E. S. APPEL, County Chairman.
C. E. PETERSON,
Secretary County Central Committee.

Constipation brings many ailments in its train and is the primary cause of much sickness. Keep your bowels regular, madam, and you will escape many of the ailments to which women are subject. Constipation is a very simple thing, but like many simple things it may lead to serious consequences. Nature often needs a little assistance, and when Chamberlain's Tablets are given at the first indication much distress and suffering may be avoided. Sold by all dealers.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers.

Dalkena

Among the Newport visitors were: W. H. Rockwell, Charley Pierson, Charley Hay, Tom Gardner and Alvin Gardner.

Henry Leeck was a Dalkena visitor Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Douglas returned Friday from Cranbrook, B. C., where they have been visiting relatives.

Mrs. E. W. Stevens, of Newport, spent a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W, H. Rockwell.

Mr. Potter, depot agent at Dalkena, was a Spokane visitor Sunday.

Instructions to Field Deputy Assessors.

Assess all improvements on all Public Lands as Personal Property.

Where timber is owned separate from the land, assess such timber as personal property.

Regular Field Deputies will not assess stocks of Merchandise, or sawmill property. Such work will be done by Special Deputies.

Make memorandum of all matter in doubt or unknown Personal Property for the consideration of the Office.

Do not use cents in placing valuation on any article or articles.

Observe great care in putting down numbers of Road and School Districts. Be sure and get the Postoffice address, Section, Township, Range of every lister.

See the owner personally if possible. Don't take anyone's word for what another owns, It saves trouble later.

Use your own judgment. See all property, if possible. Place your valuation according to value, and not some one else's word.

Don't neglect to find out and mark plainly whether person assessed is head of family or not. Where husband and wife are living together and the property is owned by the wife, no exemption will be allowed, as the husband is the head of the family.

If anyone complains of too high an assessment, refer him to the Board of Equalization.

If anyone refuses to list his property, list it yourself.

Read the affidavit to every lister of Property. Get their signature and deliver to them a copy,

Make a uniform and impartial assessment and complete your work as soon as possible.

Be courteous to all, but firm in your duty. This is a business proposition; do not treat it lightly. On each of the deputies rests the welfare of the taxpayers.

A Householder or Head of Family is the Husband or Wife. Every person who has residing on the premises with him or her and under his or her care and maintenance, either:

1. His or her minor child or the minor child of his or her deceased wife or husband.
2. A minor brother or sister or the minor child of a deceased brother or sister.
3. A Father, Mother Grandmother or Grandfather.
4. The Father, Mother, Grandmother or Grandfather of deceased Husband or Wife.
5. An unmarried sister, or any other of the relatives mentioned in this section, who has attained the age of majority, and are unable to take care of or support themselves. (See B. C. 5248.)

HUMOROUS QUIPS

His Happy Home.

She sews the buttons on his shirt
And darns his socks with care.
She never fails to be alert
His every woe to share.
She lays his night clothes on the bed
And turns the covers down.
She never fills his heart with dread
By a suspicious frown.

She gives him what he likes to eat
And never makes complaint,
And there is never when they meet
A hint of cold restraint.
Her faith in him is deep and great.
She courts his least caress.
When he gets home to dinner late
There is no bitterness.

She never scolds because the folk
Next door have more than they.
On him she pauses to invoke
God's blessing day by day.
She strives in every way to ease
The burdens of his life.
You may have guessed ere this that she's
His mother, not his wife.

Modern Gossip.

"You remember the Greens?"
"Well. How are they getting on?"
"They're divorced."
"You don't say?"
"Yep. Remember the little milliner on Main street?"
"You bet."
"She's Mrs. Green now."
"Well, well!"
"Remember Smithers, the hotel clerk?"
"Distinctly."
"He married Mrs. Green last week."
"Well, well! What a difference a few weeks make!"—Detroit Free Press.

Had to Put In Human Interest.

An old negro preacher, says the Atlanta Constitution, gave as his text, "De tree is known by his fruit, an' it's des impossible to shake de possum down."

After the benediction an old brother said to him:

"I never knowed befo' dat sich a text wuz in de Bible."

"Well," admitted the preacher, "it ain't set down dat way. I throwed in de possum to hit de intelligence of my congregation!"

His Delusion.

"What's the matter with the fellow up on the ladder who is twiddling his fingers?"

"Why, he went crazy over buttoning his wife's waists."

"And why is he up on the ladder?"

"He thinks he has the contract for buttoning the waist of the statue of Liberty."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Age Cannot Wither."

"You still stick to that old ten-year-old nag of yours, I see, Blithers," said Dubbleigh. "Why don't you get a motor?"

"Well," said Blithers, "I've sort of found that there is more style to a 1902 model horse than there is to a 1902 model car."—Harper's Weekly.

Two Conservationists.

"Nothing lost here but the squeal," declared the pork packer. "Are you as economical in conducting your business?"

"Just about," answered the visitor. "I'm in the lumber business. We waste nothing but the bark."—Washington Herald.

A War Game Maybe.

A returned explorer was giving a parlor lecture.

"What is the gentleman talking about?" demanded a languid lady.

"Progressive Peru."

"And how do you play it?"—Kansas City Journal.

In County Cork.

"I suppose you have an old age pension, Mr. Kelly?"

"Ould age pension? Faith an' Oi cuddn't touch wan, the bad luck they bring. Luk at the number of ould age pensioners bes dyin' ivery year!"—London Opinion.

Outrageous.

"Why are you so vexed, Irma?"

"I am so exasperated I attended the meeting of the Social Equality league, and my parlor maid presided, and she had the audacity to call me to order three times."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Confession.

The editor wrote: "Dear Madame—The verses entitled 'The Kiss' are very clever. Can you assure me that they are original?" The authoress answered: "Sir—Not quite. 'The Kiss' was collaboration."—Cleveland Leader.

Looking Backward.

Pelatiah Webster gnashed his teeth.

"If I had dreamed they wanted to erect a statue to me I would have made it unconstitutional," he snorted.

Sadly he gazed at current specimens of art.—New York Sun.

Hirsute Crockery.

Guest (to waiter)—This soup has a hair in it.

Waiter—That's no hair. It's a crack in the plate.

Guest—It's a funny crack that can wiggle.—Judge

Likely Enough.

Condescending Chappie—I weally can't wemember your name, but I've an idea I've met you before.

Nervous Host—Oh, yes; very likely! It's my house.—London Sketch.

Small Encouragement.

Kate—They say a woman is as old as she looks.

Maud—Never mind, dear. We all know you are only twenty-six.—Boston Transcript
