WILLIS & SON, The Photographer.

Earlington's last industry.

Mr. J. B. Wyatt has been moving around for several days with the air of a man who owned the earth. This display of self importance is accounted for from the fact that his good wife has presented him with a baby boy. When this event is duly considered Wyatt is that Jim should wear a sunny smile and feel greatly elated. This BEE extends congratulations.

Willis & Son, Photographers, on Main Street, Madisonville, will give you first-class Cabinet Photos for $3.00 per dozen.

Among the children who are inmates of the Kentucky Institute for the Blind, located at Louisville, are five from this county, between the ages of 6 and 18 years. The Superintendent of this worthy institution has kindly furnished us their names, and our readers will doubtless be interested in the publication of these names. Laurence E. Bailey, White Plains; Willie Ashby, near Slaughterville; A. Kirkwood and Elton McTeague, Silent Run and Lucy Davis, St. Charles.

Where to get the best Shoes: You have them to buy, I have them to sell, and sell the best shoes for the money. This is one of my special lines.

W. R. Coil, Earlington, Ky.

A Little Toddler: Rickett Todd, for several days, has been fitting about with his face illumined by a smile, which for brightness would make a calcium light "buckle down." To keep in sight his better seven eighths has presented him a girl baby, and this being his first achievement in the baby line, he of course is filled to overflowing with paternal pride and solicitude, both mother and daughter are doing well, and strong hopes are entertained that Rickett will pull through.

Our Merchant Tailoring department exceeds even our expectations. Three men are now required to do the work, and it is only a question of time till Alexander's Tailor-made Clothing will be worn by every well-dressed man in Madisonville. That time is coming.

J. T. ALEXANDER, Madisonville, Ky.

Another Precinct: Born to Mr. and Mrs. Heard From, Charles Egloff, a girl, baby which begins life on a nine pound basis, all parties connected are doing well. The BEE tenders congratulations and would offer some poetry, but the fact is the good citizens have been receiving "bouncing" boys and girls faster here lately, faster than the baby editor can write verses, but he intends to take a day soon and manufacture a stock of verses suitable for b. & g. girls, twins and triplets, and then he will be fully prepared to meet any boom, which may occur in the "youngster" business.

No other sarsaparilla has equalled Hood's in the relief it gives in several cases of dyspepsia, sick headache, biliousness, etc.

Another Little One Died-On Wednesday afternoon, 20th ult., about one o'clock, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Calloway. The days and hours allotted to this "beim of sunshine" were few, indeed, being only nine days. Its body was laid to rest in the Earlington Cemetery, Thursday afternoon, Thanksgiving day. We deeply sympathize with the parents in their sad affliction.

Crossed Over Died-At her home in this city, Tuesday evening, 21st inst., at 6 p. m., after a brief illness from pleurisy, Mrs. Hortensia Coenen, mother of Rev. A. M. and Mr. J. T. Coenen, of this city, aged 82 years. Mrs. Coenen has lived in Earlington for a number of years, and is well and favorably known by many of our oldest citizens. Her remains will be laid to rest this morning (Thursday) at 8 a. m. in the Catholic Cemetery in this city. The BEE extends condolence to the bereaved ones.

When on a visit to Iowa, Mr. K. Dalton, of Luray, Russell County, Kansas, called at the laboratory of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, to show them his six-year-old boy, whose life had been saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it having cured him of a very severe attack of croup. Mr. Dalton is certain that it saved his boy's life and is enthusiastic in his praise for the Remedy. For sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; George King, St. Charles.

Carpets and other house-furnishings at Alexander's in Madisonville. Have you seen the latest designs?

On Slipper- Last Sunday whilst every body was seeking comfort in wraps. Arctic shoes and Arctic socks, Jack Day was striking the earth a square deal with feet tipped with a pair of embroidered slippers, a shade thicker than tissue paper, his steps were so light that he could have trod on antiquated eggs with impunity, for his strange conduct he plead financial stringency, and the possibility that he might not live till next summer to wear the slippers, hence his determination to manufacture his whilst solar beams were present.

An Enjoyable Affair. A most delightful evening was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Burr, on Tuesday, 4th inst., by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. Many phases of the work were presented and discussed. A new way was "played" for the future operations of the society, which seemed to meet the hearty approval of all present, and with no-doubting inspired its members with a new impetus for the work. Mr. Burr was unanimously re-elected President of the Society, with Walter S. McGary as Vice President. The president then delivered a very touching, deep-meaning and timely address, scarcely being able to suppress the deep emotion of his great heart as he recounted the many gracious Providences through which he has recently been called to pass. All in all, the affair was a most enjoyable one.

The Finest stock of flannel and woolen underwear, at W. R. Coil's, also "Barnard" Shirts and "E. & W. Collins" and other goods in the gent's furnishings.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia, while in the Northern part of that State, during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return, he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. For sale by the St. Bernard drug store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

A Bright Idea. At Chicago this sum- mer the Buffalo Bill Show played to the largest receipts ever known to any one combination in the same length of time. It was a great show. Mr. Darnaby, who is connected with the managerial department of the Wild West is now managing the tour of Marguerite Darvill and Sydney Hughes, presenting that laughable comedy, "A Bright Idea."

Miss Darvill is a very talented and beautiful actress, and created a sensation in London Music Halls several seasons ago, and later appeared with great success in New York City.

Her support is exceptionally good and the fact that the company is under the management of Mr. Darnaby is sufficient proof that it is well worth seeing.

"A Bright Idea" was written for the sole purpose of producing laughter and has certainly succeeded. This company will be here soon at an early date.

For a sore throat there is nothing better than a flannel bandage dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It nearly always effects a cure in one night's time. This remedy is also a favorite for rheumatism and has cured many very severe cases. 50 cent bottles for sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morton's Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

Mr. Wallace Crenshaw spent Sunday in Madisonville.

Mrs. Pauline A. Jones left Saturday for a visit to Paducah, for several weeks with Mrs. P. B. Davis.

Whipping the Devil Around the Stump. One, Mr. Harry Fitton, was brought before Police Judge Cowell, on Monday morning last, charged with peddling without license. Mr. Fitton, although a little man, spoke great swelling words, addressing the Court in a very emphatic as well as abrupt manner, when confronted by the officers of the law, rather scolding the idea that he was a common "peddler." No, sir, said the Zachariah-like man of stature, in a spirit of bravado, not so much as deigning to say: "May it please your Honor." I'm no street peddler, but sell my goods by sample, the same as any traveling salesman; and I represent the firm of A. J. Conroy & Co., of Cincinnati, who have representative houses in all the principal cities in the Union. Therefore, I'll never pay you two cents, much less two dollars a day for the privilege of selling my goods in your town; and if you detain me, I'll make this corporation pay for it." Upon investigation the authorities were convinced that the gentleman in question was simply "whipping the devil around the stump" - seeking to evade the law. Thereupon, County Attorney C. J. Waddill was consulted, and an examining trial held on Tuesday morning, which resulted in binding over Mr. Fitton in the sum of $200, to appear before the February term of our Circuit Court, in default of which the prisoner was remanded to jail. This particular technicality of law, behind which this class of men seek to hide, is a "nut that needs cracking," and should be smashed to atoms by the sledge hammer of intelligence in the hands of the honest representatives of the people, as soon as our next Legislature convenes. It is a matter which affects the mercantile interests of our Commonwealth, the merchants paying a tax both Municipal, State and Federal, for protection along this line. Let's protect our merchants by good and wholesome laws from intruders from their business by this class of "jayhawkers."

Specimen Cases. S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store.

A Bubble That "The under dog may come to naught" be on top the next time," is a title saying. Apropos is the case of the M. E. Church vs. certain offenders, charged with a breach of the peace. On Wednesday night, 20th ultimo, Rev. J. H. Frost called upon to prefer charges against certain unruly characters, who, to say the least of it, behaved themselves in a very ungentlemanly manner at the services on that night. The Rev. gentleman not feeling disposed to see the culprits suffer the extent of the law, reduced the charges to a breach of the peace. Accordingly, on Thursday afternoon (Thanksgiving day) charges were preferred and subpoenas issued to each offender to appear before the Hon. Chas. Cowell, Police Judge, Tuesday evening 5th inst. During the interim, one of the parties took "French leave," "leg bail," "skipped out by the light of the moon," or otherwise, and has not been heard of since; two others "waited" up like little men, confessed guilt, and asked for the lowest fine, while others have constantly buttonholed the minister or the authorities, protesting their innocence or promising better behavior in the future. However the trial arrived and three appeared before His Honor to answer to the charge. Owing to the absence of a number of witnesses on both sides, the prosecution failed to make a clear case against the parties appearing for trial, and the matter was dismissed. His Honor venturing to suggest that "one ounce of prevention would beat a pound of cure" in the long run. Altogether, the boys made a "nine stroke" in this affair, and we trust a reputation will not occur. We are informed, however, that a number of our young ladies acted in a ridiculous manner! Shame on you! The authorities of the church will be on the alert, and are determined to keep order in all the churches throughout the city. Remember the words of our Police Judge, and when you go to church behave yourself.

That entertainment that our young men attempted to get up here last week, fell like a dull ball on a cold winter morning. Didn't you feel the terrific blow?

Our secular and religious newspapers are waging war against the immoral preachers and teachers. Of all the disgusting things we have to contend with, it is an immoral preacher standing in the pulpit, covered with the quagmire of filth, directing our people to live a moral life, and it is equally so with the teacher. Down with such people! Let us have men and women with moral as well as education. They may run well for awhile, but sin will overtake them, and great will be their fall.

The trouble with some people is, they are too lazy to take the lead, or else they are incompetent, but yet they are continually finding fault of those who are trying to do something, and more than that they stay at home when their presence is needed and influence others to do the same.

Miss Sarah McDowell, who is teaching school at Haley, gave a creditable concert last Saturday night.

We read in the American Baptist, where three Negro Justices were elected in Iowa during the surprise party. One in Mahaska county, one in Appanoosa county and one in Guthrie county. The surprising part of the matter is, there are not five voters in the county, and we know by that that they were elected on account of their ability.

The Turner Convention met in Cincinnati last week, and Bishop Turner was elected President of the Convention, which was the proper thing to be done. Beneficial results are promised as a fruitage, springing out from the representatives of the race. "Whether we shall emigrate or remain in the South and wait on the salvation of the Lord," was the question that failed to reach a happy conclusion. Some of the representatives could see through the vapor, fog and mist of despond, a harbinger of glimmering light of the Negro's future in this country, while men with equal popularity firmly contended that the God of equity had lost his virtue for justice and right. So stands the case, awaiting a final decision, "for the mill will never grind with the water that has past." It is said, there are exceptions to all rules, and an exception to those rules of exception. Philosophically speaking, if patiently enduring and suffering marks the line that leads to proper recognition in any civilized government, then the Afro-American's gold-rimmed success will shine out brighter, by reason of our repeated efforts for equality of justice.

Rev. Wm. Morton, of Henderson, passed through here Monday, en route to St. Charles.

Go to-day and see the ladies organize themselves into an educational body for the purpose of aiding the school that is to be in Hopkinsville.
