contains the following story of how Mr. C. W. Watson's string won the blue ribbon at the New York horse show:

Hackneys made their bows of farewell at the horse show to-day and tomorrow the breeding interests will be catered to by the American trotter. There was glitter and gaiety enough in the throng, especially at night, to convert the most pronounced pessimists to enthusiasts over the future of the equine exhibition. To judge by the cars outside and the number in the togery within the garden in the afternoon the automobiles have not lost the love of the horse. The casual visitors had as recruits the very earnest milliners and dressmakers seeking inspirations, and, with this familiar—sometimes too familiar—guard on hand with notebooks the conditions of the crush years seemed fully restored.

Fashion, aside from those who attend to study them, is after all a minor feature of the fixture to the box-holders despite a contrary opinion many accept as truth. To women of the arena row leave such matters to their outfitters, and while now and then a dazzling hat or stunning gown may cause a flutter among the feminines, they talk mostly of persons missed or just greeted, or of the points of the show.

The men, too, are as keen on the competitions, and that vast circle who cling as rails turn their backs to the boxes as cool as icebergs. In a word those who spend their money for boxes or admission tickets come to see the horses and the array of styles is only incidental.

Watson's Four-in-Hand Wins.
The opening classes of the afternoon were for ponies. The Welshman, Cardiff, won under saddle for Charles Holloway, of Bayville, Little Miss Weyler up and of the Shetlands in harness. Aberdeen, of Pittsford, a skewball, supplanted Ellerslie, of Elsinora, a black unbeaten since Ellerslie Farm bought it from Pittsford Farm at Syracuse last year.

Any size over 15 hands was eligible in the class for four-in-hand teams, shape, style, manners and action will count, but no other condition ruling, which makes permissible either coaches or brakes, but only Paul A. Sora's browns and bays were to the latter class. Oakland Farm had in two dark teams, A. G. Vanderbilt and Charles Wilson driving. C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, tooled his four noted bays and Judge Moore had the sporty blacks, Pride of Princes and King of Kings, on the lead and the bays, Senator and Debater, on the wheel.

The Watson well balanced lot, Lord Baltimore and My Maryland on the lead and Virginia and Lady Baltimore on the wheel, won the blue. The Moore team took second, the coachy type of the wheelers not being a good foil perhaps to the dazzling leaders, while the Sora entry beat A. G. Vanderbilt's new browns for the third place.

Mrs. Watson wore a black costume and a black hat, with green plumes. She entertained in her box Mrs. Frank W. Wilshire, and was almost as pleased over her husband's team won as she was when she drove her slashing pair to victory on Tuesday night. It is the opinion of good judges that Mrs. Watson's driving did much to capture the blue ribbon.

Apology to Judges.
There was a dashing and large field in the rumbustious class, and in taking Mrs. Gerken's Shogholi for the blue, the judges reverted to a type overlooked at recent shows for lengthy trotters. Paul A. Sora's driver, W. G. Grant, possibly through a surprise at the judicial change of mind, ignored the yellow ribbon won by Heather Belle and raced out of the ring. Frank Clark was soon at his heels and issued the ultimatum that there must be an apology to the judges. As the Sora team won a ribbon in a succeeding class, it was evident the apology had been made and accepted. The incident may be noted by managers of summer shows where judges have been treated in a similar way.

At the opening of the evening session the lead for blue ribbons in harness and saddle horses—was with Judge Moore. He had seven; C. W. Watson, of Baltimore, five; Reginald Vanderbilt, four, to single blues for Mrs. John Gerken and J. W. Harriman.

The pairs suitable for a heavy carriage on view in the opening class at night had nearly the size of the draft horses seen earlier, but their clean limbs, rounded outlines, beautiful heads and shining coats were as different as diamonds and lead.

The judges could not get away from the union in balance and shoulder strokes of Lady Baltimore and Virginia, and, as their height of 16.01½ hands and symmetry would have suited a royal coach, there was applause when another blue went to C. W. Watson's entry.

Virginia Jumper the Best.
Class in the hunt class is not falling off to judge by the riding and fencing in the Corinthian class, in which jumping carried 75 per cent. and the riders were in pink. Very clever at the jumps was the gelding David Gray, for he did not touch a hoof, and the blue went to his rider, Julian Morris, of Keswick, Va. Quite as clever was the Wasp, the Canadian half-bred, that carried the heavy weight James Murray, and this one was second.

The class for pair to phaetons, ladies to drive, was a most attractive one. The fascinating costumes of the drivers who handled the ribbons well added to the gaiety of the scene in the ring. Mrs. C. W. Watson drove Lord Baltimore and My Maryland II, winners of the cup on Tuesday night. Miss Emily H. Bedford handled the reins over her own pair, Donner and Blitzen, a good looking pair of blacks. Miss Mabel Hooley drove her pair of chestnuts, Quaker Amid and Dortheca. Mrs. Bell Beach Bain drove Mrs. E. Selig's pair, Lion and Mouse. Mrs. Blaisdell drove Wanda and Tonawanda for Alfred G. Vanderbilt. Miss B. Nalh drove William II. Moore's pair, Menella and Russia, and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt drove her husband's pair, Phoebe Watson and Mario Tempest.

They were a rattling good looking lot, with lots of action, and all were well handled. Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Vanderbilt, Miss Hooley and Miss Bedford, being novices, were the most popular with the audience, and each was cheered as she went around the ring. Miss Hooley won and Mrs. Watson was second. The Moore pair were third and Mrs. Vanderbilt was fourth. Last year when William H. Moore won the Waldorf Cup with Forest King he gave a trophy called the Forest King Cup for gig horses, with Forest King barred. Five competed for that trophy last night, Miss Emily H. Bedford drove Hildred, Mrs. C. W. Watson, Lord Baltimore; J. W. Harriman, Nala; Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Lord Burleigh, and Edward Kaler, Kissling. From the start Hildred was the popular favorite. Kissling, Lord Burleigh and Lord Baltimore got the gate, and then the judges selected Nala as the winner, giving Hildred the reserve ribbon.

CLARKSBURG, Nov. 22.—Guy D. Goff, of Milwaukee, son of Judge Nathan Goff, of this city, has been acquitted on the charge of land frauds in Colorado. The Denver Post of last Saturday recites the proceedings of the acquittal as follows:

Judge Sanborn has released five of them: James M. Perceles, Thomas Perceles, Charles F. Hunter, Guy D. Goff and H. M. Benjamin, all of Milwaukee.

New Business

TO AMOUNT OF $2,000,000 PLACED ON THE BOOKS OF THE WESTINGHOUSE CO.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 22.—Nearly $2,000,000 of new business has been placed on the books of the Westinghouse Machine and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Companies during the past week. The orders taken involve a large amount of work for the thousands of men in the shops at East Pittsburgh for some months to come, because already they are fairly well filled with business for the remainder of this year.

The most important order taken was from the San Francisco City Electric Company, of San Francisco, which is preparing to add a 10,000 horse power generator to its great power plant, which will nearly double its present capacity.

Boys Ticked Nearly to Death

AT GETTING BACK TO THEIR HOME AFTER RUNAWAY—ARRIVED YESTERDAY.

MORGANTOWN, Nov. 22.—David and Oral Forman are at home to-day and they have been making a noise all day like boys that are glad to be back under their parents' care. The first thing they did was to fill themselves with some of the fine cooking that mother makes and then they hid to the feathers.

William Forman went to Wheeling after the boys and brought them home on the six o'clock train yesterday morning.

The lads had run away from home about ten days ago and were caught in Wheeling. The officers there notified the father who at once went after them. Pending his arrival the lads were crazy to get back home and when he got to Wheeling they sobbed over their repentance for the anxiety that they had caused their parents and promised never to do so any more.

It is a cinch that they will keep the promise. Lads are usually imbued with the idea that they can have more fun out in the world than they can at home and in the school room. When they get a test of real hardship they soon change their minds, and are glad to get back.

Mr. Forman is a conductor on the Sabraton car line. He lives at 51 Falling Run street. Both he and his wife are much relieved to have the runaways under their roof again.

The lads are bright youngsters and they learned a lesson that they will never forget.

Mangled Corpse

OF MARTINS FERRY MAN FOUND ON THE PENNSYLVANIA TRACKS.

WHEELING, Nov. 23.—The terribly mangled corpse of a man was found shortly after midnight Friday on the Pennsylvania tracks above Wellsburg, just where the tracks of the Wabash cross overhead. It is thought that the man was struck by a Wabash train and knocked from the trestle to the tracks below.

The corpse was not identified at first, but the man was thought to be a resident of Martins Ferry. A hat bearing the name of Sig Wolf, a Martins Ferry furnishing goods dealer, was found with the dead body.

The man's right leg was cut off, the left side of his head was crushed in a horrible manner and the left leg was broken. He had on a dark suit. He is a young man with a smooth face. The coroner was notified and the body taken to Clemans' undertaking parlor in Wellsburg, where it will be held for identification.

Later it was learned positively that the dead man was William Bishop, a former Martins Ferry man, who conducted a saloon on Clark street next to the Laughlin tin plant. He was about forty years of age and leaves a wife and several stepchildren.

T. J. Davis, a prominent Martins Ferry man and a former friend of the dead man, was in Wellsburg after the body was found and after positively recognizing the corpse telephoned to Chief of Police Terrill at Martins Ferry asking him to notify the family of the dead man.
