Uncertainty as to the Poll of the Republican Members of the Legislature

ON SENATORIAL QUESTION

The Canvass Is Proceeding
Very Slowly.

VERY LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED

Some Promises Said to Have a String to Them

In the Upper End of the State the Sentiment Among the Regulars Favors the Election of Col. H. A. du Pont, But There is a Strong Addicks Feeling Among the Regulars in the Lower Part of the State.

While it is a matter of public knowledge that a canvass has been in progress among Republican members of the Legislature, during the past few weeks, with respect to their attitude on the matter of electing a United States Senator in the event of a special session of the Legislature being held, comparatively little is known as to the results. A prominent member of the Regular Republican party—in fact one of the State officers chosen at the last election—told a reporter of Every Evening yesterday that he had been watching the matter pretty closely, but, so far as he knew, all he could learn, comparatively little way had been made.

Reports from the lower part of the State, to the effect that Addicks had been elected, are not to be taken too seriously. It is true that Addicks has been making a strong showing in the lower part of the State, but it is understood that the efforts of most of the workers in this end of the State are being bent in the direction of turning up more sentiment in his favor, but in the lower part of the State there appears to be a feeling that in the event of all of the Republicans agreeing to stand by the decision of the caucus, Addicks would win. Nothing has happened in this end of the State—that is, among the pronounced Regular Republicans—to indicate that they would be willing to go into a caucus unless Addicks should be considered out of it at the start. This is about the situation. The want-to-win-at-any-cost element is straining every nerve to exact promises from the legislators that they will abide by the caucus decision, and they want this promise without a string to it, but it is understood that comparatively little headway is being made on this line.

It is pretty generally known that it will be necessary to lay all of the ground-work on a firm foundation before there can be any hope of a special session, for Governor Lea has indicated that he has given no encouragement unless it can be shown to him that there is a certainty of a result. It is absolutely certain that he will not put the State to the expense of an extra session of the Legislature unless he knows that something can be accomplished.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ENTERTAIN.

An Enjoyable Event at the Grand Opera House Last Evening.

The pupils of St. Paul's Parochial School gave an entertainment last evening in the Grand Opera House, for the benefit of the school fund. A drill by the boys, dance by Misses Mary M. and Marion Lynch, rose drill by 32 girls, followed by boys and chorus "Good Night," were all worthy of special mention.

ADDICKS RESQUES HIS YACHT.

Makes Part Payment on Judgment and Averts Sale by Sheriff.

New York, May 10.—The steam yacht Vision, owned by J. Edward Addicks of Delaware, was not sold at auction yesterday afternoon at Jacobs' yard, at Long Island, as Addicks' representative arrived before the first bid was called on his property and made a partial payment on the judgment of $178,822 which the sale was to satisfy. The auctioneer accepted the part payment, with the proviso that the remainder would be duly sold if the remainder was not forthcoming in a reasonable time. The Vision was recently seized by Sheriff Porjes after Mr. Jacobs had brought suit for $876,12 for repairs to the yacht. Addicks refused to pay the bill and judgment was rendered for that amount, with $300 legal fees.

TO VISIT HARRISBURG RED MEN.

Minqua Tribe, No. 8, Imp'd O. R. M., will pay a visit to Pokoson Tribe, No. 31, of Harrisburg, Pa., on September 1st, and will remain in that city until Labor Day, September 3d. Arrangements for the trip are being made. An association has been formed to assist in the preparation, and on Tuesday, May 15th, the association will have a benefit at De La Salle's Theatre. Pokoson Tribe, on a recent visit here, presented a handsome banner to Minqua Tribe, which was exhibited at the jewelry store of Charles F. Rudolph.

Augmented Choir at Calvary.

A strongly augmented choir will sing in Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church on Sunday morning. Mrs. Clark, who sang recently at the New-Century Club, has resigned her position as soloist at the Church of the Resurrection, in Philadelphia, to help her brother, the rector of Calvary Church, on Sunday mornings. Other voices, including basses and a tenor, have also volunteered to help.

CIRCUS DAY NEAR.

Local Interest in the Coming of the Barnum & Bailey Show.

The near approach of circus day accentuates interest in the notable list of arena features announced for the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which is to come to Wilmington on Saturday, May 12th.

The new "Peace" spectacle, which serves as an introduction to the triple-ring performance, is described as quite the cleverest and most brilliant display of the kind ever attempted. The military character afforded by the Russo-Japanese war, in it is said, taken advantage of in a way that leaves nothing to be desired, while the introduction of the allegorical element into the story gives an opportunity for utilizing scores of pretty and shapely girls in costumes of gorgeous coloring and striking picturesqueness.

The spectacle, although it is, is declared to be simply an introduction to an arena performance of exceptional merit and novelty. During the nearly three hours performance in the big hippodrome pavilion, the three rings, the two stages, the aerial spaces and the great racing track are said to be vibrant with the novel feats and displays of 300 artists from all parts of the world, hundreds of horses and scores of wonderfully trained animals, including elephants, sealions, dogs, sheep and ponies. There are, it is claimed, in a novel big thrillers. The first, Le Tourbillon de la Mort or "The Limit," creates excitement by introducing a young and pretty French automobile, who rides a somersault-turning automobile through space; the second, "The Dip of Death," serves to exploit the daring of a courageous young American girl, who rides 40 feet through the air in an inverted auto-car; and the third presents the Boiler Boys in sensational mid-air revolutions on bicycles.

Among the announcements for the regular-circus company are—The Troupe Carmen, in a novel big thrillers; the Imperial Viennese serialists; the Steves' aerial tumbling; the Florenz, La Mont, Grunath and Castrillon Troupes of acrobats; a long list of well-known riders, headed by Les Rowlands, a company of French equestrian acrobats, who utilize a tally-ho coach with four running horses for their various exploits; Josie DeMott, the only lady somersault rider; the Ray Thompson troupe of trained menage horses, troupes of educated sealions, dogs and ponies; three herds of acting elephants; a company of 40 fun-makers, introducing Spang, Johnson, Ryan, Zorilla and Bartlett; Innocent and Albertino; the Brothers Kennard; Dan Marville and other popular clowns; a newly-equipped hippodrome, and what is declared to be the finest collection of rare, wild animals on this continent.

The Barnum & Bailey engagement should make a new record in this city for big crowds and popular interest.

TO HELP THE BLIND.

International Sunshine Society Will Aid in the Movement.

On Thursday evening, May 3d, Cynthia's Helpers branch of International Sunshine Society accepted an invitation of the philanthropy committee of the New-Century Club to attend a meeting held in the club parlors in the interest of the blind.

The branch will meet this evening, at the residence of Mrs. B. F. Shaw, Eighteenth street and Boulevard. A full attendance is desired, as ways and means of helping the blind will be discussed.

The society would like to have a wheel chair for a cripple, a young woman, who suffers greatly from pain and weariness aggravated by the lack of a comfortable chair. She is so deformed by rheumatism that a special chair would have to be made to order. Saving money is usually a slow process, but very slow indeed, when there is no income, as in this case. The price of the chair is $45. Sunshine would like to give her a joyful surprise and asks "Who will help?" All contributions for this purpose, no matter how small, will be gladly received by the chairman of the press committee, Miss Winifred Weldin, 204 West Eighteenth street.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Grand Army Making Plans for an Appropriate Observance.

Preparation is being made by the various parts of the Grand Army of the Republic for the usual celebration on Memorial Day, May 30th, but the arrangements have not been completed.

Although there is considerable objection among the veterans to parading, there will be a parade. The principal objection is to parade and that it is a hardship on them. Sheridan Post, for this reason, stopped parading several years ago.

In the morning of Memorial Day the different posts will assemble at Grand Army Hall, Third and King streets. Each post will be assigned to visit certain cemeteries where veterans of the Civil War are buried and place flowers on their graves. The parade will take place in the afternoon.

The Prohibitionists of Delaware will hold their State convention in the New-Century Club Building, in Dover, Thursday, May 17th, at 10.30 a. m. It is their purpose to nominate a State ticket and to make a strong protest against the corruption at elections, and the faithlessness of recent Legislatures in temperance and reform measures. The convention will be open to and invites the co-operation of all in sympathy with these objects. To help in arranging for the convention from New Castle county, a convention will be held in the Board of Trade room, in this city, next Saturday, at 2 p. m., to which all interested in the object are invited. Rev. A. W. Lightbourne of Middletown will deliver an address on the outlook.

NEW-CENTURY CLUB ELECTION.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the New-Century Club was held yesterday afternoon and resulted in the election of Miss Lucy Bancroft for president; Mrs. Frank Morton Jeter, first vice-president; Miss Martha P. Derickson, second vice-president; Miss Edith S. Danforth, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Wentz, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John C. Robinson, federation secretary; Mrs. William A. Barr, treasurer, and executive committee, Mrs. C. W. Weldin, Mrs. George W. Sparks, Mrs. Peter T. Wright, Mrs. Gertrude C. Pyle, Mrs. E. T. Warner and Mrs. William P. Chandler. The treasurer reported a balance in the club treasury of $161.77.

After the reading of the report of the corporation treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Weldin, Mrs. A. D. Warner remarked that in the early days of the club's existence its business side was very important and prominent as the question of a club home was a crying one. But since we have owned our house and have had an efficient body of managers to attend to its interests the majority of club members, especially the new ones, have little knowledge or interest in that important side of club life, and the board of directors, desiring to awaken such an interest, appointed a committee of five, consisting of Mrs. A. D. Warner, Mrs. L. C. Vandegrift, Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, Mrs. C. Wesley Weldin and Mrs. Charles L. Kent to keep the subject before the club at suitable times. The board of directors have been able to steadily decrease the indebtedness of the corporation from its original sum of a $10,000 mortgage and $3,000 of floating debt, besides purchasing additional ground for $1,000 to its present sum of $11,400, but as the club is now about entering on its 18th year they feel it is time to go farther and put the club on a dividend-paying basis, which would be possible when it shall have been reduced to $10,000. With the hope of hastening this desirable state they trust the present stockholders will feel like increasing their holdings, as all stock purchased goes to the reduction of the mortgage.

In the intervals of voting for officers the annual report of the club's proceedings was read by the corresponding secretary and directed to be printed in the club's year book. Mrs. Danby, chairman of the civic committee, gave notice of the meeting at 8 p. m. on June 4th at the clubhouse to be addressed by Dr. Flick and Talcott Williams in the interest of a "White List" of goods made under healthful conditions. The meeting is under the auspices of the civic committee and of St. Barnabas Guild. The delegates to the State federation of clubs at Seaford on Thursday and Friday of this week were instructed to invite the federation to meet in Wilmington next year. Mrs. Trump, chairman of the hospital committee, said the committee would be glad of donations of flowers for the installation on Wednesday next, when after the ceremonies there will be a lecture-recital, "Joel Chandler Harris" given by Prof. Paul Morton Pearson, which will be followed by a reception.

The Excursion Season.

Many local Sunday-schools and other organizations are arranging for their annual excursions. Many excursions from other places will come to Shellpot and Brandywine Springs Parks. A number have already been booked. Many of the excursions from this city will be given over the railway lines and by the boats of the Wilmington Steamboat Co. The first moonlight excursion arranged for the season is that of the Free Zoo on the Wilmington Steamboat Line on June 5th.

City Market House Co.

The following directors were elected at the meeting of the City Market House Co., which was held in the Fame engineering last evening: E. J. Hughes, F. Lee, J. D. Thompson, F. E. Marshall, J. H. Joslyn, John Wallensmith, A. T. Garvey, James Cornish, W. H. Reeves. The directors subsequently met and elected J. H. Joslyn, president; John Wallensmith, vice-president; J. D. Thompson, treasurer, and W. H. Reeves, secretary.

Preparing for Mercantile Fair.

Many of the merchants and others who have taken space at Brandywine Springs Park, for the purpose of exhibiting there during the industrial fair, which is to be held from the 30th of May to the 9th of June, have begun to get their exhibits in shape, and in two weeks the work of putting up the exhibits will be well under way.

SEARCH FOR A MISSING BOY

Dr. S. L. Byers of Indiana Appeals to Local Men.

LOOK FOR THE LAD HERE

Supposed to Have Been Stolen by Gypsies.

He Disappeared From Seelyville on May 29th, 1904, and is Supposed to Have Been Brought in This Direction—Father Has Exhausted His Means in the Search.

Local members of the Modern Woodmen of America have been asked by Dr. S. L. Byers of Seelyville, Ind., to institute a search for his son, who was stolen from the Indiana town two years ago. The lad is supposed to be in the possession of a gypsy band and an impression prevails that he was brought in this direction, but whether he is now or has been near Wilmington has not been ascertained.

The boy who was 6 years old last July is of light complexion, has grey eyes, the left eye is noticeably crossed, there is a small V-shaped nick in the edge of the left ear, he has a sharp chin and a narrow, projecting forehead. He is rather small, but talks like an older boy.

Dr. Byers appeals to the Woodmen, as he is a member of that order. Walter J. Young, registry clerk at the postoffice, who brought the matter to the attention of a reporter of Every Evening, is an officer of one of the local camps and he has taken great interest in the matter. He makes the request that if anybody in this locality notices a strange boy around Seelyville, they notify some member of the order. A reward of $500 has been offered by Dr. Byers for information leading to the recovery of his son.

According to information received by Mr. Young, the lad disappeared about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on May 29th, 1904. He was about his home in Seelyville at that time, but left, presumably to join some other children. Later he was seen by a woman, talking with a strange man. The stranger disappeared and so did the boy.

Five wagons passed through the town that afternoon, presumably belonging to a band of gypsies, but when the band reached Terre Haute, eight miles away, there were six wagons, and the presumption is that the boy was in the sixth wagon, which, in all probability, went toward Seelyville. The five wagons passing through the latter town were examined, as it was thought the boy was in one of them, but he was not found. When it became known that there were six wagons an effort was made to come up around them, but without success.

Dr. Byers has exhausted his means in his search for the boy and he is now traveling about the country, a fund of $1,300 having been subscribed in Indiana for that purpose. It is likely that he will come to Wilmington, but he is in the north and the event of information being obtained here that is of interest to him.

TOLD OF THE EARTHQUAKE.

An Interesting Lecture by Mrs. J. Ward Dunning.

Those who attended the lecture in Union M. E. Church, last evening, heard a graphic description of the San Francisco earthquake and fire by Mrs. J. Ward Dunning, who went through the disaster. Mrs. Dunning formerly lived in Wilmington, but during the past few years lived on the Pacific Coast, where her husband is engaged in business.

At the time of the earthquake Mr. and Mrs. Dunning were living in a six-story apartment house in San Francisco. The building was of modern construction, but, the speaker said, it was shaken to the very foundations. Mrs. Dunning and her husband were saved from being crushed by falling debris by a folding bed, which partially closed and protected them. The shaking, she said, seemed to continue for minutes, instead of seconds. She and her husband fled from the falling building in their night clothes. There was not a room in the house that was not wrecked. Mrs. Dunning said she saw an entire block of 16 stone houses wrecked and in the yard of one there were four bodies which had been taken from the wreckage. The streets were almost impassable because of the accumulation of debris and it was with difficulty that one walked through them. A row of shanties she saw broken into pieces and thrown to the ground. Another house, the speaker said, was crushed almost up to the roof by the falling debris. After she and her husband had recovered from the shock they concluded to visit the two stores of which he was manager. One of these was demolished but the other was intact. The fire broke out close to the wrecked store. Mrs. Dunning said she saw a sick woman standing upon the sidewalk with her husband and children. The husband offered to go into the wrecked house and get a wrap for her. Before he could go in the building fell, crushing him beneath tons of heavy material.

SICK ROOM NOTES.

Making and Changing an Invalid's Bed—Other Comforts for the Patient.

By Lillian Mason.

The invalid's bed must be made with great care, as it may become displaced easily by restless movements and even a small wrinkle will irritate the weak sufferer. The mattress should be of hair and the sheets large. Tuck the lower sheet firmly under both top and bottom of the mattress. Fold an extra sheet double lengthwise and lay it across the bed with the upper end just touching the pillows and the end drawn tightly under the mattress at the side. Some nurses like two mattresses, a common one under the hair mattress, and in this case the extra sheet can be pushed firmly between the two at the sides. This extra sheet will not wrinkle easily and can be changed without trouble. It is sometimes called the draw sheet. Fold the upper edge of the spread under the blankets before turning the sheet down at the top. In this way the bed is kept in order more easily.

The linen on an invalid's bed must always be changed every two or three days and sometimes once a day. Everything that is needed must be well aired in the sun or by heat and then laid where the hand will reach it without going across the room. Move the patient as far as possible to one side of the bed, untuck the under sheet and cross sheet and push them toward the middle of the bed. Have a sheet ready rolled the long way and lay it on the mattress, unfolding it enough to tuck in at the side. Have the cross sheet folded as described and roll it, also laying it over the under one and tucking it in, keeping the unused portion of both still rolled.

Move the patient gently over to the side already prepared, draw away the soiled sheets and unroll the clean ones and tuck them in on the other side. The coverings need not be removed while the sheets are being changed or the invalid exposed to the air. To change the upper sheet take off the spread and lay the clean sheet over the blanket and pin to the bed at the top of each side with a large pin, like a safety pin. Stand at the foot of the bed and draw out the blanket and soiled sheet. Lay the blanket quickly back in position, put on the spread, roll it under the edge of the blanket, turn down the top of the sheet after taking out the pins and the bed will be in perfect order and the invalid will not have been fatigued. Change the pillow cases last.

TO CHANGE THE BODY LINEN OF AN INVALID.

Have the fresh garments well aired and close at hand. Draw the arms out of the garment, slip the clean one over the head and by the same movement draw it down and remove the other one at the feet.

BATHING AN INVALID IN BED.

Do not uncover too large a portion of the surface of the body at once. Pin a large blanket round the shoulders, using safety pins and fastening it behind. Remove the night dress under the blanket, patient, also. Put the hand under the blanket and sponge the skin, a small part at a time, taking care to have the sponge squeezed nearly dry. Dry with a towel, then sponge another portion.

AN INVALID'S HAIR.

A woman's hair should be combed gently every day and be kept plaited in two braids. Use a coarse comb and if

HOME DRESSMAKING.

Hints by May Mantion.

5347—Yoke and Bodice Girdles, Small, Medium, Large

The tiny coats that have become so popular and the very general adoption of the short waisted effect have combined to make girdles essential fastenings of the wardrobe. Here are a number of attractive and shapely designs that can be utilized either by the separate belts or for those that are made of material to match the costume.

No. 1 is cut in eight sections, which are joined at the edges, the seams being stitched with beading silk, and is closed at the centre front. No. 2 is extended to a point below the waist, but forms a round outline above and is made in six sections, the seams over the hips being so curved as to provide perfect fit. No. 3 is differently shaped from either of its predecessors and can be opened at either front or back while it can be made with or without points. It consists of ten portions and each seam is bonded to keep the shape. No. 4 is made over No. 2, which is used as a foundation, and is softly shirred and draped, the closing being made invisibly at the front. Any one of the plain girdles can be cut off at the waist line if the yoke portion is not desired.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is for either No. 1 or 5, 5/8 yard 21 1/2 yard 27 or 3/4 yard 44 inches wide; for No. 2, 5/8 yard either 21 or 27 or 3/4 yard 44 inches wide; for No. 4, 1 yard any width. The pattern 5347 is out in three sizes, small, medium and large, corresponding to 22, 26 and 30 inch waist measure.

Patterns can be had from May Mantion Pattern Co., 252 East Twenty-third Street, New York, and W. H. SMITH & CO., 300 a piece, 12c by mail.
