Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulford coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulford coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

NO AGREEMENT WAS REACHED AT MEETING

Water Power Assessment Matter as Yet Unsettled—No Action Taken Yesterday.

That no agreement had been reached and no action taken at the conference between city and county officials and representatives from the Mississippi River Power company, held yesterday to discuss the water power assessment, was the announcement today of those who attended the session.

The meeting was held in a private room at the Hotel Iowa and was attended by the county supervisors, the city council and officials from the water power. The matter under discussion was the tax assessment of $10,000,000 made against the water power company by former Assessor S. H. Johnston.

According to C. W. Kellogg, manager of the Mississippi River Power company, nothing definite was agreed on yesterday. The session was for the purpose of getting the views on the matter of all concerned, and of

WINDOW BOX PLAN SUGGESTED HERE

Waterloo and Davenport Are Two Iowa Cities Which Have Taken Up the Idea for Their Buildings.

ORIGINATED IN EUROPE

Berlin Was First City to Use This Plan—Many American Towns Are Adopting It Now.

At the last meeting of the Civic League, Miss Caroline Baldwin, corresponding secretary, was instructed to write to Waterloo, inquiring about their window box and garden plans for the down town section of their city, and yesterday she received a letter of reply from A. T. Gates, secretary of the Rotary club. They have chosen the red geranium as their city flower and it will be used in window boxes on office and bank buildings as well as on store buildings and hotels. The citizens will use these red flowers on their lawns and in their gardens, one man having ordered a thousand plants to use on his grounds.

A few years ago Seattle organized a window box club which was instrumental in having the down town districts of that city made attractive with flowers. Forbes Davis was an active worker in carrying out the plan in Seattle.

Davenport and Minneapolis are two other cities that have had window boxes on the business buildings.

It is said that Berlin was the first city to use flowers in this way and other European cities took it up, but it is not certain whether Americans have looked upon it as a sort of "sissie idea."

Now-a-days however, the garden idea has been recognized as serving a real purpose. No city in this section of the state has taken up the plan and the members of the Civic League thought it would be an added attraction to Main street during the fall celebration to have these flower boxes installed.

LONG STAY IN MEXICO BY AMERICANS

Yet-Su-Suay, a wrinkled veteran of seventy-five, is chief of the party. All were clad in regulation Indian service uniforms, but wore war feathers in their hats. They carried rifles and long knives.

Transportation Difficulties. COLUMBUS, N. M., April 6.—The present facilities for supplying the American army in Mexico are fast becoming inadequate.

Military authorities here today declared the situation would become acute if General Pershing's men went farther south after Villa.

The demands from the troops in the field exceed the supplies that can be rushed to them with the two hundred motor trucks in service here.

It requires from six to eight days for the motor caravans to make the round trip of 300 miles over desert land and mountains to the advanced temporary base. The cry for more supplies of all kinds from the interior has become so insistent that army officers here and members of the quartermaster's corps have called General Funston's attention to the situation.

Several hundred remounts forwarded in the past few days hardly made any impression on the demands for more horses to take the places of those killed in the drive after Villa. Hay and oats are also badly needed by the cavalry squadrons at the front.

The troops' shoes and clothes are being worn out rapidly. Wagon and pack trains are reinforcing the motor trucks but the horses and mules are so slow their assistance is negligible according to army officers.

The motor trucks after being completely overhauled here on their return from the interior are started off immediately with new loads of supplies.

News Comes Slow. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 6.—During the past twenty-four hours not a single word has been received at army headquarters of the progress of the Villa man hunt. All the information from the front in two days has been contained in dispatches totaling less than two hundred words. Colonel Brown's engagement four days ago with a Villa band at Ojo Calientes was told in a few words.

General Funston, however, is firm in the belief that the next two days will bring definite news of the bandit leader's whereabouts and indicate the probable effectiveness of the expedition. Staff officers intimated that the successful prosecution of the pursuit depends upon the arrival of reinforcements and improved transportation facilities. They expressed confidence today that "proper aid" would be given.

While the main body of the expeditionary force is believed here to be continuing the search in the Guerrero district, Funston considers it likely small cavalry detachments are prosecuting the hunt some distance south. Far removed from their temporary base, General Funston believes they are in need of provisions and forage, but expressed no fear that actual suffering will result.

The complete absence of information indicates to army officers here that the bulk of the punitive expedition is still combing the district about Guerrero; that they have been utterly unable to find a trace of the bandit chief and that no movement southward is yet under way, save, perhaps on the part of a few small cavalry detachments.

heavy assaults against Bethincourt and through the Avocourt woods, have been completely broken up by French artillery.

The French war office reported this afternoon that the crown prince's armies suffered "frightful" losses in the desperate battle waged all last night. The German war office, in reporting the capture of Haucourt, also announced that a French point of support east of the village has been taken.

The whole Verdun front west of the Meuse is now the scene of violent fighting. The crown prince, as London military men predicted a few days ago, is bending his greatest efforts to the task of crushing the French lines northwest of Verdun and throwing the French back upon the permanent fortifications.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

SPEND 25 CENTS! DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

TRY THIS! HAIR GETS BEAUTIFUL, WAVY AND THICK IN FEW MOMENTS.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life and if not overcome, it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say Danderine was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

The wings of the French line stood Germany's heaviest blows without giving ground, whereas it had been believed that renewal of the heavy assaults would force the French out of Bethincourt, on the right wing. The fact that the French were forced to evacuate Haucourt, is an indication that the batteries on Hill 304, dominating Haucourt have been severely damaged by systematic German bombardments.

Long Commission Co. Grain Letter.

[Furnished by Long Commission Co., 403 Main. Telephone No. 100.]

CHICAGO, April 6.—Wheat—Although crop reports continue unfavorable, there is a disposition in the local crowd to consider the advance sufficient for the time being. This, with reports of more favorable growth in the spring wheat belts caused pressure after the market had opened higher. Some stop loss orders were encountered on the early break of about two cents, but there was enough support from exporters and short covering to bring about a fair rally by noon, prices then being about the same as last night's close.

The government report, which appears tomorrow, will be the important factor for the moment. This report is expected to be bullish as compared with last month and last year. Under present conditions both as to the growing crop and the foreign situation, the buying side on breaks appears the safest.

Corn—There was good support in corn on the early break which occurred despite bullish chatter. Country offerings were reported as increasing west of the Mississippi, Omaha claiming fair purchases to arrive. Liberal stocks of corn are against prices, but on any breaks July and September seem to be attracting attention of investment buyers.

Oats—The feature in oats was the selling of May and buying of July, which held the latter firm and depressed the former. The prospect of more favorable weather for seeding operations discourages buying of nearby futures. Buying side, however, on the advance dates especially July seem advisable on depressions.
