LINEN and Mohair ulsters, large lot, also Jap parasols 15 cents each, at Hunt & Doyle's.

At the meeting of the ex-Confederates on Friday evening, the members of "Mr. Marshall's Critter Companies" seemed to predominate.

The material removed from the streets to make the railway bed should be put on Second street extension, that is if it is not all used again.

The storms of the present year will serve as a landmark in history. They have been the most violent and destructive during the century.

The commissions of the magistrates elected last August have been received by county clerk W. W. Ball. The magistrates can qualify at any time after the first Monday in June.

CHARLES COONS, colored, was tried, Friday, before Judge Coons and a jury for shooting at another with intent to kill, without wounding. The jury found him guilty and fixed his punishment at a fine of ten dollars.

THERE never was an enterprise in Maysville that has been pushed forward with as much energy and dispatch as the Street Railway. The manner in which the work is being done has caused much favorable comment.

The electric light exhibited at the Knitting Works Friday evening, was a perfect success. It had none of the objectionable glare of the ordinary electric light and was rather of the character of a brilliant gas jet, but of greater illuminating power. It may be seen again this evening.

The funeral of Mr. Wm. I. Wilson, who died in this city yesterday, will take place to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, from the residence of Mrs. Dimmitt, with the honors of Masonry. The members of the order are requested to meet at their respective lodges this evening to make arrangements to attend the funeral.

The following is the committee selected to take charge of the floral decorations of the graves of the ex-Confederates in the Maysville Cemetery on Tuesday, June 12th.

Mrs. Laura Dimmitt, Miss Annie Atkinson, Mrs. S. R. Brooks, Mrs. A. J. Eganew, Mrs. A. T. Cox, Mrs. T. J. Chenoweth, Miss Sallie K. Hall, Mrs. Sallie Trow, Miss Nancy Wilson and Mrs. G. W. Sulser.

The committee is earnestly requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. Laura Dimmitt, on the corner of Third and Limestone streets, on Tuesday the 29th inst., at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of organization.

The Churches. Rev. A. N. Gilbert will preach at Lawrence Creek Christian Church on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Rev. JERE WITHERSPOON will preach at the Third street Presbyterian church on Sunday next, morning and evening.

Services will be held as usual at the M. E. Church to-morrow morning and evening. Morning text: Matt. VII: 3.

There will be preaching at the Presbyterian Chapel to-morrow. The evening service will be for the benefit of the children.

Rev. M. D. Reynolds, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, will preach to-morrow morning on that difficult text: "Thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my Church."

At St. Patrick's church to-morrow, at the 7:30 a. m. mass, about eighty children will partake of their first holy communion, and at high mass, at 10:30 a. m., they will be confirmed by the Right Rev. Bishop A. M. Toebbe.

The protracted meeting at the Mayslick Christian Church, under the preaching of Rev. A. N. Gilbert, closed Thursday night, with a large audience and an immersion. Fifteen were added to the church during the meeting.

The congregation of the Southern Methodist Church will, by invitation, join in the worship at the Presbyterian Church to-morrow evening, when Rev. Jere Witherspoon will deliver the discourse. Mr. Witherspoon was once a popular and much beloved pastor in our city.

Rev. A. N. Gilbert will occupy the pulpit of the Christian Church to-morrow morning and night. Sermon in the morning on "The Parable of the Prodigal Son." The lecture at night will be on "How to be Angry," founded on Eph. IV. 26, 27. Anger will be considered under the following aspects: Permissively, imperatively, prohibitively and in its limitations.

Meeting of Ex-Confederates.

The ex-Confederates again met at the office of Judge Wall, on Friday evening. The committee on permanent organization made a partial report, recommending the 12th of June as Decoration Day, and suggesting an order of exercise for the day.

After a full discussion, the 12th of June was selected as the day to decorate the graves of the Confederate dead.

Various committees were appointed, and the meeting adjourned until Saturday, June 9th, when all the ex-Confederates in Mason and adjoining counties are invited to meet at the Court House in Maysville, at 1 p. m., to effect a permanent organization of the association.

Accompanying the report of the committee was the following address to the association, by Andrew T. Cox:

Fellow comrades: The purposes for which we are about to organize ourselves into a Memorial Society, appeal to the noblest feelings of our manhood. The memory of the dead is something from which the living refuse to be divorced, and so much the more should we hold in grateful remembrance the memory of our illustrious dead comrades, who bared their breasts with us to the storms of battle and shared with us the honors of our country, and who in the great conflict that is gone, to rescue their country from the hands of those who would have enslaved them, and to perpetuate their memory to our posterity, is one of the prime objects of our association. At this distance from our great civil war, no one will certainly be ungenerous enough to impute to an ex-Confederate soldier any desire to keep alive the bitter remembrance of civil strife or an inclination to do any act incompatible with the honor and glory of our common country. When our great chief, Robert E. Lee, surrendered our arms and extended the word of peace with his right hand, his heart and that of the great southern soldier went with it, and he it said to our praise we have ever since maintained our plighted honor. There is many noble acts of civil war that have been recorded in the pages that relate the deeds of our illustrious dead heroes. After the great and signal battle of Murfreesboro, Tenn., where many a brave and gallant Kentuckian reflected a halo of glory upon the armies of our noble state, Gen. Bragg pronounced an eulogium upon the private soldiers of the Confederate service, the inspiration of which future generations will be urged to deeds of daring, when we, who are here to-night, will sleep in forgotten dust and it will be a memorial to his name that will never perish from the lips of men. It was the first pause we had in our country, and it was a chapter of glory to the memory of the unknown and unrecorded dead.

But, my comrades, the deeds of the common soldier of the Confederate service speak for themselves in a brilliant and noble way on the page of immortal history. As long as manhood chivalry and deeds of self sacrifice are honored among men the event will be remembered in our history. In the great battle of the Wilderness, where the Confederate soldier died with each other in the deeds of noble daring, when Gen. Lee was rushing to the front leading the mighty columns into the fierce charge of battle, it is related there was a pause among the lines when a shout went up from the ranks of the soldiery, "Gen. Lee to the rear, Gen. Lee to the rear."

In the annals of what people upon the face of the globe must be forever a noble sentiment of true manhood. It is well then, my friends, that we honor our dead soldiers who have slept so long in neglected graves among us, and that we hand down to our children some record of their memory. Your committee of arrangements therefore congratulate you and say God speed you in the noble work you have undertaken.

Meeting adjourned until June 1st, 1883. G. S. WALL, Secretary.

J. M. FRAZEE, Chairman.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Geo. W. Sulser has gone to Arizona to be absent about a month.

Mr. Howell Finch and family of Texas, are guests of the Hon. E. C. Phister.

Mr. Sam. McDonald, who is now with Alma & Doepke, of Cincinnati, was in the city Friday.

Roderick Porter, colored, alleged to be one hundred and six years old, died at Augusta, a few days ago.

Maysville District Conference.

To-day, Thursday 24th opened out bright, beautiful and from the immense crowd in attendance upon the Conference and public worship at 11 a. m., the people seemed in as glad a spirit as nature. All were pervaded with a spirit of rejoicing.

Certainly in the spring the country is ravishingly beautiful and to the eyes of a man who has been living in the midst of a city like healing balm. The vast sheet of grass shows from its broad surface light as soft and soothing to the eye as the balmy breeze is to the cheek. Your correspondent is fully abandoning himself to the inspiration of the occasion.

The business of the day consisted mainly of the presentation of reports by the various committees and discussions of the same. Education, Missions, Sunday Schools, all received due and elaborate consideration. Methodist preachers, as a rule, are good at extemporaneous speaking. Their experience in the class-meeting and in the sphere of exhorters certainly serves them well, on the occasion of their conferences. Subjects are ventilated and sounded to the bottom. On account of the readiness of the preachers to present all phases of the subject it is seldom that an unwise measure is voted.

At 10 o'clock by previous order of the Conference the laymen proceeded to the election of the delegates to the annual Conference which convenes at Cynthiana, Sept. 6th. The following are the delegates: J. F. Kirk, of Hebron; J. N. Boulden, of Millersburg; J. M. Strother, of Nepton; W. R. Browning, of Shannon. Alternates: Charles Nute and F. A. Savage.

By vote of the Conference, Mt. Carmel was fixed upon as the place for the next District Conference.

After a hearty vote of thanks for the hospitality of the community the Conference adjourned.

The Conference notwithstanding the exceedingly gloomy weather has been well attended and on the whole seems to have been a pleasant and profitable session.

Both people and preachers have enjoyed it to a great degree. The preachers have done some good preaching and talking and the laymen have made a number of center shots. The people of the neighborhood have contributed largely to this success for their entertainment has been of the highest order. Each delegate thinks his home the best. The kind people of Hebron will long be remembered by the members and visitors of the Conference. Rev. F. S. Pollitt a promising young preacher was announced to preach at 8 o'clock p. m.

Your correspondent owes much for the pleasure of his trip to the kindness of Mr. Ed. Sallee, who has been ever ready to provide to the comfort of his guest.

Several young men in attendance upon the Conference, it is rumored, want to spend a week in this neighborhood soon.

A young man of the name of Kennedy is wanted here.

Miss Emma Goggin, of Washington, was a visitor at the Conference session to-day.

It is said that two preachers has been very sick but no sign of it can be seen at the table.

The chickens, its said, are rejoicing in their youth. Pity they are too young to eat.

Accident Insurance. Accidents will happen in all occupations and situations. They will happen whether you travel or not. They cost money, valuable time and even life.

TO KEEP THE PEACE.

Southern Chivalric Military Men Induced to Cease Their Warlike Demonstrations.

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 24.—General J. R. Chalmers, of Mississippi, arrived in this city Thursday morning and took rooms at Gaston's Hotel. He being well known here, people gazed upon him with anxious eyes as he passed on the street, trying to conjecture what would be the result of the quarrel between him and Galloway, of the Appeal, but he walked quietly about with friends, stopping here and there to speak with those whom he recognized. He passed Galloway at the door of the Peabody Hotel, but said not a word. Yesterday, about 5 o'clock as he passed out of the hotel, Galloway was standing in the door, but no words passed. He went into a clothing store a few doors below, and in the same building, when Galloway passed the store and was arrested by an officer who was watching the movements of both. The officer then went in and arrested Chalmers and took them to a Magistrate's office. Chief of Police Smith, of his own volition and without the aggression of the friends of either party, having sworn out a warrant of arrest. They waived an examination, and the Magistrate placed them each under $1,000 to keep the peace for twelve months. R. F. Looney going on the bond of M. C. Galloway, and R. H. Vance and Captain Stackler Lee going on the bond of General Chalmers. This law proceeding, however, will not prevent the two from going across the river into Arkansas to settle their little matter.

The Avalanche to-morrow will publish a long letter from General Chalmers, in which he says:

"My original charge was that he had falsified his word about a promise made in consideration of old obligations to me. He did not deny this promise and its consequent falsification, but said it was mean in me to tell it, because it was a private conversation." He then proceeds to deny the character of his obligation, and says it was not for writing for him, but for speaking for the Democracy of Memphis. It could make no difference whether he felt under obligations to me for speaking or writing, his promise should have been equally sacred, and the breaking of it was equally false.

Mail Robbed in Transit.

BERMOUR, IND., May 25.—At an early hour yesterday morning the United States mail sack that had been cut open and rifled of its contents was found in a stable in this city. From the fact that the sack was a through one, and such of its contents as remained were dated at Cincinnati yesterday, it is evident that the sack was taken or thrown from the O. & M. west express, due here a little before midnight, and afterward robbed and abandoned. The authorities at Cincinnati were promptly notified, but nothing definite has been learned as to the perpetrators of the value of the matter taken.

General Crook's Operations.

CIBOLA, MEXICO, May 25.—General Crook, with five hundred Mexican Indians and United States troops, left Bovispe, Sonora, on the 6th inst., via Guachera, for the Sierra Madre, having also 140 pack mules laden with provisions. He is making for this State, while the Mexican forces are coming toward him in three divisions, leaving the main body at Casas Yraidas to reinforce when wanted. Since the above date he has been in a section difficult of access and sparsely settled. The Mexican military authorities are very reticent, most probably for a purpose. Those here are friendly to his presence and wish a successful issue of his rearranged plans without any red-tape foolishness. He undoubtedly comes within the treaty limits in that he is pursuing Indians from the States. The friendly attitude of the Federal forces of this State, who are near and would know of and notify the public if any evil should befall him, should allay all apprehension. A woman and two horses have been captured from Chato's band, the McComas murderers. She says this part of the band have not had little Charlie, but another division may have him. Great exertions will be made by the Mexicans for his recovery. The band have been chased to the Sierra Madra. The Indians are scattering. None of the ninety camps or any point within 150 miles of this city, are threatened.

COUNTY POINTS.

MAYSLEICK. Mr. John Caldwell has had his house painted a light stone color. The change from a somber brown makes it appear as bright as a new pin.

Mr. Hamilton Mitchell, of Rodney, Miss., is visiting Mr. Caldwell.

Miss Mary J. Caldwell was out last week overlooking her fine estate, now under the culture and lease of Mr. Elias Collins.

Mr. J. D. Dye, of Sardis, presented his cousin, Hiram Dye, of Forrest Home, with a coop of Plymouth Rock chickens. The hens are good layers and the rooster is a daisy of a fellow.

Mr. John Caldwell has a pair of match coats that are hard to beat. Their pedigrees may be had of Mr. Wm. P. Clark.

Rev. A. N. Gilbert's discussion of "the new birth" was masterly. He is a clear-headed reasoner.

Miss Mattie Given is an accomplished young lady from Maysville is teaching school at M. Hope Academy on the Sardis pike and her patrons are much pleased with her work.

Mr. A. J. Styles, is building a veranda in front of his store residence. This is the home of the preachers on this circuit, and a most delightful visiting point for the numerous friends of Abel Rees and his good lady.

Mr. W. H. Thackston has just completed a well near his home—Bellevue cottage, and now has it full of good rain water.

The venerable Abel Rees is out again after a painful accident which held him prisoner for some weeks.

Mr. H. B. Watson is making many changes on his new premises, the Ike Chalmers place—new fence along the pike, the old barn torn down and still other improvements contemplated.

Mrs. Wm. Chiry has purchased a new organ for Miss Emma. Mrs. Spates is instructing her in music.

Mr. J. T. Reese makes his home in Cincinnati. His lady corresponds to address: Mrs. J. M. care of Globe Tobacco Warehouse. All communications confidential.

News from Bourbon says our old fellow citizen, Ike Chalmers is boring with a big auger—has erected a two thousand dollar barn, for tobacco raising—is running a dairy, has a meat shop, half dozen boarders at his house, a governess for his children; and is the happiest man in or near Millersburg. You bet!
