AT THE MAJESTIC.

Novelty feature films of decidedly high class character and consisting of four and five reel stories have been pleasing the patrons of the Majestic this week. Tonight the Hindoo mythic romance, "What the Gods Decree," will be repeated. Tomorrow and Sunday a thrilling story of life across the border during the present revolution will be shown in "The Stars and Stripes in Mexico."

AT THE ORPHEUM.

The presentation of "The Talker," by the Winifred St. Claire stock company, at the Orpheum Thursday, drew a heavy patronage. The coolness of the weather has assisted materially in the increasing popularity of this excellent stock organization. Miss St. Claire's ability as a capable actress was shown to good advantage in her delineation of Mrs. Lennox, the talker. While this piece was presented at the Oliver late last season, with the author in the cast, the comparison with Miss St. Claire's company was most favorable toward the latter. Tonight a modern melodrama, "The Girl and the Detective," will give this clever little star a chance in the sort of a character that made Maggie Mitchell, Lottie Williams and other former favorites pets of the public. On Saturday afternoon and night Miss St. Claire and her company will be seen in a dramatization of Mary Jane Holmes' famous novel, "Lena Rivers."

"MUTUAL GIRL."

"Our Mutual Girl" will be the attraction at the Surprise theater today. In chapter 13 of the "Mutual Girl" today Margaret and her Aunt see the St. Patrick's day parade. The young lady is introduced to Cardinal Farley, and for the second time meets Mayor Mitchell, after they have spent some time viewing the Sixty-ninth New York regiment, which saw distinguished service in the civil war, and fighting Irish brigade, they bid good-by to the cardinal's party and return to their lodgings.

In the afternoon they go shopping and Margaret has some difficulty in choosing her Easter hat. Later she is introduced to Elsie DeWolfe, whom they meet in Central park, after which they go home, feeling that they have put in a good day.

"A Million in Pearls" is a three-reel Victor drama and is a brilliant swindle story that costs the jeweler a million, and while you and I, the average perhaps have little concern in the affair, we watch with interest as the battle goes on between "master crook" and "master detective." And while we perhaps admire the cleverness of the master of crime, we are always glad when the law proves itself just a bit the cleverer and brings the crook to time and the law usually does. In this play we have the master crook and she happens to be a woman, the law contending for the upper hand. It's a thrilling bit of criminal history and you will enjoy it. Anne Harris is the name of the confidence woman and she springs one of the most brilliant schemes to get possession of a rich jeweler's wealth imaginable.

CREATION STORY.

The story of Creation so graphically depicted in the photoplay to be given at the Oliver theater at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. beginning next Sunday, is instructive, educational and scientific and strictly religious in spirit.

It is drawn as accurately as possible from the Bible narrative.

First to be shown are a series of stereopticon slides, gradually changing form from one to another. There appears first the earth, apparently no more than a dot among the great stars in the blue sky. The second slide shows the earth in the process of cooling, and then are shown in sequence the seven creative "days" or periods.

The slides are made to revolve to teach geographical and astronomical principles. Throughout the exhibition a lecture is given by a phonograph, which is so constructed that it is strong enough to fill the great theater. The enunciation of the machine is so clear that every word may be heard distinctly in the remotest corners of the auditorium.

Besides giving the lectures, which are timed to fit exactly with the pictures, the phonograph also furnishes the music, which consists of an elaborate overture and choruses during the impressive scenes.

Seats will be free and no solicitations for money will be made. A limited number of seats will be reserved at ten cents each. Children will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents. Free seats will be reserved for delegations, classes, parties, etc.

Some especially attractive pictures are offered at the Auditorium today, the beautiful hand-colored four-part drama, "The Hand of Destiny," with scenes laid in the rich country districts affording an opportunity for intensely interesting scenic effects. The story teaches a good lesson and the interest is said to keep up throughout the entire picture.

"The Marriage of Cupid" is a two-reel Pathe drama with two prominent French actresses in the parts of Psyche and Cupid. For beauty of characters and the settings in which the action takes place, it is said this film has never had an equal. Add to this the fanciful romance and mystifying mythology that run through the piece and an idea of the charm which it will exercise can be had.

Saturday's bill will include "A Man's Soul," a two-reel Kalem showing among other exciting features a big forest fire; "Andy Plays Cupid,"

There is no stopping-up of the drain-pipe with a slimy substance, that may cause an insanitary condition of the refrigerator, when Vacuum Ice is used. The light colored deposit in the ice pan is the lime and magnesia separated from the well-water of which the ice is made, similar to the deposit in the tea-kettle. Vacuum Ice is always sanitary and healthful.
