

A PICTURESQUE POLE.
With a Beautiful Title, Only Too Much Married.

A Connecticut Heiress Would Buy Herself a Foreign Nobleman For a Lap Dog, and the Very Bad Bargain She Made—A Romance of Two Worlds Built on the Old, Old Story.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 28.—William Wallace is one of the wealthiest men in the Naugatuck Valley, and the proprietor of a large manufacturing establishment in Ansonia. He has but one child, a daughter, who has received a careful and liberal education. In 1880 she went to Europe, and there met a Polish Count named Osterog. He could speak only French, and she only English. He was engaged in the photograph business. They were attracted by one another, and each set about learning the language of the other. Miss Wallace returned home in the spring of 1881 to obtain the consent of her parents to her marriage with the Count. He was sent for and came by the next steamer. The parents and friends of the girl were not particularly pleased with his personal appearance, but the wedding came off, and for a time the couple lived at the bride's home, moved in the best society in Connecticut, and visited the family relatives of the Wallaces. At length the Count and Countess returned to Europe, and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace went thither themselves last winter to spend the season with them. They stayed in Paris, and the young American Countess was the center of a fashionable circle. Suddenly the father, mother and daughter came homeward bound, leaving the Count behind. Satisfactory excuses were given in Ansonia for his non-appearance and no suspicions were aroused. Gradually, however, it became known in the family circle of the Wallaces that there was some trouble, and that news from across the water was not in every way satisfactory. Now the rumors have escaped beyond the family circle and have become the town talk. Careful search, it is asserted, has brought out the fact that the Count is already the possessor of two wives in France. An attempt on the part of the Wallaces to get a divorce revealed the facts. The proceedings for a divorce are now being rapidly pushed. The family regret that the facts have become public, but they say they expected that such must be the case if justice was to be obtained.

A Young Virginian Commits Suicide on His Wedding Day.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 28.—C. E. Kuhn, painter and paper-hanger, a native of Virginia, came to Atlanta fifteen months ago. He was a young man of good address. Three weeks ago he left Atlanta for Front Royal, Va., for the purpose of marrying and intended to return to Atlanta with his bride. To his employer he made known the object of his visit to Virginia, and was presented with a handsome testimonial. This week Mr. Mauck received a letter from Kuhn, in which he gave the day of his intended arrival in Atlanta. With the letter came an invitation to the wedding of Charles E. Kuhn to Miss Ida E. Pritchard. On the day designated Kuhn's friends repaired to the depot to meet him. He did not come. A telegram from Luray set forth that Kuhn was to have been married at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. As he did not appear at the breakfast table his friends, who were to have been his attendants, went to his room, in the Central Hotel, to awake him, in order that he might prepare for the ceremony. Repeated knocks on the door failed to elicit response. An entrance was forcibly effected. There on the bed, that upon his back, with eyes and mouth wide open, lay the intended groom, dead. A bloody gash across the throat and pen and razor in his right hand told the story plainer than words. An inquest was held, but no cause for suicide could be obtained. Miss Pritchard was so shocked by the sudden death of Kuhn that her mind is greatly impaired. It is thought Kuhn was suffering from financial troubles.

The Glass Blowers' Strike.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 28.—A gentleman connected with the glass works of D. O. Cunningham & Co. was interviewed in regard to the published statement that a meeting of the green glass manufacturers was to be held in Chicago, said: "There is no such meeting called, and Mr. Cunningham did not start for that purpose. Moreover, there are no indications of the manufacturers giving in to the men. Even at the proposed reduction, the glass blowers can make $4.50 per day, and that is good wages. The men must accept the situation and that is all there is about it."

Bob. Ingersoll and Civil Rights.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—In response to a call signed by Fred. Douglass, B. K. Bruce and other leading colored men, Colonel Ingersoll will repeat his speech on the Civil Rights Act, next Friday. In the language of the call, "It will require such burning words as fell from your lips to arouse the moral sense of the Nation to the enormity of this practice of treating colored people in hotels and on the public highways of the country."

Cotton in Arkansas.

HELENA, Oct. 28.—Reports continue to come in stating that as picking progresses the outcome of cotton is much better than was hoped for a month ago. Rain and general bad weather for two or three days have somewhat interfered with gathering the crop. A heavy frost, which is nightly expected, will cause all unharvested bolls to open, and a short piece of good weather will see the entire yield safe in gin houses and on its way to market. Receipts at this point are liberal, and good prices, fully up to Memphis and St. Louis, are paid.

Fatal Mine Explosion.

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 28.—An accident in the Citizen's Coal Mining Company's shaft resulted in the serious injury of Peter Standacker, George Werten and George Sottice. The explosion of a blast fired a keg of powder in the apartment where the three men stood. Their clothing was ignited and the flesh burned from off their faces. It is thought they may recover. Sixty other men in the mine were badly shaken up.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.
"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882."

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.
"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most efficient remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882."
"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRAGDON, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.
