NORTH TOWNSHIP STILL FIGHTING

Residents in Eastern End of Marshall County Community Balk Dixie Road.

Although the opposition in the eastern part of North township, Marshall county, remains strong against the proposed building of the Dixie highway route along the Michigan road in that locality, members of a committee, appointed at a recent meeting of the Northern Indiana Motor club at Lapaz claim that signers to petitions for the construction of the road are being rapidly obtained. The committee is composed of Edward Heyde, a farmer in the eastern portion of the township, and Robert Schroeder of Lapaz. These two men are in charge of the construction of the road and of the work in procuring signers for the petitions. The petitions ask for the construction of two three-mile stretches of road in each end of the township. The mile and a quarter stretch in the center of the township is being taken care of by popular subscription.

Big Fund Available.
According to H. W. Armstrong, secretary of the motor club, North township has a fund of approximately $56,800 available for road construction work. Plymouth enthusiasts are working among the residents of the eastern portion of the township in order to quell the opposition coming from that section. These men claim that it will cost little more than $18,000 for the construction of the two three-mile stretches, and that since the matter is one of national import, the attitude taken by these men is lacking in national pride.

The central portion of the road will be constructed through popular subscription. More than $200 worth of work has already been promised, and the remainder will be obtained within the week, according to the committee. More than 20 signers to each of the petitions for the three-mile stretches have been secured, and by Friday evening it is thought that the 50 required will have been obtained.

Plymouth Men Ready.
Several Plymouth men have said that they would donate to the work, and Andrew Thayer, commissioner from North township, has donated $25 in cash and the use of a man and team for one week. Another man has said that he would donate a man and team for 20 days. Other farmers have signified their intention of aiding in the work, which must be done before the two petitions for the three-mile sections will become effective.

While it appears that the route has been definitely decided as passing through North township along the Michigan road, passing through the Plymouth and Lapaz, officials of the road declare that if the opposition put up in the eastern portion of the township proves too strong the route will be detoured to the cities of Rochester and Bremen.

YOUTH WILL FIND A WAY

Two Boys Eat Watermelons Through Car Cracks.

The old saying that "youth will find a way" was never more tritely illustrated than in a case before City Judge Warner Friday morning. Two boys were arraigned, accused by detectives of the New York Central railroad of stealing watermelons from a freight car—said melons remaining in the car while the two boys thrust their fists through a large crack to gorge out the hearts of the juicy fruit.

They were Bronislaw Napiralski, 17 years old, 609 Phillips st., and Frank Sarnik, 14 years old, 605 S. Kaley st. After a lecture from the court Napiralski was released, but young Sarnik was compelled to tell his story to Prob. Officer Miller, under whose jurisdiction he was bound by Judge Warner.

REV. KECK WILL ATTEND COUNCIL

Important Meeting by Evangelical Lutheran Churches at Rock Island, Ill.

Rev. Albert H. Keck, pastor of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, attended the general council of the Evangelical Lutheran church of North America at Rock Island, Ill., beginning Sept. 3. This meeting will be the 15th bi-annual convention of the church.

The general council is one of the four large general bodies of Lutheran churches in North America and is composed of 13 district synods in the United States and Canada. From the date of its organization in 1867 it has been composed of three distinct elements, English, German and Swedish. It has a membership of more than 500,000. There are two local congregations belonging to the body, the Gloria Dei Swedish Lutheran, which is a member of the Augustana Synod, and the Holy English Lutheran, which belongs to the Chicago Synod. At the meeting of the Chicago Synod at Maywood, Ill., in June, Rev. Keck was one of the four clerical delegates elected by that body to attend the meeting at Rock Island.

A strong effort will be made to bring the 1917 convention to Chicago, where several of the other general bodies of the Lutheran church will also meet at that time. It will thereby be possible to celebrate in a worthy manner the 40th anniversary of the Reformation. Plans for such a celebration will be submitted in the coming convention. Other matters of great importance will also be considered and this convention promises to be one of the most important ever held.

CONSIDER PLANS TO REMODEL TWO PARKS

St. Louis Landscape Artist Presents New Outlines to Park Board for Consideration.

Tentative plans for the remodeling of Leeper and Studebaker parks were received from George E. Kessler, the St. Louis landscape expert, by the park board at the meeting held Friday night. The proposition came up for a long discussion, but nothing definite was done when the board finished its session shortly before midnight. The plans will be discussed at the next meeting and probably turned over for revision, according to Richard Elbel, president of the board.

Additional swimming pools probably will be added next year, owing to the success of the one at Leeper park, which was closed on Sept. 1. Eduard Koenig, superintendent of the Leeper park pool, was ordered to dismantle the spring board and other apparatus. Mr. Koenig taught several hundred children to swim during the summer.

The board expressed thanks to J. M. Studebaker, sr., for the gift to the park board of the playground apparatus which has been installed in Howard park. The swings and other paraphernalia which was taken out of Howard park to make way for the new apparatus, will be placed at Studebaker park.

A petition is expected asking that the pavement be extended west to Kimball st.

NEVER SAY TOMORROW SAYS PASTOR AT MISSION

Rev. W. H. Freshley Points Danger of Procrastination in Obtaining Salvation.

"Tomorrow," was the subject of Rev. W. H. Freshley, pastor of the First Evangelical church, Friday evening in his sermon at the City Rescue mission on Jefferson Blvd.

In part he said: "God's word says 'today is the day of salvation. Today if you hear His voice, harden not your hearts.' The soft couch upon which you may lie down tomorrow may be your last resting place. Today you can be saved. Tomorrow you may go to the judgment."

"For 4300 years the Israelites were in Egypt and most of this time they were slaves. They suffered untold cruelties at the hands of the Egyptians. This powerful nation was trying to crush them. The Lord had promised Joseph that they should be freed, but generation after generation and year after year passed and God did not come to deliver them. But God never forgets."

"When the cup of Egyptian wickedness was full, God appeared under the leadership of Moses. Moses asked Pharaoh the king to let the people go but he refused and answered by making their burdens harder. The 10 plagues were brought from Egypt as a punishment. After the plagues had begun Pharaoh came to Moses and asked to have the plagues removed and Moses asked him 'Then shall I pray the Lord to remove these plagues?' Pharaoh said 'Tomorrow.' We say that is not good sense. Why not today? Why be pestered with them another day?"

"The plagues are types of sin. Pharaoh is a type of the sinner. Just as sin was everywhere so is sin and the sinner."

All but two of the city's playgrounds, the J. D. Oliver and Sample st. fields, were officially closed by the municipal recreation committee at a meeting held Friday afternoon in the office of F. B. Miss Rosa Krause will continue as director of the Sample st. playground until cold weather forces the place to be closed. After that Miss Krause will be an assistant in the recreation department. Miss Lillian Allen will continue as director of the J. D. Oliver playground until Oct. 1, when she will leave. A new director will be appointed to work until the grounds are closed.

Mr. Homer Miller and L. M. Hamerschmidt, members of the municipal recreation committee, presided at the banquet in the evening. The affair was informal and the guests were called upon for talks on topics that were entirely unknown to them.

Correct Styles

Our first thought in the selection of apparel is—correctness of style.

In the gathering of this Fall's stocks we have gone only to manufacturers of undisputed character—whose designs and creations are recognized as authoritative. The garments shown by these makers have been thoroughly compared by us before deciding on what styles would be brought to South Bend.

The correctness of style established—we have then analyzed the garments as to workmanship, quality and neatness of finish. Thus—because of this most thorough work when buying—the customers of this store are protected on the style, quality and workmanship of all garments purchased here. If it is correct according to the latest approved fashions—we have it—and it's the best to be had at its price.

The correct new season fashions according to this Wyman method of buying—will be shown this coming Thursday, Sept. 9th, at our Fall Opening.

FORMER "Y" MAN MISSING

George A. Cooper Disappears From Springfield, Mass.

Authorities in Springfield, Mass., have been asked by relatives of George A. Cooper, former assistant physical director in the local Y. M. C. A., to search for Cooper. He left Springfield Aug. 1, for a camp conducted by Dr. J. H. McCurdy at Lake Sebago, Me., but according to a story printed in a Springfield newspaper, never arrived at the camp. Cooper ordered his mail forwarded to Walpole beach, where he planned to visit before his trip to the camp. Efforts to locate him there however, have proven fruitless. J. E. Miller, physical director of the South Bend Y. M. C. A., is in possession of a letter written by Cooper from Cushing, Mass., but claims anxiety on account of the story from Springfield.
