

CALL WELCOME HOME PLAN OFF

Meeting of General Committee Decide to Abandon Celebration.

There will be no general celebration at Springbrook park in honor of St. Joseph county's service men.

This was made plain Thursday afternoon when the general committee in charge of the "Home Welcome" reception planned for the afternoon of Oct. 23 recommended to Mayor Carson and the Chamber of Commerce that the proposed celebration be indefinitely postponed.

It was pointed out at the meeting that such a celebration is not favored generally by the public, in addition to the fact that it would be difficult to obtain the necessary funds for holding such a celebration.

Honor Medals.

The board of county commissioners has ordered honor medals to be presented to the county's service men, and it was intimated at the meeting that the commissioners will find some way in which to make a suitable distribution of the medals, which are expected to arrive within the next few days.

The original plan of the commissioners was to distribute these medals at Springbrook during the celebration there in honor of the service men, but now that this celebration has been abandoned it is possible, it is said, that the commissioners may decide to adopt a plan of its own for awarding the medals to the soldiers, sailors and marines of the county who served in the late world war.

Refuse Suggestions.

It was suggested at the meeting Thursday afternoon that the reception be changed from Springbrook park to the high school auditorium, but this suggestion did not meet with the favor of the committee. It was pointed out that neither the business men of the city nor the industrial plants were very heartily in favor of closing for half a day for the celebration.

Mayor Carson suggested that the reception be postponed until Armistice day, Nov. 11, but this also did not meet with the approval of the committee. It was finally decided to recommend to Mayor Carson and the Chamber of Commerce that the celebration plan be abandoned.

The meeting Thursday afternoon followed one Wednesday night at which 300 members of the American legion refused to adopt resolutions calling upon the committee to hold the celebration at the high school.

A new invention is a clock with a phonograph attachment which announces the hour "in a pleasant voice."

RAMS AUTO BUT FAILS TO STOP

Police Look For Driver of Oliver Chilled Plow Works Truck.

The police are looking for the driver of an Oliver Plow Works truck which was the indirect cause of an accident which resulted in the police patrol being badly damaged Thursday afternoon.

D. J. Loftus, a coffee salesman living at Logansport, was cranking his machine near the corner of Williams and Division sts. about 3:40 o'clock in the afternoon, when a truck, said by neighbors who witnessed the accident to belong to the Oliver company, ran into the rear end of Loftus' car, throwing him to the pavement. The driver of the truck drove away without waiting to see whether or not the man was hurt, witnesses say.

Cars Collide.

The police ambulance was called, and on the return trip to the station the police car collided with Washington street car No. 204 at the corner of William st. and Washington av. W. C. Huffman, conductor, and C. E. Blake, motorman of the street car, told the police that the air-brakes on the car were set, but that Blake was unable to slow up on account of the slippery condition of the tracks.

None of the occupants of the ambulance or of the street car were injured in the collision, but the police machine sustained a smashed wheel and a badly crushed fender.

Dr. H. M. Crow, who attended Loftus, said that his patient was not seriously hurt. Loftus received a deep gash in the head and bruises on the head and face.

The city police patrol which was out on the reserve list when the new machine was purchased, was called back into service Thursday night.
