DONNELSON.

The social event of the week in the town of Donnellson was the marriage of Mr. Peter Gratz of Bluffton, Ohio, and Miss Laura Seyb of Donnellson. The ceremony took place at the Presbyterian manse on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, and was performed by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Tait, who used the ring ceremony.

The groom is an excellent man and has been very successful in business in the town where he lives. The bride is one of our most popular ladies, well and favorably known in this section where she has many relatives and friends, and her removal to another state will be greatly regretted by many, but she carries with her the very best wishes of a host of friends.

The newly married couple left Donnellson on the same day for their home in Bluffton, Ohio, where they will begin housekeeping at once.

SUPREME PRELATE WILL BE PRESENT

Atwood of Minneapolis Will Come to Keokuk December 6, to Assist in Knights of Pythias Initiation Ceremonies.

STATE OFFICER ALSO

Grand Chancellor Will Have Important Part in Day's Celebration and Will Be Assisted by Local Team.

The annual meeting of the Knights of Pythias, which will be held in Keokuk, December 6, and in which the districts, thirty-one and thirty-two, are to participate, is to be an auspicious occasion with the Supreme Prelate, Atwood, of Minneapolis, and the grand chancellor of the state from Waterloo present.

Both of these officers will assist the local team in putting on the degree work of the day, which will be taken by at least one hundred candidates, including twenty Keokuk men. The visitors to this city on December 6 will include several hundred people from all parts of southeastern Iowa who belong to the order of the Knights of Pythias from the three districts to be represented.

A special significance will be attached to the initiation ceremonies as they are conducted upon this occasion. The Supreme Prelate, Atwood, will use the Bible, which Rathbone, the founder of the order used when he gave the degree work the first time to candidates for this order. Rathbone founded the order in the sixties at Washington, D. C., and the Bible which he used at the first ceremonies has been preserved by the supreme officers of the lodge and will be used on December 6 for the degree work here. It is interesting to know that the Knights of Pythias is one fraternal organization which belongs to the United States alone. It is purely an order of this continent.

In addition to the degree work there will be speeches made at the meetings by members from the visiting cities and also by local people. The day's activities will be concluded with an elaborate banquet, which will be served in the Knights of Pythias hall by the Pythian sisters. Complete arrangements have not been made as yet for all of the day's program, but the local men are working hard in arranging all details and in providing everything for the occasion, which will make it a success. John P. Horvath is the general chairman of the committees who have the day's celebration in hand.

CONSTANTINE IS IN FAVOR

people and they have condemned my policy. I have retired.

"I have been accused of being a tyrant and I am giving my place to others who will not be tyrants."

Kaiser's Return Next.
PARIS, Nov. 17.—"It will soon be my brother's turn," exulted Queen Sophia of Greece, when returns from the Greek elections, indicating defeat of Premier Venizelos were received at Lucerne. The queen's brother is the former Kaiser Wilhelm. Information's correspondent who quoted the queen said King Constantine's entourage believed he hoped to return to Athens soon.

The election returns were received with great rejoicing by the couple. They regarded it as a triumph over the allied officials who drove the king from his throne because of the queen's relationship to the kaiser.

WRANGLER IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Anti-Bolshevik General Arrives With Nearly 20,000 Troops, With No Plans to Announce.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 17.—The fate of thousands of civilians left in Sebastopol in the bolshevik triumph, worried the European diplomats here today.

General Wrangel arrived late yesterday with nearly 20,000 troops. He had no plans to announce.

French representatives confirmed reports that they had threatened red authorities with reprisals if harm came to the civilians.

Military evacuation of the entire Crimean peninsula was complete today, but thousands of civilians were left in Yalta, Theodosia and other cities.

Soup kitchens have been installed here to provide food for the most needy refugees. Military barracks belonging to the French army were filled with homeless men and women arriving from Sebastopol.

The military neatness of the barracks were upset by the visitors whose varicolored bundles strewn the floors. Refugee looted about the narrow streets despairing.

The overcrowded city could provide little space for the new comers, property, those who could not pay and thousands still occupied the ships which removed them from the Crimea.

There was fear among those who escaped the red troops, intoxicated by their success would break away from the restraint of their commanders and pillage the ancient towns in which priceless goods remained.

The evacuated cities were reported to have seethed with panic in the last hours before the reds swarmed into them.

Wounded men struggled back from the front, begging for assistance in reaching surgical help. Men wearing their best clothing and dragging bundles of valuables crowded in the direction of the wharves, seeking passage. Women and children were crushed in the crowds flocking toward the water front.

As the ships edged away from the pier, throngs of desperate refugees gazed dumbly after the fortunate ones. A few set out in launches and small boats for Black Sea islands. The rest turned back to face the incoming bolshevik troops.

MAY VISIT IN VERA CRUZ

President-Elect Harding Has Been Invited to Stop Off at Mexican Port on His Way Home.

[By Raymond Clapper, United Press Staff Correspondent.] BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Nov. 17.—Plans for stopping off at Vera Cruz or some other Mexican port on the way back from Panama were considered by President-Elect Harding today as the result of an invitation extended by the Mexican government and its president-elect, General Alvaro Obregon.

Senator Harding indicated he would like to visit Mexico if steamship movements could be arranged. The steamer on which he returns from Panama does not touch at Mexican ports regularly and a special stop would have to be arranged. There was no intimation as to whether Harding would be able to accept the invitation.

Prominent Texans and Mexicans here felt it would promote amicable relations. General Obregon recently visited a number of points in the United States and sent word to Harding he hoped the American president-elect would return the visit. There is some doubt, however, as to how the proposed visit would be viewed in official circles in Washington and Senator Harding is desirous of giving no grounds for offense to President Wilson in such matters. He declined to visit Venezuela and has not accepted invitation to go to the city of Panama.

The Mexican invitation was extended by Elias L. Torres, special envoy of the Mexican government, and President-elect Obregon.

Senator Fall, New Mexico, accompanied him when the call on Senator Harding was made.

Senator Harding planned to leave here about ten o'clock today for New Orleans, where he catches his boat tomorrow. His last day in Brownsville was spent playing golf and receiving a visit from Governor Hobby, of Texas.

Off for New Orleans.
[By Raymond Clapper, United Press Staff Correspondent.]

WITH PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING ENROUTE TO NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—The Harding special carrying the president-elect and his party left Brownsville at ten o'clock this morning for New Orleans to embark for a tender cruise to the Panama canal zone.

The special travels today over the plains of Texas, skirting the Gulf. A few rear platform speeches will be made, although Senator Harding is holding the number to rock bottom so as to get the most relaxation possible.

Arriving at New Orleans tomorrow, Harding goes to the Chamber of Commerce for a luncheon speech and an overflow talk later.
