SCORES HEAVILY FOR HOWARD.

Attorney Smith Tells Supreme Court One Juror Was Examined Without Defendant Being Represented.

Argument in the J. B. Howard case was concluded in the Supreme Court last Monday. W. M. Smith, of Louisville, for Howard, laid special stress on the fact that one of the jurors named Alexander was examined as to his qualifications to serve when the defendant and his counsel were not present. Chief Justice Fuller displayed much interest in this statement, and evidently it scored heavily with the court. Justice Fuller inquired where the examination took place and was told by Mr. Smith at the Capitol Hotel. Several members of the court asked if this is a matter of record and Mr. Smith admitted that it is not, but said that the fact of Alexander's being examined outside of the presence of the defendant is a matter of record.

The right of the defendant to be present during the examination of jurors is such a fundamental one, Mr. Smith contended, that it cannot be waived.

The court gave no intimation as to when a decision may be expected.

BETTER

System of County Roads One of the Important Matters that Should be Looked After Now.

The most important step that the newly elected Fiscal Court of Knox county could take when inducted into office would be that of securing for our county a better system of county roads. This has been a question that the citizens of our county have pondered over for a long time, and as yet have found no relief, and are yet compelled to drag through the mud, year in and year out, when they could and should have good roads over which to travel.

We hope that our Fiscal Court will extend the glad hand of welcome to the citizens of Clay by building a good road from Barbourville to the Clay county line and invite them to come over and enjoy our good roads. We believe that should this road be built the Clay county people will meet us at the line and extend the good road on into Manchester. Now what will that mean to Barbourville and to Knox county? It means that all of the Clay county trade that now goes to London would come here, and thousands of dollars that are now spent in London every year would come to Barbourville instead.

Would that benefit Knox county as a whole? Certainly it would; Barbourville is a part of Knox county, and every dollar spent toward building up the county, no matter in what part of the county it is spent, helps the entire county just that much, and this road would not only help Barbourville as a town, but it would help the country through which it passes more than it would Barbourville.

We heard a good citizen say a few days ago that he would give $500 of his own money to help build a pike across the country in any direction, no matter in what direction it was built. Some one may say how would he be benefitted unless it was built by his lands? My friends, that is not the point. He sees that if one good road is built it will cause more to be built, and if he can succeed in having one good road built across the country it will not be long until others will be built, and besides getting the benefits derived from the one road he would derive benefits from all of them, and in a short time would be good roads leading in every direction.

There have been several campaigns waged upon the question of good roads in Knox county, and yet we have not realized any improvement in their condition, and we are confident there will never be any improvement until the Fiscal Court appoints a man as Road Commissioner whose duty it will be to select proper road sites and see that the various overseers properly work the roads under their charge, and put them in condition for travel, and keep them that way.

Everybody wants good roads, and the public is willing to pay what would be reasonable and right to get them and keep them, and we propose to join with the masses of the Knox county citizens and urge upon our next Fiscal Court this duty they owe to their constituents to give them a better system of public roads.

A little ad in the ADVOCATE may bring you big results. Try it and be convinced.

RED MEN

Initiate Large Class of Pale Faces Into Mysteries of Redmanship.

Last Wednesday evening was a record breaker for Tchopitoulas Tribe No. 111, in the way of work, there being a class of eleven pale faces who were initiated into the mysteries of the Order, as follows: W. M. Tye, L. L. Frost, J. Y. Stansbury, J. C. Williams, W. E. Golden, Charles Fuller, Calvin Martin, H. E. Bradshaw, Ernest Cannon, J. R. Mullens and Thomas Fuller. With such gains as that in membership it will only be a short time until the century mark in enrollment is reached. There are yet others who have petitioned for membership who have not been given the work.

Really, the Red Men are coming, and if you will place your ear to the ground you can hear them advancing on the pale faced nation.

Card of Thanks.

I take this means of publicly expressing my heartfelt thanks to my many friends who stood so loyally to me and supported me in the political campaign just closed, and said by their acts that they desired me to be the Mayor of Barbourville.

To those who opposed me I have no feeling of unkindness, but grant to them the privilege of exercising their rights of suffrage the same as I do myself, and in assuming the responsibilities of the office to which the people have elected me, I shall be the Mayor of the whole people of Barbourville, and not of a set or class. I shall endeavor to look well to the interest of all the people, no matter where they may be located in the city, and try to give to each one the same careful attention that I would ask were the situation changed and I in his place and he in mine.

We have an ideal mountain town, made up of as good citizenship as can be found anywhere in our land. They deserve the very best that can be afforded, and to that end we shall strive to give them the best service, the best public improvements, and the best of everything within our power while we occupy the position as Mayor of our city.

Again thanking one and all for the confidence reposed in me, I remain

Your humble servant,
ROBERT W. COLE.

W. C. T. U.

There will be a meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. W. W. Tinsley on Main street next Monday night. All the old members and as many new ones as will come are requested to be present, as it is the wish to reorganize as with as large a membership as possible.

Partridges in Danger.

Henry W. Bowman, John A. Bowman and Sam T. Davidson left here Wednesday for Laurel county, where they spend a few days hunting quail. All these men are crack shots, and if there are any birds in the section where they visit, they will be in danger of their lives.

Gloves! Gloves!! Gloves!!!

Twenty-five different styles of gloves at England, Ellison's & Co's, at 10c. to $1.50.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Postponed Until Next Sunday Afternoon at 2 O'clock.

The Red Men's Memorial Service, which was to have been held at the Methodist church last Sunday afternoon, was postponed to allow a number of the members to attend the funeral of Mr. Frank Bain, who died at an early hour Saturday morning.

Extra seats will be furnished in the church in order to make room for as many as can possibly get in the house.

The program will consist of solos, duets and choir singing, ceremonies by officers of the tribe and an address by Prof. G. H. Reibold, formerly a member of Miantonomah Tribe No. 162, of Metamora, Ind.

This is the first memorial service of this kind ever held in our town and will doubtless be largely attended.

The public is invited to be present and witness these exercises.

The services will begin promptly at 2 o'clock at the church, and every Red Man is urged to be at the Lodge room at 1:30 o'clock to prepare for the occasion. All visiting brethren are invited to meet with our tribe and join in the parade to the church.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

Following the custom that has become national by its usage, of setting apart one day in each year to be observed as a day of thanksgiving and praise to the Giver of all good gifts, and the privilege of rendering thanks for the abundant crops, the absence of pestilence, the business prosperity, the innumerable mercies and blessings we as a people have been permitted to enjoy, and following the example set by our honored President, Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, I now set apart Thursday, November 30, as a day of thanksgiving, and ask that the people of Barbourville assemble themselves together at their places of worship on that day, and render to God, thanks for the many blessings of the past and implore His mercies for the future.

Done in the city of Barbourville, Ky., this the 15th day of November, 1905.

ROBERT W. COLE, Mayor.

Agency Established.

The latest industry of our town is the establishment of a Realty Company. Those who desire to sell their property, either in town or country, should list it with this company, as they are in much better position to find you a buyer.

For information see E. T. Egland at John A. Black's Bank, and he will give you the information desired.
