The Higher the Lower for Sleeping Accommodations

Let me have sleeping accommodations to Guthrie Center, we said to the man at the window in Des Moines the other day. For a single passenger? "No," I replied, "I'm married, but I am not taking anybody with me. A single shelf will answer." "Upper or lower?" he asked. "What's the difference?" I inquired. "The difference is fifty cents," came the answer. "Our prices to Guthrie Center are $1.50 and $2.00. You understand, of course," went on the agent, clasping his headlight spectacle, "you understand that the lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower berth. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower; in other words, the higher the lower."

"Why do they all prefer the lower?" I interrupted.

"Because of the convenience," said the agent. "Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of being higher, also because when you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and then get down when you get up. I would advise you to take the lower although it's higher than the upper for the reason I have just mentioned, that the upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. Of course you can have the lower if you pay higher, but if you are willing to go higher it will be lower.—Menlo News in Guthrie.

Word from the bedside of Boy Beers who is in the Atlantic hospital is that he is lying in a very critical condition.

Lincoln Stutzell is again at his post in the Cafe, returning to Exira Thursday last.

H. F. Davis will be the new station agent in Exira and will arrive here in the near future to enter upon his duties. He comes here from Moscow, Iowa. Mr. High resigned the agency here and will accompany his family to their homestead near Teekla, Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leist Jr. and son were Sunday visitors at the home of his parents, Charles Leist Sr. and wife.

John Jacobsen and family of near Casey were Sunday visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Channon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wahlert and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bartelt and son at their home last Sunday.

"My mother made me what I am," said the political speaker as he proudly threw out his chest.

"Well," said a man in the rear of the hall, "she must have put in the most of her time at other things."

A young fellow of sixteen who had quit school and was loafing around, was given a lecture by his father one evening.

"Young man," said father, "do you know that when Abraham Lincoln was your age he was splitting rails?"

"I do," replied the smart son, "and do you know that when he was your age he was president of the United States?"

The prison visitor was going her rounds. "Have you ever struggled against the consequences of temptation?" she asked of one ferocious looking fellow.

"Yes, ma'am, I have," he answered.

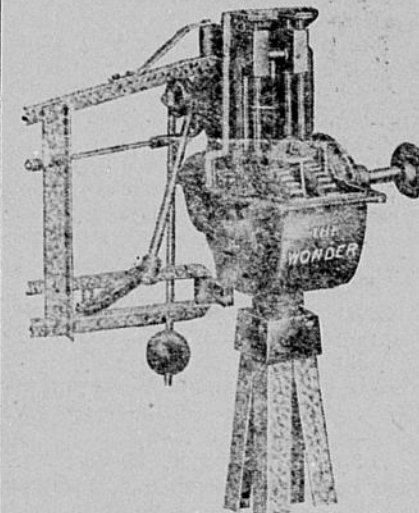

"Ah! I suppose if you had fought just a little harder you wouldn't be here today?"

"Well, ma'am," said the prisoner, modestly, "I did the best I could. It took five policemen to get me to the station."

"We Never Miss the Water Until the Well Runs Dry"

Let us add to this, "Or Until Your Wind Mill Will Not Work."

You soon will be having your usual trouble providing water for your stock and household use. Call in and let us show you our "WONDER" mill, which is all the name implies.

Our customers who have these mills will bear out these facts: The oiling system is perfect—OIL ONCE A YEAR. The extra large double gears will last a life-time. The double pitmans have a straight lift on the upstroke of the pump. The wide spread and extra bracing of the arms are fine.

It is very powerful and runs when other mills stand still. Its strength and simple working parts take with everybody. It governs perfectly in winds changing from a zephyr to a tornado. IT CARRIES A 3-YEAR GUARANTEE.

Call in and let us show you the real "Wonder" mill

See the Fashion in Shoes This Spring

At the windows of the Walk-Over store women are viewing the delightful new Walk-Overs. It is interesting to see these new styles because they are derived from what is new in the fashion centers of the world.

DRESSINESS

Not all women prefer sport shoes. Here is dressiness with details that suggest the practicability of street wear. A double strap with quaint pump effect giving pretty shape to the ankles without the sacrifice of comfort. See them.
