As She Figures It.
"This is the first time I have seen your wife in ten years."
"Yes?"
"Yes. She is considerably changed."
"Well, you must consider that she is a year older than she was ten years ago."—Houston Post.

His Delightful Bull.
An Irish editor in speaking of Ireland and her woes said:
"Her cup of misery has been for ages overflowing and is not yet full."

Served from Right.
He—They have dropped their anchor. She (on her first trip)—Serves them right. It has been hanging over the side all day long.

"Tis not your posterity, but your actions, that will perpetuate your memory."—Hutchinson.

It is difficult to believe that ants will kill snakes, but such is the case, and scientists have discovered that in certain regions this class of reptile has no more persistent enemy. The large red-brown forest ants are the most implacable, and a curious thing about the attack of these tiny creatures on the reptiles is that they kill it for food and not on account of natural antipathy. When some of these ants catch sight of a snake they arouse the whole community at once. In platoons and battalions the little fellows set upon it, striking their "nippers" into its body and eyes at thousands of points at once. So rapidly is this done that the snake has no chance of escaping. He soon becomes exhausted and dies ignominiously. The ants then tear off the flesh, gradually stripping off the skin and working inside it. Not until they have carried away everything except the bones and the skin do they abandon their prey.

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT

Rate and Amount of Levies for the Tax Roll of 1911. Payable 1912.

It has been held by the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices that the levies of 1911 provided for the estimated expenses for 1912, and, not being payable until February, 1912, cannot be classed as a county asset in our Resource and Liability statement.

This supplemental report is submitted for the information of interested tax payers desirous of knowing the condition of the taxing district to which they contribute.

H. H. MURRAY,
Auditor.

Auditor's Office,
Pend Oreille County,
State of Washington,
I, H. H. Murray, Auditor of Pend Oreille County, Washington, do hereby certify the foregoing report to be correct.

H. H. MURRAY,
Auditor of Pend Oreille County.

Handy With His Fists.
Admiral Wilson of the British navy won his Victoria cross at the battle of El Teb in 1884. There was a gap in the square, and five or six of the enemy made a vicious rush forward, attempting to get inside. Captain Wilson, who was present with the naval brigade, advanced to meet them alone, but his sword broke in the endeavor to cut one of the intruders down. Here upon the officer, instead of beating a hasty retreat, stood his ground and began bowling over the enemy with his fists. Either from the nature of the ground or, as the record puts it, "the surprising nature of his attack," Captain Wilson escaped with a few wounds and was rescued by the square closing up round him. Sir Redvers Buller described the act as the most courageous he ever witnessed.

Not Likely.
Mrs. Morton (angrily)—Tommy Horton, what made you hit my little Johnny?
Tommy Horton—He struck me with a brick.

Mrs. Morton (angrily)—Well, never let me hear of your hitting him again. If he hits you you come and tell me.
Tommy Horton (sneeringly)—Yes, and what would you do?
Mrs. Morton—Why, I'd whip him.
Tommy Horton (in disgust)—What! He hits me with a brick and you have the fun of licking him for it? Not much!—London Telegraph.

Matched.
Towne—Met Gabbie and Perkins at a smoker last night and introduced them to each other. Browne—Oh, say, it's a shame to introduce a bore like Gabbie to anybody. Towne—It's evident you don't know Perkins or you'd see the humor of it.

The Proper Head.
Husband (studying his wife's accounts)—There are several items you haven't entered here: Doing up the furniture, your hairdresser, dentist, trip to the sea, for instance. Wife—Oh, those all come under "repairs."

The First Japanese in America.
The first Japanese who ever came to America as far as is known was Manjiro Nakahama, a fourteen-year-old lad, who was picked up by the captain of an American fishing vessel in 1841, twelve years before the coming of Commodore Perry to Japan. Nakahama, with four companions, had sailed out into the ocean on a fishing expedition, their boat had been wrecked by a storm, and they were finally washed ashore on a desert island in the northern Pacific. Three months of dire privation were passed on the island before the little party was rescued by the American vessel. His companions were left in Hawaii, but Nakahama, who became a great favorite of the captain, was brought to the United States and sent to a New England school. And when Commodore Perry came to Japan, Nakahama was able to act as interpreter in the negotiations carried on between the American envoys and the Japanese feudal government authorities.—Dr. Jokichi Takamine in Oriental Review.

Beavers' Work.
The beavers not only cut down trees for the purpose of making dams, but also use the smaller upper branches as a storage supply of food for winter use. These branches, from two to four inches in diameter, are cut into lengths of two or three feet and then by wonderful engineering ability are carried beneath the water and into the beavers' houses, or the burrows, with which the bank of every beaver's dam is honey-combed. Here they are carefully stored. The green bark is the staple article of food throughout the winter. The dams are of varying height and length, according to the particular location. I found a dam in Mesa county, Colo., which was just six feet from bottom to top and impounded a body of water six feet or more in depth and covering an area of several acres. This dam was perfect in construction. It was composed entirely of willow bushes, as no large timber grows in the vicinity.—Our Dumb Animals.

54 MEN ARRESTED FOR DYNAMITING

Government Will Use Speed in Prosecuting Cases Against Dynamiters.

Indianapolis.—The long-drawn-out investigation by the government grand jury at Indianapolis culminated in the arrest by the government of virtually the entire official staff of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, including President Ryan, Secretary-Treasurer Hockin, all the members of the executive board and about 20 business agents and former business agents. With the arraignment of the 54 defendants set for March 12 and a probability of trials early in May, it was announced that the government will use all consistent speed in prosecuting the dynamite conspiracy cases.

The evidence chiefly is about 40,000 letters and telegrams from the headquarters of the International Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, which, according to charges in the indictments, tend to show that President Ryan, Secretary-Treasurer S. Hockin and executive board members corresponded for six years with business agents of local unions about "jobs" to be blown up.

The fact that for days the government has had a dictagraph in the office of the International Association of Bridge & Ironworkers here, and has taken reports of conversations of President Frank M. Ryan and others in connection with the dynamite conspiracy has become known.

Seattle Men Summoned in Land Cases

Seattle, Wash.—The colossal financial manipulations perpetrated by W. E. DeLarm and Allen J. Biehl, promoters of various irrigation schemes in the northwest which caused upon their collapse in this city two weeks ago a country-wide sensation, were brought home again in an unexpected manner when at least 11 and probably 15 lawyers, brokers and real estate men of this city were summoned to appear in Portland before the federal grand jury.

Pastors' Jobs in Balance.

Topeka, Kan.—A movement is widespread in Kansas that promises to put several thousand preachers out of business. Appeals are being made to bring members of all churches in the small towns of the state into one compact religious movement. The union of churches would eliminate several thousand local preachers who would have no other means of support.

RESIDENTS CONVINCED BY GOMEZ' AVOWAL

Mexico City.—Emilio Vasquez Gomez' frank public declaration that he will accept the provisional presidency in case the rebels succeed in forcing F. I. Madero from the national palace, has gone far toward convincing unofficial residents of the capital that a general rebellion is in progress. Mexican officials, however, continue to characterize as local disorders every insurrection in the country. Although rebels are now operating in 18 states, the Department of the Interior continues to give out news denying trouble in a great part of these. At present there appears to be no one who is directing the various bands of the rebels, but from almost all quarters of the republic where the rebels have appeared Vasquez Gomez has been proclaimed their chief, even Zapata having announced that he will cease only when the fugitive ex-cabinet minister is placed in the presidency.

Plan to Curb Appeals.

Salem, Or.—Suggestions which have been made by Salem attorneys which may lead to legislation at the next session, it is asserted, if passed, will obviate the necessity for creating any additional justices of the supreme court. The suggestions are simply to place a limitation on the class of actions and suits which are appealed to the higher court and to make the circuit courts courts of last resort in these causes.

British Interested in Our Politics.
London.—The British public is taking an unusually keen interest in the presidential situation in the United States. The papers are printing daily dispatches from their correspondents on the subject, many of them detailing at length the developments of the pre-convention campaign.

Ex-State Senator Arrested.

New York.—Ex-State Senator Gardner, of racetrack legislation fame, was arrested and locked up, charged with conspiracy to gain control of the half-million-dollar estate of Samuel E. Haslet, an aged recluse, through the power of attorney, which Haslet is alleged to have repudiated.
