The Scottish Religious Riots—More About the Carey Murder.

SCOTLAND.

SCOTLAND, Aug. 21.—The quiet restored at Cotesbridge by the reinforced police was of short duration. At an early hour the riotous demonstration was again renewed with vigor and determination.

The narrow, crooked streets were densely crowded, and for a time for the police to stem the tide of battle seemed futile.

Clubs were used on every hand and the air was filled with missiles. The crowd was moving toward the Monkland Canal, when the mounted police made a terrific charge upon the belligerents, many of whom were trampled under the feet of the horses, while others were driven into the canal. Several badly wounded persons were taken to the hospital, and many arrests were made. Although the police was augmented it is still too small to check the riot.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Advice just received from South Africa state that O'Donnell became aware of Carey's presence through a paragraph which was published in the Capetown papers. He immediately commenced drinking, and while in a saloon in that city, was heard to denounce Carey and declare that he would swing for him if he got a chance.

Having made this threat and intent on killing Carey, he took passage by the steamer Melrose Castle for Port Elizabeth. The shooting was done in the fore cabin, O'Donnell waiting for such an opportunity as would present no possibility of interference or failure. The first two shots were fired in quick succession, both penetrating Carey's back. He staggered and partly turned, and the third and last shot struck him in the throat, when he fell.

The blood from the wound in the throat spurted in a powerful but jerky stream, and covered the wall and furniture in a most horrible manner. Mrs. Carey, with a scream, jumped at O'Donnell and clasped his arms in an attempt to prevent him from firing again. O'Donnell pushed her gently aside and said:

"Shake hands, Mrs. Carey, I didn't do it."

He then quietly sat down and remained perfectly still until the officers of the vessel placed him in irons, and Carey was quickly lifted from the floor and placed on the cabin table, where in a few minutes he died without uttering a word.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Times' Alexandria correspondent says: "If the British troops should be withdrawn from Egypt no European family would remain in the country a week after their departure."

Egypt, he says, is incapable of self-government.

MEDICATED WELL-WATER.

A Specific for Dyspepsia and Diseases of the Kidneys.

Has been used with most gratifying success in many obstinate cases. Prof. F. W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati says this water "belongs to the same class with that of the Alleghany Springs, of Virginia," the medicinal virtues of which are too well known to be stated here.

Those who desire to try this famous water are referred to Captain C. W. Boyd, Levanna Ohio; Captain C. M. Holloway, Cincinnati, Ohio; J. J. Ralpe, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale in half barrels and jugs by GUS. SIMMONS, Proprietor, Aberdeen, Ohio.
