Laporte Court Sustains Judge Funk in Wolf Estate Decision Favoring Plaintiff.

A suit to quiet title to the estate in 1906 brought by Rosa M. Wolf, widow of the former, was settled in favor of the plaintiff Wednesday morning by Judge Gallaher of the Laporte circuit court. The case was originally started in the St. Joseph circuit court, Judge Funk sustaining the contention of the plaintiff by August Wolf, and about 50 other then venued to the Laporte court on the motion of the defendants.

The case presented an unusual phase and has attracted no little atwill in 1876, giving his wife a life estate in all the property, two thirds of which was to go to the testator's brothers and sisters at the widow's death. Before Mr. Wolf's or codicil executed by Mr. Wolf it real estate purchased by the testadeath of her husband.
