

A MOB AFTER COURTNEY

Indignant New Yorkers Pursuing and Howling Like Mad.

Crying "Shoot Him!" "Hit Him With a Brick!" "Take Him Out and Drown Him!"

New York, June 2.—When the movements of the oarsmen at Oak Point indicated that the race would be postponed the crowd became indignant. A big Irishman near the boat house shouted out: "Av yese don't have a race we'll be afther tearing the hull boat on down about ye." Then the crowd moaned dismally and eddied about and gave expression to the delight it would afford them to get a hold of Courtney. This had a strong effect on Courtney but he only said:

"I have not been ordered out. It would be a swimming match. No one could row outside."

The crowd tried to get up to the boat-house windows to shout their long-restrained indignation, but Sergeant Keating drove them away until their numbers became large enough to swamp him, and he had to call for help. At one time Courtney put his head out. The roar of yells edged with hisses, that greeted him made him close the door quickly. Dressing himself he told a policeman that he wanted to go to the hotel. Sergeant Keating and twelve men formed in line about the doorway, and Courtney stepped out. Then the crowd rose up and howled. The grand stand was emptied, the pavilion was deserted, the pier was left vacant, and all gathered in the rear of the oarsman and his escort. Up the hill they ran on all sides of the blue-coated squad except the front, howling, groaning and hissing.

"Shoot him!" "Hit him with a rock!" "Take him out and drown him!"

The few who remained along shore, with thousands in boats, devoted their energies to cheering Ross, who spouted about in the rollers in fine shape and finally started off to accept the invitation to "row over the course, me by." He pulled out nearly half a mile from the shore, found there were some waves there, and then rowed back again. His return was cheered, but the bulk of the crowd, both on land and water had started homeward.

Of the many sporting men, none present attracted so much attention as a trio composed of pedestrian Rowell and pugilists Mitchell and Cleary.

HINCKLEY IN MEXICO.

A Detective Let Him Get Away When He Was Making in That Direction.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 2.—On Tuesday last a telegram from Pinkerton's Detective Agency, in New York, was received by the Chief of Police of this city, asking him to board the steamer Juniate upon her arrival here from Philadelphia, and arrest a cabin passenger registered as W. A. Smith, but who was in fact defaulting Paying Teller W. S. Hinckley, of the West Side Savings Bank, of New York.

It was learned that Smith, of Ohio, who was the only cabin passenger, corresponded exactly with the description of Hinckley. As soon as the boat made fast Hinckley, having his satchel, hurried ashore and walked up the street. The local detectives traced him as far as the Georgia Central Railroad depot, but could follow him no further, as a train left for Atlanta about the time Hinckley reached the depot. It is believed that he boarded it and continued his journey to Mexico via New Orleans. No effort was made by the detectives here to head him off by telegraph, as they were not under instructions to do so.

REPORTED IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, June 2.—A person giving the name of Harris, arriving a few days since, has been fully identified as Hinckley, the defaulting teller.

No Money For Jurors' Fees.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 2.—The jurors called for the June term of the United States Court of the Southern District of Illinois have been notified not to come here. The cause is a notification from the Treasury Department that there is a lack of funds to pay witnesses' and jurors' and marshals' fees, the regular appropriation for that purpose being exhausted. The banks have offered Marshal Tauner plenty of money on his own responsibility, but would not loan to the Government, as the United States pays no interest on money borrowed to conduct its business. The Marshal therefore decided to await the next appropriation, which will probably be available in July. In the meantime all prisoners arrested, or now in custody, will have to lie in jail to await a jury. The Court will continue in session, but without a jury.

A Newspaper's Trouble.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The News-Journal newspaper, which was to have been sold at public auction yesterday, was not sold, because as claimed by the stockholders, and as held by the Court, Chas. M. Steele, receiver, had injured the value of the property by reason of his conduct in the management of the paper, and his publicly declared determination of starting a two-cent morning paper. At the request of the stockholders the sale was therefore set aside as a matter of protection to their interests. Mr. Steele resigned the receivership, and Geo. Ward Nichols, of the College of Music, an old New York journalist, was appointed receiver.

A Triple Drowning.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—James Kennedy, aged twenty-two, living on Front street, near Parsons, and Phillip and "Red" Hampton, aged fourteen and twelve, sons of James Hampton, residing at 543 East Front street, were drowned by the upsetting of a skiff in which they were taking a ride at the foot of Washington street yesterday evening about 5 o'clock.

High River Predicted.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., June 2.—The Mississippi River has risen a little over two feet at this point within the past eighteen hours, and last night was ten feet above low water mark. It is predicted that it will be equal to that of 1881, as the snow in the mountains is heavier than ever before known.

Death of Mary Adams.

New York, June 2.—Mrs. Mary Adams, the widow of Edwin Adams, the actor died yesterday.
