LEON, IOWA, THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1917.

VOLUME LXIII, NO. 44

1239 WERE REGISTERED

And 860 of Them Claimed Exemptions of Some Kind. Draft is Expected Within 30 Days.

The county auditor's office has been a mighty busy place the past week, working on the registration returns. The auditor had to make a complete duplicate set of all the registration cards, compile the exemptions, tabulate them, and auditor Osborn has pressed all of his friends into service to assist in getting the work out promptly.

The final returns for Decatur county gives a total of 1239 registrations, and a complete list of those who registered in each precinct is printed on page three of this issue, with the exception that two more cards, those of Clyde Pickering of the 3rd ward in Leon, and Earl Carroll of Decatur, were received after the list was printed.

Orders have been issued for the sheriff to arrest any person who failed to register, and he is investigating two or three cases, but it is thought the registration in Decatur county was as complete as any county in the state.

The following is the number registered in each precinct:

Bloomington	53
Davis City	45
Burrell	38
Center	53
Decatur	77
Eden	53
Fayette	144

Leon, 1st Ward	38
Leon, 2nd Ward	38
Leon, 3rd Ward	57

Total 1239

A large percentage of those who registered in Decatur county claimed exemptions of some sort, the total exemptions claimed being 860, as follows:

Legislative, judicial or executive	1
Totally disabled	30
Dependent relatives	723
Occupational exemptions	93
Aliens	3

Total 860

The total returns in the state show that the total number who registered in Iowa was 216,594, compared to the government estimate of 212,882. In detail the registration shows: Total white registration 209,803; negro 2,141; total aliens 13,650; enemy aliens 1,862; total claiming exemption 118,549. Of those claiming exemption 117,357 are whites and 1,192 negroes.

It is thought that the drafting will be done within thirty days, but those who are drafted will not be called out until Sept. 1st, so as to give them time to arrange their business affairs.

A New Law Firm.

After September 1st there will be a new law firm in Leon, McGinnis & McGinnis, when Ralph A. McGinnis will become associated with his father, V. R. McGinnis, in the general practice of law in this city. Ralph graduated from the law department at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, this spring, and last week went to Des Moines and passed the Iowa bar examination, with a very creditable marking. Until Sept. 1st he will be engaged in the work of platform manager with the Lincoln Chautauque System, with which he has worked for several seasons, his territory this summer being in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

V. R. McGinnis enjoys a law practice second to none in southern Iowa, extending over several of the adjoining counties, and he has all the business he can care for and more, and has been anxiously awaiting the time when his son could be associated with him and relieve him of a part of the work. Mr. McGinnis is considered one of the very best attorneys in the state of Iowa, and Ralph is a bright young man full of energy and a fine speaker and good student. He graduated a couple of years ago from the State University at Iowa City, and then completed his law course at the University of Michigan.

Kept Wedding a Secret.

Delos F. Ackerley sprung a surprise on his friends when he registered last week as a married man, as no one dreamed he was a bachelor, but such is the case. At some recent date, which he declines to name, he was married at Marion, Iowa, to Miss Vava S. Brisbine, and Mrs. Ackerley will arrive in Leon the latter part of this week. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ackerley were students at the State University at Iowa City. Delos returned to Leon a few weeks ago to take charge of his father's farm just northeast of Leon, and will shortly commence the erection of a new house on the farm as a home for his bride.

A PROCLAMATION.

To the People of Iowa:
In accordance with the Proclamation issued by the President of these United States, I hereby direct your attention to Red Cross Week, June 18th to 25th. The American Red Cross is in need of $100,000,000 to carry on this work, and Iowa must do her share. The Red Cross War Council has asked me, as Governor of Iowa, to take charge of raising funds in this state. I have therefore arranged that the members of the County Councils of Defense and the Red Cross Chapters should carry on the work of soliciting contributions in their respective localities, and have secured the services of Professor O. A. Klingaman of the State University and Dr. A. E. Keppel of the Board of Control as managers of the campaign.

I call upon you, the people of this commonwealth, to give liberally and in the spirit of patriotic sacrifice for the support and maintenance of this great work of humanitarianism. American boys are at the front and we must not let them suffer on account of inaction on our part.

In behalf of those making the campaign, I earnestly bespeak the co-operation of the citizens in every walk of life, to the end that the response will be commensurate with the conspicuous position Iowa has thus far occupied in every movement wherein her patriotic loyalty has been put to the test.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the Commonwealth of Iowa, I hereby designate the period of June 18th to 25th, inclusive, as Red Cross Week, and urge your generous observance of same.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state, Done at Des Moines, this thirteenth day of June 1917.

W. L. HARDING.

By the Governor:

W. S. Allen, Secretary of State.

What President Wilson Says.

If you have not yet made a purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds, read this statement from President Wilson, published in the Chicago Tribune last Sunday. He tells the story of what we are at war for, and he must be supported by everybody buying Liberty Loan Bonds.

"We are fighting for the liberty, the self-government, and the undisturbed development of all peoples, and every feature of the settlement that concludes this war must be conceived and executed for that purpose. Wrongs must first be righted and then adequate safeguards must be created to prevent their being committed again. We ought not to consider remedies merely because they come in a pleasing and sonorous sound. Practical questions can only be settled by practical means. Phrases will not achieve the result. Effective readjustments will; and whatever readjustments are necessary must be made."

But they must follow a principle, and that principle is plain. No people must be forced under sovereignty under which it does not wish to live. No territory must change hands except for the purpose of securing a fairer and more equitable distribution of life and liberty. No indemnities must be insisted on except those that constitute payment for manifest wrongs done. No readjustments of power must be made except such as will tend to secure the future peace of the world and the future welfare and happiness of its people.

And then the freed peoples of the world must draw together in some common covenant, some genuine and practical co-operation that will in effect combine their forces for the peace and justice of the world. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership to secure that life against the aggressions of autocratic and self-pleasing power.

"For these things we can afford to pour out blood and treasure. For these are the things we have always professed to desire, and unless we pour out blood and treasure now and hereafter we may never be able to unite or show conquering force again in the great cause of human liberty. The day has come to conquer or submit. If the forces of autocracy can divide us they will overcome us; if we stand together victory will be ours, and the liberty which victory will secure. We can afford then to be generous, but we cannot afford then or now to be weak or omit any single guarantee of justice and security."

K. of P. Decoration Sunday Afternoon.

Hesperia lodge No. 33, K. of P., will observe their annual Decoration day next Sunday, June 17th, having services at the K. of P. hall at 1:30 o'clock, to which a general invitation is extended to the public. Following the exercises at the hall the Knights will march to the cemetery where the graves of the departed Knights will be decorated with flowers and the beautiful memorial service will be carried out as usual. There are twenty Knights buried in the Leon cemetery.

The triangles to be filled with flowers are at E. E. Bell's drug store, and any one who can fill one or more with flowers are requested to call there for them.

Rain Interfered.

The heavy rains Tuesday evening interfered with several picnic parties. The ladies of the P. E. O. Chapter had arranged for a big children's picnic at the home of C. W. Hoffman, north of Leon, and the Priscilla Club had a picnic party scheduled for the country home of Clay Harris, northeast of Leon, and there were many disappointed.

White Blackbird Returns.

A year ago we made mention of a white blackbird which made its home with a flock of birds at the farm of C. W. Hoffman, just north of Leon, and many people stopped at the Hoffman farm to see it. It left last fall with the other blackbirds, but reappeared again at the Hoffman farm last week, and seems mighty glad to get back.

FREAKS OF A TORNADO

Storm Which Destroyed Fine Barn of Bud Sims Last Week Did Some Very Queer Things.

We drove out to the farm of Bud Sims, five miles southeast of Leon Sunday and view the ruins of his fine barn, which was destroyed by a tornado about half past eight on Monday evening of last week. The tornado came from the southwest and did not do much damage until the Sims place was reached. Here it just missed his fine residence, took the wheel off the windmill just a few feet from the house, and left it hanging on the top of the tower, then struck his workshop, moved it four feet, and jumped to his big barn, which it wrecked completely. This barn was 40x60 feet, and was 52 feet high. It had a cement foundation and floor, and was framed from native lumber, but the wind broke 6x6 oak posts square off, as well as breaking some of the large timbers. There were 9 head of horses in the barn at the time, but when Mr. Sims went to the barn or what was left of it, all the horses were outside except one of his fine stallions, which was in a box stall, and the horse was partly badly frightened. Mr. Sims had to get his brother John to come and assist him in removing the horse. None of the horses were even scratched. The path of the tornado was only a couple of hundred feet wide, and as it passed on northeast it destroyed considerable timber for a distance of more than a mile. The big cupola on top of the barn fell to the north, and the glass in it was not broken except that a stick was pushed through two of them. Just west of the barn a lumber wagon was not moved, but a heavy sled was picked up and blown down two hundred feet away. On the west side of the barn in one place a 6x6 oak corner post was twisted all to pieces, and right beside it three soft pine boards were left standing alone, and the nails were not even pulled from the bottom of them. A second story of the barn was torn away and blown to the north, but the first story remained intact, but was moved from the foundation about a foot, although held by many big bolts set in the cement foundation.

This barn was built entirely by Mr. Sims, who spent four years completing it, the interior being fitted up in elaborate shape for convenience in feeding and comfort of his horses. He estimates that the barn cost him over $3,000 and he has $2,000 left of it. The wind was visible about the barn and a big door from a shed was picked up and nailed tight against an adjoining shed. It was Bud's first experience with a tornado, and he does not want to have any more. He walked into the house reading when the storm struck the house which shook all over, but was not damaged in the least, although Bud insists that the paper which he was reading was shaken out of his hand.

THE NEW THEATRE.

Prices Are 5 and 10 Cents for Entire Week, With Matinee Every Day at 3 o'clock.

The New Theatre has booked an exceptionally good program for every day the coming week, and for the entire week the prices will be but 5 and 10 cents, with a matinee every day at 3 o'clock. This is making popular prices, as the program embraces stars which are seldom shown at these prices.

Today, Thursday, June 14th, the popular star William Farnum appears in "Fighting Blood," one of his best pictures, and Farnum is the peer of any of the great movie actors.

Friday, the five act novelty play, "The Valley of Decision," featuring Richard Bennett and Adrienne Morrison, a story of love, ambition and wisdom. It is one of the most pretentious dramatic offerings in which these talented actors have appeared. Saturday, the big varied program, "Shorty Hamilton in 'Shorty Lands a Master Crook,' the Vogue comedy, 'Fickle All Around,' and the interesting late Mutual Weekly of current events, making an exceptionally strong program.

Monday, June 18th, the great Brady World-Made picture, "The Man Who Stood Still," featuring Lew Fields and Doris Kenyon. Lew Fields is one of the most picturesque figures on the stage or before the camera, and made a national reputation as a star of the Weber & Fields comedies. In one scene you laugh until it becomes painful, only to find your laughter blending into tears, when, behold, there is another laugh coming.

Tuesday, June 19th, Art Dramas present Edith Hallor, Leslie Austen and Kirke Brown in "A Man and a Woman," adapted from the French novel "Nantas," by Emile Zola. The play is written in Zola's most fascinating style and is rich in strong dramatic situations.

Wednesday, June 20th, Charlotte Walker appears in another of "The Seven Deadly Sins," this picture being, "Sloth," and like the preceding pictures it is a great production. This series is meeting with great favor. This week a Typhoon Fan is being installed at the New Theatre, which changes the air in the theatre once every minute, insuring the comfort and health of the patrons of this popular theatre, and they will appreciate the new fan. There is nothing better manufactured than the Typhoon Fan.

C. M. Akers is building a good grand stand on his farm just south of town and we are going to have a good ground.

Next Sunday the Davis City team will play Leon on the new grounds on the C. M. Akers farm just south of Leon. You know there is always a good game between Davis City and Leon.

One week from Sunday Chariton comes for a game, so please come out and help support the team.

Decatur County Y. M. C. A. War Work.

Among the many things claiming our interest in these strenuous times, nothing stands out more prominently than the army work of the Y. M. C. A. organized as it is to care for the moral and spiritual welfare of our boys as they are called to serve their country. They are going from our towns and our homes and we are concerned that amid the temptations of army life they be surrounded by those influences that are elevating and uplifting.

Decatur county is being asked for $2,000 as its share of a state fund of $175,000. This is part of a national fund of $3,500,000 now being raised for this purpose.

A million men will soon be called to the colors. To serve these men the Y. M. C. A. will erect two hundred buildings 40x120 feet, with five secretaries in charge of each building, writing material, magazines, books, piano, victrola, moving pictures, machine, lectures, concerts, entertainments, clean living talks, Bible classes, religious meetings, etc., will all be found in these buildings and all will help to combat the evils of camp life.

Most of the counties in Iowa have already raised the amount asked for them for this splendid work, and in many instances have over subscribed. Decatur county is going to measure up to its opportunity in this matter. This is a work so important that everybody will want to help. A County Committee has been organized, and much work already done. Have You Done Your Bit? If not, please send just as generous a subscription as you can to E. G. Monroe, Exchange National Bank, Leon, Iowa, who is treasurer for Decatur county. Don't Wait! Do It Now! It is a good motto at this time.

Monday, June 18th, is Campaign Day and the entire fund should be in the hands of the treasurer on that date.

A Dirty Trick.

Last Thursday night some miscreant visited about twenty private residences and tore down the flags that were left on porches and other places about the premises. They also took the flag from the staff over the town hall and the one from the post office building. While we are not in possession of the proof, circumstances point to some young men that have since left town. We dislike very much to connect anyone with such a dastardly deed as this, especially at a time when the American flag means so much not only to the people of the United States but to all people who love liberty and justice and hate lawlessness in any and all forms. The matter is being investigated and if evidence sufficient is secured the guilty parties will undoubtedly be taught a lesson in respect and patriotism.—Lamoni Chronicle.
