AT THE COLONIAL

The Colonial offers a new act of vaudeville presented by the Three Canadian Pennies, a trio of British entertainers who have some original ideas in catchy songs and surprises in original character comedy. Four reels of pictures are shown at each performance, including a Kieine drama in two parts entitled, "The Eyes of Gehena," also a Selig comedy, "The Lonesome Trail." Both pictures are well photographed and are filled with entertaining features. One other comedy picture is also shown.

AT THE MAJESTIC

The new musical comedy at the Majestic, "The Fixer," presented by the permanent stock company is the best of the bills so far offered. There is a clean, humorous plot that is able to tell by the principals and the many song numbers enhance the pleasure of the show. W. H. Hall sings "Do Ra Mi" with good effect and Lora Candler Light with the Japama Girl chorus is a splendid number. George Travis meet with much approval with "She's Waiting for You to Love Her" and "A Rag Time Dream." Eddie Wright scores with "Where Did You Get That Girl?" and all the musical selections pleased Sunday's crowds. Two good comedy pictures are also shown.

SURPRISE THEATER

"The Trail of the Love Lorn," a two reel Thanhouser will be the attraction at the Surprise today. This photoplay deals with the efforts of the postal service officials to round up two get rich quick fellows, who are promoting a fake matrimonial agency. The most interesting feature was the manner in which the girl photographed one of the crooks while he was asleep, this leading to his identification later. Harry Benham plays the part of Jack, U. S. postal inspector. "The Balance of Power," is a Princess film wherein a plucky girl saves her brother from failure. Tomorrow will bring the animated weekly, with the late war news and other interesting current events, and a two reel Majestic drama called "For These Reborn."

LASALLE THEATER

Today's offering at the Lasalle will include a two reel drama entitled "Virtue Its Own Reward," and will strike a responsive chord in the heart of every one. Pauline Bush plays in the leading role. "The Million Dollar Mystery," episode No. 18 will be a feature for the day. "The Mettle of a Man," is a Thanhouser. Harry Benham in this number portrays the secretary of a corrupt political boss who he holds in deadly fear. "The Close Call" is a Sterling juvenile comedy that is very clever. A dog and a little baby play the principal parts.

Tomorrow Mary Pickford will appear in the celebrated romantic comedy, "Such a Little Queen," in five reels. It is said this is little Mary's crowning triumph, a charming play that brings kings and queens to the level of the common humanities. The poise of royalty on a throne fades in a twinkling when transplanted to a New York apartment, she awakens attempts to cook a dinner on a new fangled gas stove. We forget the impossibilities in Mr. Pollock's story we follow her through her troubles, never serious for more than a limited period. "The Angiers" is a clever Keystone comedy.

AT THE ORPHEUM

There is a dandy bill at the Orpheum this week. It opened Sunday to the capacity of the house at every performance. There is comedy aplenty, songs that please and spectacular acts that interest. Jessie Keller and Tommy Weir are the star liners opening with catchy songs, a bit of fast dancing and closing with clever riding and daring posing by Miss Keller, whose figure has earned her the title of "Venus on wheels."

Creighton brothers and Belmont offer a rube minstrel number, full of quaint humor. Rather overdrawn and the act drags at times, but the "sleeker" dancing brings the act to a lively close. Marini and Maximilian offer burlesque magic that is really amusing. They are comical trickers, work fast and literally use a stageful of appliances worked mysteriously and exposed humorously.

Harry Gilbert is a dialect singer with a sense of humor and a pleasing list of character songs. The two Wheelers open the show with comedy juggling and use a number of mechanical effects that produce laughter. A little more speed in this act would also help some. The Keystone comedy romance is a picture that set the house laughing and earned hearty applause.

HOLY LAND PICTURES

No other country in all the world has been more written about or more photographed than the Holy Land and yet it has never been adequately or comprehensively presented in travel-lectures. For this reason, E. M. Newman spent three months last summer in obtaining the material for his lectures on this subject, which he regards as the feature of his present course.

Next Tuesday evening, at the Oliver opera house, he will depict that inspiring section between Jerusalem and Galilee by means of original motion pictures and color views and a descriptive narrative of the journey and its experiences. A vivid portrayal of the myriad places of sacred association and the motley crowd of pilgrims and natives in and about the Holy City, will precede visits to Nabulus, Haifa, Caesarea and the picturesque places on the Sea of Galilee, Capernaum and Magdala—so important in biblical literature.

Two ancient cities in Syria, Damascus and Baalbek, the latter noted for wonderful ruins, will be included in the tour which is terminated at Beirut with a visit to the American Missionary college.

THE AUDITORIUM

"The Greater Love," the Lubin drama on at the Auditorium today, tells the story of Esther Desires, of attractive personality, a volunteer nurse, who meets Dr. John Strong and falls in love with him. Strong's wife, Marion, is a thoughtless butterfly, and without appreciating the gravity of her course, plans to elope with Thornton, an artist.

Thornton, a weak character, is the father of Francis, a small child who has been injured in a street accident, and who has been attended by Strong and nursed by Esther. Thornton's redeeming trait is his kind-hearted and loving for his child. Esther knows that Strong loves her and upon learning of the proposed elopement, realizes that she has only to allow matters to take their course in order to eventually become Strong's wife.

She finds, however, that she cannot allow her own happiness to be based on the shame of the man she loves and the grief of the child whom Marion has induced Thornton to abandon. By appealing to Thornton's father's love, Esther succeeds in preventing the elopement, and by confessing to Marion her love for Strong, she arouses in the wife a jealous determination to deserve, win and retain the love of her husband. Esther at last feels that by assuring the happiness of those she most loves, she, too, will attain happiness.

"The Million Dollar Mystery," in two reels, "The Fickleness of Sweeney," an Essanay comedy, and "On the Isle of Sarne," a two reel Edison with Miriam Nessbit and Marc MacDermott, will also be seen today. Tomorrow Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and her son Russell William Thaw will be seen in a five reel drama called "The Threads of Destiny." This picture has just been released and has not been seen in Chicago yet.

GAME WARDENS AND PARTY OF UTES CLASH

Indians Invade Colorado to Secure Winter Supply of Venison—Feared U. S. Troops.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 26.—Word has just been received here of a serious clash between a party of Colorado game wardens and 100 armed Utes from the government Indian reservation in Utah, who invaded Colorado for the purpose of getting their winter supply of venison.

The Indians, led by Chief Chavez, were armed with rifles and had 200 horses. Following their custom of years they crossed into Rio Blanco county on the Colorado side of the state line Wednesday. W. B. Frazer, state fish and game commissioner, received word of the invasion and dispatched Deputy Game Warden Gray and six other wardens to drive the red skins back to Utah.

Chief Chavez was defiant and Gray, gathering 50 armed men with in a few miles of the Indian camp, went to the chief and gave him 48 hours to get out of the state with his band. When the time was up the Utes were still in camp and only a threat to call out the federal troops moved him.

FRANK CASE UP AGAIN

Attorneys Will Make Final Fight to Save Leo M. Frank.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 26.—The final fight to save Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, will begin in the Georgia supreme court Monday when the motion to set aside the verdict on the ground that Frank was not in court when the jury rendered its decision will be argued.

COTTON NOT INCLUDED

Great Britain Will Permit of Shipments From This Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Great Britain regards cotton as non-contraband of war and will not interfere with its shipment abroad. This for the first time was made plain Sunday in a cablegram received by the state department from Ambassador Page at London, in which he told of the attitude toward cotton as expressed by Sir Edward Grey, British minister of foreign affairs.

DECIDES CASE FRIDAY

Special to The News-Times.

LAFORTE, Ind., Oct. 26.—Judge Tuthill has announced that he will render his decision Friday in the case involving the petition of F. C. Raff, J. D. Oliver and others of South Bend for the dissolving of the airline merger and the appointment of a receiver. The decision, it is said, will be very voluminous in every point of detail.

RUSSIAN STAFF CLAIMS VICTORIES

Germans Are Driven Back Into Prussia—Battle Near Warsaw Results in Triumph of Czar's Soldiers.

PETROGRD, Oct. 26.—Minister of War Soukhomlinoff in a statement issued Sunday night sums up the situation in the following language:

"Between the east Prussian frontier and the river Niemen, the Russian army has been successful in driving back the Germans into Prussia and in clearing the governments of Kovno, Suwalki, Lomza and Plock of the enemy."

"On the left bank of the Vistula toward Warsaw and the fortress of Ivangorod, commencing Oct. 13, a series of battles with the Austro-German armies was fought which resulted on Oct. 19 in complete victory for the Russians."

"The enemy is retreating so fast that he is leaving behind his wounded and all the strongly fortified positions which he has been preparing. Heavy losses were sustained by the Prussian reserve guard corps."

"Large numbers of prisoners and war material have been captured. On the evening of Oct. 23 the German and Austrian armies advancing on Warsaw and Ivangorod were repulsed and driven back to the line of Skiernewice-Radom."

"At present the enemy occupies a comparatively small portion of Russian territory between the eastern frontier of the Prussian provinces of Posen and Silesia and the line of Skiernewice-Radom and the left bank of the Vistula."

"In Galicia fierce battles have been taking place with the Austrians on the whole front between the Vistula and the Carpathians."

"These battles have resulted favorably to the Russians and considerable numbers of Austrians have surrendered. Fifty officers and 16,000 non-commissioned officers and men were taken prisoners and also a large number of guns, machine guns and ammunition on Oct. 21 and 22."

The Quakers were temperate in word, deed and action.

They had their Blue Laws but they never tried to inflict them upon their neighbors. Nor did they call their fellow citizens names because they held different opinions.

A GOOD MAN

In a bad party should be elected to stay at home. Any man who runs for office and runs a gum shoe campaign, good Lord, good devil, to get votes is a coward and a sneak. He tells the temperance voters (in a whisper) what he will do for them and the whiskeyites, with a wink, ditto. A stream never rises above its fountain; a man above his party. President Wilson taught the women suffragist that lesson when they appealed to him for help. His reply was "It was not in the platform he was elected on." If you want your partnership in the licensed liquor business continued, if you want the saloons, breweries and distilleries to quit manufacturing and selling hell's broth; if you want our nation's flag to cease floating in brewery smoke; if you want the greatest disease breeder in the land shot to death; if you want to do your part in bringing happiness, peace, prosperity and love into millions of homes vote for the only man and the only party and the only platform that says "The liquor traffic shall die."—The prohibition party. Pull down the lever over the Rising Sun.
