

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

Clubs Circles SOCIETY Suffrage Philanthropy

A pretty and novel out of door wedding took place at 11:45 o'clock Saturday when Miss Helene Stewert...

Announcements

The meeting of the Tabitha Girls of the Zion Evangelical church was to have been held Monday night...

Personals

Mrs. Robert R. Rush, 606 E. Sample st., left Friday for New York City where she will join her husband...

Adele Garrison's New Revelations of a Wife "Their Second Honeymoon"

Lillian's portion, guessed also that something more than humiliation was stirring her heart. For if Lillian's suspicions were true and Grace Draper were a secret agent of our county's enemies...

TELLS JUDGE IT WAS "HEADACHE MEDICINE," FINE IS SUSPENDED

A dose of "headache medicine" might have cost S. E. Savage, a traveling salesman, $5 and costs in city police court Saturday morning when he was arraigned before Judge Gilmer on a charge of intoxication.

DEATHS

MRS. MARY CARR. Mrs. Mary Carr died Thursday morning after an illness of 13 weeks. She is survived by the following children: Mertie Jamison, of Indianapolis; Ray Carr, of Logansport; Grace Bowman, of Elkhart; Emma Dyer, Bertha Johnson and Roy Carr of this city.

SARAH FAY. Mrs. Sarah Fay, 78 years old, died at the county infirmary Saturday morning at 6 o'clock. She is survived by her husband, Thomas Fay. Mrs. Fay was born in Ohio on Oct. 27, 1849, and came to South Bend 19 years ago.

FUNERALS

ANTHONY FITZ. Funeral services for Anthony Fitz, 707 Marietta st., who died Thursday morning will be held at St. Mary's Catholic church at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. Mr. J. M. Scherer will officiate and burial will be in Cedar Grove cemetery.

WARNS LUMBER THIEF, AND SUSPENDS SENTENCE

Tommy Grgelowski was warned by Judge Gilmer in city police court Saturday morning that he must refrain from stealing lumber from local dealers. He was arraigned charged with petit larceny. A fine of $5 and costs and 30 days' visit to the state penal farm was given him, which was suspended on his promise to quit his petty thieving.

HAVE BARTER SYSTEM LIKE PIONEER DAYS

ROME, June 3.—(Correspondence).—A system of barter akin to that of pioneer frontier days in America, but on a more stupendous scale presents itself as the modus operandi of the foreign trade of the United States in Europe, according to foreign trade experts of the United States government investigating the trade possibilities in Italy.

REPORT KILLING OF BIRDS

To South Bend Humane society. $5 toward for information that connects. Home phone 1600, Bell 3270. 1305-3

Notice to Correspondents

All announcements of marriages, engagements and society events mailed to The News-Times must be signed by the party sending them, with their address. This signature is insisted upon for our information. Announcements of several such events have been sent in that never took place, and adoption of a policy of investigation is therefore necessary.

Something New About "Huldy's Whistle"

MRS. ANNE ARCHBOLD MILLER, author of this delicious story, has generously consented to autograph 50 copies of this first edition of her book, "Huldy's Whistle"—for you! Fifty copies is a mighty small number, considering the demand, we'll admit, so it's first come, first served, with these autographed editions—on sale, at regular price—$1.35.

Concerning Huldy

Huldy is already firmly established in the home and hearts of many. Sales have been thick and fast from the very minute the books made their appearance. They're bound to continue. Why? Because it's the story of a lifetime. Indeed the sweet philosophy and quaint "appreciations" of Huldy can never die.

Huldy's Whistle

Then there is Whistle himself—a regular little fellow who has a lot of unnecessary trouble in his young life just because some viewpoints were perverted.

Whistle Folks

Mother and dad and Great Aunt Eloise and Lem Billings are among the possessors of these twisted viewpoints for a while. And Great Uncle Geor., like Whistle, is an unfortunate victim!

Huldy Turns the Trick

Huldy sets things right—Does it without even being aware of the depth of her teachings. For a person of no education, she is the most highly educated person one could imagine. She's got the system of puttin' glory into good.

Huldy is Lem Billings' ideal, but Lem was too fond of his cups to meet with absolute approval. Yet love and faith can accomplish wonders. And both are strong in Huldy. Great Uncle George, returned at last from his years of wandering, has his important part in the story, too. He figures a great deal before he ever shows up. He finds things greatly changed from the time that he ran away to escape the family's disapproving eye!

Whistle wouldn't be human if he never got into trouble. And he's in some now. His woe-begone, shamed-faced appearance before Huldy is the aftermath of a great fuss with Aunt Eloise, which he is confessing to Huldy.

The Selloworth Store "THE BRIGHTEST SPOT IN TOWN"

LIBERTY BONDS. Don't sacrifice your bonds. We will pay you New York market daily quotations with accrued interest to date and all due coupons. CAMP, THORNE & CO. 103 N. MAIN ST. Hours: 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Tuesday and Saturday, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. 1st Door N. First National Bank Oliver Hotel Bldg. Patronize the advertiser—he is there to serve you.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Goodhue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodhue of Reedsville, Wis., and Franklin Koenig, son of Mrs. Anna Koenig, 129 E. Dayton st., this city.

On Monday members of the Washington club will motor to the summer home of Mrs. W. L. Kizer, 803 W. Washington av., at Higman park where a picnic dinner will be enjoyed.

Mrs. Ida Weaver, 104 Lindsey st., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mildred Kathryn Weaver, to Lieut. Donald Ward Squire, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Squire of Elkhart, Ind. Lieut. Squire recently returned from France having been in service two years.

Miss Joyce T. Miller of Rochelle, Ill., formerly of South Bend, and Dewey S. Parke of Dixon, Ill., were married June 26 at the parsonage of the Grace M. E. church Rev. B. D. Beck officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Parke will make their home in South Bend.

OBSERVE 80TH BIRTHDAY OF MRS. LUCINDA JONES

In observance of her 80th birthday anniversary Mrs. Lucinda Jones, 708 E. Miner st., entertained informally at her summer home, Little Fish Lake, Cass county, Mich., on Sunday June 29. The guests included friends and relatives from South Bend and a number of friends residing near Little Fish Lake.

SPENDS FOURTH HOPPING FREIGHTS, IS FINED $5

Robert Russell, colored, was fined $5 and costs before Judge Gilmer in city police court Saturday morning when he was arraigned on a charge of trespass. It was said Russell spent the Fourth hopping freight. He was unable to pay and was sent to jail for 15 days.

Mrs. Marian White Places Art Collection On Sale

Paintings and etchings by celebrated artists of Europe and America, now in the private collection of Mrs. Marian A. White, formerly of South Bend, were placed on exhibition and sale by Mrs. White in South Bend Saturday. The works are being exhibited at the Makieski Art Shop and Mrs. White will be present between 10 and 12 a. m. and 2 and 5 p. m. to give brief lectures upon the careers of the various artists represented.

The collection is a water color by Mrs. Mesdack Van Houten, a famous Dutch artist. There is also a Rocky mountain scene by Harvey Young, distinguished American artist, who died in his prime, but who has left a notable collection of western scenes, many of which have been gathered together in a memorial gallery at Colorado Springs. In addition there is a painting by Edward Ertz, an American and two by a pupil of Watteau. Among the etchings there is one after Gainsborough's painting of the Salisbury cathedral, and a work by Paul DeLongpre, a French etcher.

At Wheelock's At Wheelock's

New Victor Records for July on Sale. Ready to bring new entertainment into your home. Stirring band music. Lively dance numbers. Delightful orchestral selections. We will gladly play them for you. George H. Wheelock & Company Dollars and Marriage By Winifred Black. The little woman I know, and the little man I know, are not getting on well together. Oh, not at all! The reason—so they say—is that the little woman I know wants to make some money for herself, and the little man I know won't let her do it.

she send messengers out after her husband, and promise she'll be good, if he'll only come back home again! I don't know. I can't even guess. The little woman I know is very modern indeed, and the little man she's married is not modern at all, and you never can tell what's going to happen in a match like that. I'm sorry for the little man I know. He's a good little man, honest, faithful, ambitious, stubborn, conceited, vain—ah, that's just it! It isn't his care for his wife that makes him determined to keep her at home. I'm afraid it's his vanity. He doesn't want other men to say that he couldn't afford to buy his wife an automobile, so she went out and bought one for herself. Perhaps if she bought the automobile for herself, she'd buy other things, and that would mean no children, and that would mean—dear me, who knows what it would or wouldn't mean? Is She Wise? Perhaps the little man's vanity is just the last link that is holding him and his wife to the old ideal—the ideal which the clinging vine woman the clinging vine and the man the oak. Somehow—or other that ideal seems to be passing very rapidly. And when you go a bit further, and gaze at some of the women—willful, proud, independent, overbearing—you begin really to wonder. With which do I sympathize in this particular case? I haven't the least idea. If I were in the little woman's place, I would stay at home and go without the automobile until my husband could afford to buy it for me. I think I'd stand a better chance of a good automobile for no tie.