THE June estimate of the wheat crop of Illinois, made by the State Board of Agriculture, is 15,000,000 bushels. The May estimate was 20,000,000 bushels. The Michigan crop is estimated at 22,000,000 bushels, which is 10,000,000 less than the crop of last year.

THE Presbyterian General Assembly has voted down a proposition to organize a temperance society. The New York Sun in commending the assembly for this act says: "Civil society, however, may reasonably regulate the selling of intoxicating liquors, not because the business is disreputable, but because experience shows that it is likely to be injurious to the public if left to take its free course. And the best method of regulation so far devised seems to be high licenses."

THE Rothschilds own $400,000,000 United States bonds, or nearly one quarter of all the bonds that are out. They are said to have invested this heavily for the reason that the political and social systems of Europe are in an uncertain condition. Vanderbilt is still the largest American holder of U. S. bonds, though the amount in his name has decreased during the last year from $50,000,000 to $37,000,000. Mrs. A. T. Stewart has $30,000,000 and Mr. Flood, of California, $15,000,000.

Craft to Hang.

The Court of Appeals has confirmed the decision of the Carter Circuit Court in the case of Ellis Craft. The counsel for the convicted man will have thirty days to file a petition for a rehearing and after that point is decided the Governor will fix the time for the execution. The Court of Appeals will adjourn next Saturday and if a petition for a rehearing is filed it can not be decided until the court meets in September. The court has given the case a full hearing and there is no reason to fear that the petition will cut any figure in the case, or that Craft will not be hanged thirty days after the petition is refused by the court. The full text of the opinion will be found in another column.

Ellis Craft vs. Commonwealth of Kentucky.

The following is the opinion of the Court of Appeals as delivered by Justice Hines: This is an appeal from a sentence of death on a conviction for murder. The case was here before on an appeal from a like sentence and reversed because of the failure of the court to properly instruct the jury as to the weight to which the testimony of an accomplice is entitled. Opinion delivered September 12, 1882, and to be reported. On the first trial one Ellis, an accomplice, testified on behalf of the Commonwealth, to the guilt of appellant, but died before the last trial, in which trial the Commonwealth gave in evidence to the jury the statements of Ellis, made at the former trial. Appellant then offered testimony to the effect that Ellis, subsequent to the first trial, had stated that the evidence given by him on the first trial incriminating appellant was false. This evidence the court rejected and the correctness of that ruling is the only question we need now inquire into on this appeal.

In this state it is settled, in harmony with the adjudications in the majority of states, that before evidence can be adduced to impeach a witness by proof of statements contradictory of what he has testified, he must be inquired of as to such statements, with circumstances of time, place, and persons present. This rule is established in civil cases by the code, and in criminal prosecutions by an unbroken line of decisions.

It is insisted for appellant that this rule does not apply where the witness sought to be impeached is dead. In this state there is no reported case in which the question has been presented, but there are numerous cases in which the evidence of a deceased witness, in both by deposition and orally, has been reproduced, and this fact is strongly persuasive that such impeaching testimony has been uniformly considered incompetent, since it could not have been introduced without making it an exception to the well established rule that the witness sought to be impeached must first be inquired of as to the circumstances of time and place of contradicting statements. The reason of the rule is that the witness attempted to be impeached may have an opportunity to contradict or explain such alleged statements. Such evidence is an exception to the well recognized rule that hearsay evidence is not competent, and is only admitted upon the condition that this opportunity of contradiction or explanation be had. If such an exception were made to the general rule excluding hearsay evidence, there would be a strong temptation to the fabrication of evidence by which important and true evidence might be destroyed. An exception to this rule has been contended for in the admission of the declaration of a deceased witness to a deed or will, in disparagement of the evidence afforded by his signature, but has been disallowed. (Greenleaf on Evidence, Sec. 126.) Even in an ex parte proceeding for the probate of a will, where the opposite party has no opportunity to cross examine the witnesses, the courts have refused to allow the deceased witness to be impeached by proof of state in conflict with his evidence given under oath. (Ranney vs. Price et al., 18 Ohio State.)

In the case of Stacy vs. Graham, 14 N. Y., 498, the testimony of a witness had been taken de bene esse and read on the trial, whereupon the defendant offered to prove conversations with that witness after his examination, in which he confessed that his evidence, was false, that it had been given under threats and that he regretted having testified as he had. The court refused to permit the impeaching testimony to be heard, and in the opinion said: "Nor can we, in the present case, admit a distinction founded on the circumstance that the admissions of the witness were made, as alleged, after he had been examined. I can not perceive that the reasons on which the rule in question is founded lose any of their force in such a case. And not only do those remain unimpaired, but there is an additional one to be found in the temptation held out to tamper with witnesses after their evidence has been given. I can conceive of nothing more dangerous in principle than the doctrine contended for. When a witness has been examined and cross examined if we allow him to be approached afterward and delarations to be drawn from him inconsistent with his testimony and then receive those in evidence without the protection which the rule affords, there will be no safety in the trials. When the first experiment of this kind shall be sanctioned by the courts, there is no doubt that it will be often repeated and with greater or less success."

It does not matter that in the present case the witness sought to be impeached was an accomplice, notwithstanding the fact that under our code his evidence is not admissible unless corroborated. When his evidence is corroborated he occupies the same attitude of any other witness, so far as the method of contradicting or impeaching him is concerned. In this case there is corroborating evidence sufficient to have the jury to consider the evidence of an accomplice, and the jury are the sole judges as to what weight should be given to such corroborating testimony.

Judgment affirmed.
