Joyful News.

The Jaffray receiver's sale is the cause for this happy occasion.

We were heavy purchasers at their sale. The result is evident in our Dress Goods Rooms. The counters and shelves are crowded with the newest fabrics at prices much less than we ever dreamt of selling such materials for right in the beginning of seas .

All-wool Mixtures and Checks,

38 inches wide—goods that retail at 39c and 50c. There are only 20 pieces in the lot. They have the look and feel of the higher-priced goods. To-morrow's price,

25c yard.

All-wool French Serge,

In Black, Navy, Red, Garnet, Gray, Tan, Mode, Reseda, Myrtle, Old Blue, Brown and many other shades. We never heard of these retailing for less than 45c so far as we know, except over our OWN counters. We took all that Jaffray & Co. had, thus enabling us to make them

27c yard.

54-inch Covert Cloth,

In Tan, dark and medium; Gray, Green and Brown. Extensively used for tailor-made gowns. You'll hardly believe your own eyes. Never a yard ever retailed for less than 75c. To-morrow,

33c

Only two pieces of each color, so hurry.

52-inch Cheviot and 52-inch Storm Serge.

These goods are made of high-grade wool, and are not to be confounded with trashy stuffs usually linked with cheap prices. We own all that Jaffrey & Co. had. 75c is their real worth. They come in Navy Blue only.

50c yard.

52-inch Vigoureux and All-wool Coaching Twills,

In mixtures of Gray, Tan, Old Blue, Brown and Illuminated effects. These were $1 and are worth $1 yard. The shopping public have never before been treated to such value.

50c yard.

46-inch Luster Finish Henrietta,

In Old Rose, Navy, Myrtle, Gray, Tan, Pearl, Reseda, Brown, Old Blue, Cardinal, Bluet, Heliotrope, Cream and many other desirable colors. Would be good value at 75c. Only

50c yard.

38-inch Covert Cloth and All-wool French Jen-

In Red, Brown, Tan, Navy, Gray and Myrtle. Never a yard of these goods retailed at less than 40c. There'll be a rush for them at

25c. yard.

All-wool French Whip Cord,

In Navy, Tan, Myrtle, Red, Garnet, Old Blue, Reseda, Brown, Gray and many other desirable colors for spring. Not a thread in these that is other than wool. On inspection your judgment will tell you they're worth 59c. For to-morrow, only

33c. yard.

All-wool Navy Blue and Brown Storm Serge.

The identical fabric we had such a big run on last season at 50c. We'll give you fair warning—there's only 10 pieces, no more when these are gone. As long as they last,

32c. yard.

75c and 87 1.2c Imported Novelties.

At least 100 pieces, displayed on two separate tables. Among the styles are Checks, Stripes; Illuminated Effects and Mixtures. The most beautiful color blending imaginable. You can take your choice at

59c. yard.

60c. and 69c. Novelties,

In checks, stripes, beautiful mixtures -- crepons, melanges, covert cloth, and many other desirable fabrics.

50c Yard.

Out-of-town folks can order by mail.

Plank Shad on the Green Lawns.

The second plank shad dinner of the season will be given this beautiful Easter Sunday by the Marshall Hall Steamboat Company, and every person that enjoys plank shad dinners should not miss this rare treat, and especially the way they are cooked on the green lawns of Marshall Hall. Besides being a very pleasant way to spend Easter, there are numerous attractions that will amuse the young and old folks. The ladies of Washington are especially invited on these trips. The palatial steamer Charles Macalester will make two trips to-day at 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

Planked shad at Marshall Hall to-day. Macalester at 11 and 2 o'clock.

ACADEMY OF FORTY.

Brainy Women Have a Two Hours' Conversation About Mistakes.

The Academy of Forty met last Monday evening, and in spite of the rain, a goodly number of bright and cheery women made their way to the Wimodaughsis parlors, and spent two hours delightfully in conversation about "mistakes."

The society received three new members: Mrs. Sarah A. Spencer, Miss Emma M. Gillet and Mrs. Dickie Lee Shipp, all of whom were regarded as desirable accessions. In the preliminary business meeting, a flower, a badge and a motto for the Academy were discussed, but no decision was reached. Judging from the enthusiasm of this magnetic circle, the Academy will be sought, as one of the restful mountaintops of this busy city, miles on miles above the dead level of the sea of daily toil and trial.

Already the Academy has its imitators for Mrs. Byron Sherry, having read the notices in The Times, is engaged in organizing similar clubs in Chicago. If this work prospers, there is hope for the perpetuation of the English language in its purity, and the Boswells of the future will not be like the Boswells of the present.—listeners, "out of a job."

The May session will be directed by Miss Belle C. Morris, and the topic, "Charity."

TURNED IN A FALSE ALARM.

Louis Kane's Carelessness Cost Him $25 and Annoyed the Fire Department.

Louis Kane and Melville Tucker, well-known young men, were in the police court yesterday charged with turning in a false alarm from the keyless fire alarm box on the corner of Ninth and F streets northwest. After hearing the evidence of Policemen Garraway and Kimmell, Kane was fined $25 and Tucker was released.

The alarm was turned about 3 o'clock yesterday morning and several companies responded. It was the second false alarm from that box within the past three days, and Policeman Garraway was on the alert. He saw the two young men loitering around near the corner, and, suspecting that they were going to turn in the alarm, kept his eye on them.

In a few minutes he heard the gong sound, and he promptly went over and arrested them. Kane said that he turned the handle accidentally while fooling with the box, but Mr. Garraway declared that the handle could not be turned so easily. Tucker was several feet from the box when the handle was turned.

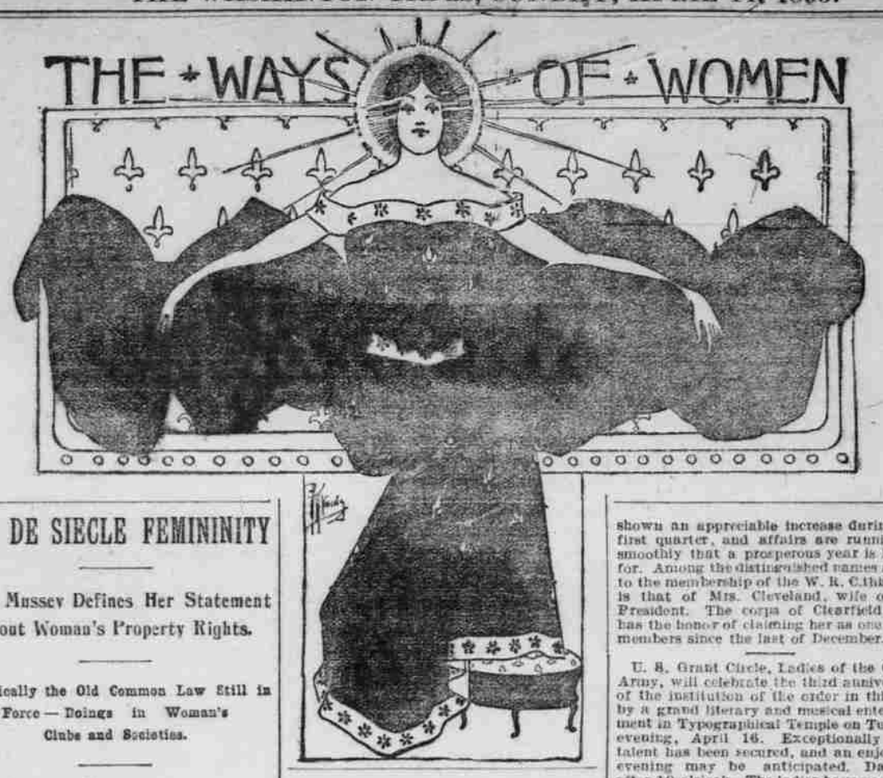
Painter Arrested for Petit Larceny.

James M. Allen, a painter, twenty-one years old, was arrested last night by Policeman Vandewalker and locked up at No. 2 police station house, charged with petit larceny. The arrest was made on complaint of Robert Lavender, of No. 1222 Sixth street northwest, who said that Allen stole a bunch of bananas from him at the O street market.

Not A. G. Beamer.

The man arrested at the house of Julia Gallagher Friday night was Andrew Bahmer, and not A. G. Beamer, of No. 1 F street northwest.

THE WAYS OF WOMEN



FIN DE SIECLE FEMININITY

Mrs. Mussey Defines Her Statement About Woman's Property Rights.

Practically the Old Common Law Still in Force — Doings in Woman's Clubs and Societies.

Editor Times: Will you kindly confer another favor upon the District Federation of Women's Clubs by noticing an omission in its summary of the first part of my address given Wednesday night before that organization. I defined in the words of the statute of 1869 a married woman's separate estate as "consisting of property, real or personal, acquired before or during marriage in any other way than by gift or conveyance from her husband," and also added, that save for Married Woman's Property Act of 1869, the laws in force here relating to married women were practically the old common law.

While that act has not been much criticised, and limited by the decisions of the court, yet it was the first progressive step, and I am proud to remember that my husband, the late Gen. R. D. Mussey, was instrumental in securing at so early a date a partial recognition of the property rights of women and the securing to them the power to dispose by will of their separate estates. E.S. MUSSEY.

Columbia Chapter, D. A. R., held its annual meeting on Tuesday, at No. 1337 L street northwest, Miss Sarah Adgate Lipscomb, regent, in the chair.

The meeting was conducted under parliamentary rules, in which the members appear well posted.

Reports from the officers of the work accomplished during the past year were read and accepted, and the officers thanked for their services.

Some arrangements were made looking to a course of historical lectures to be delivered before the chapter next season.

The chapter then proceeded to the election of officers with the following result: Regent, Miss Sarah Adgate Lipscomb; vice-regent, Mrs. Mary Davenport Chenoweth; recording-secretary, Miss Mary Stevens Sensabaugh; corresponding secretary, Miss Carrie Mildred Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Jesse Davis Stakely; registrar, Mabel Godfrey Swormstedt; historian, Mrs. Anna M. Stillwell Coleman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Winston Hendrick is chairman of the local board of management, and the other members of the board are Mrs. Sally J. Broadus, Mrs. Hattie L. Scribner, Mrs. Willie West Harris-Martin, and Miss Leta Bryan Stakely.

The membership of the chapter now numbers thirty-three, among whom are Mrs. Nellie Grant-Sartoris, and Miss Mildred Lee.

Ten or twelve applications are pending; these have been accepted by the charter council, but the papers have not yet been filed with the registrar.

Continental Chapter, D. A. R., will hold its next regular meeting at the Oxford Hotel on April 15, 8 p. m.

Hon. William E. Curtis will make the address of the evening.

Mrs. Longfellow-O'Donohue, Miss Jeannie O'Neal Potter, Miss Alice Judson and others will contribute to the entertainment with recitations, songs and instrumental music.

A class for the study of parliamentary law has been organized by some ladies under leadership of Mrs. Martha S. Strickland, who has given much study to the subject and is an accomplished parliamentarian.

Mrs. Strickland lectured last week to a number of ladies upon parliamentary organization at the Strathmore Arms and made the subject so very interesting that Miss Mary Deahn, of this city, at once proposed the formation of a club or class to study, systematically, parliamentary law.

Mrs. Strickland will lecture on Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. Clara Berwick Colby and all ladies interested in the subject are invited to attend.

The class will meet at Strathmore Arms next.

The Department of the Potomac, W. R. C., is making things hum. It has been discovered that there are school buildings in Washington above which the flag, furnished for the purpose, does not float, principally because a folded flag could not accomplish that feat. At the last meeting of the council a committee comprising Mrs. Eliza P. Naylor, Mrs. Charlotte Kibbey and Mrs. Mary A. North was appointed on patriotic teaching and instructed to learn the reasons for the neglect to float Old Glory.

Mrs. Indiana Cowling, past president of the department, Mrs. A. J. Neale and Mrs. Cornelia Wilkerson were appointed on the pension committee. Mrs. Martha Burgess was appointed chief of staff, with an efficient corps of aids. The work of establishing the Woman's Relief Corps Home of the District of Columbia is to be pushed as vigorously as possible.

The funds on hand will be augmented during the summer by entertainments, and it is hoped, by donations, that the home will be a possibility by fall. The officers of the home for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Susie McCabe, president; Mrs. Mary M. North, vice president; Vina Calhoun, secretary; Mrs. Sarah J. Neale, treasurer. The department president, Mrs. Anna Hamilton, and secretary, Mrs. Nannie G. Davis, are trustees by virtue of their offices.

The office of department corresponding secretary has been abolished by order of the national president. Mrs. Emma R. Wallace, and that of department press correspondent substituted. Mrs. Isabel Worrell Ball has been appointed to fill the office for the ensuing year.

The membership in the department has shown an appreciable increase during the first quarter, and affairs are running so smoothly that a prosperous year is hoped for. Among the distinguished names added to the membership of the W. R. C. this year is that of Mrs. Cleveland, wife of the President. The corps of Clearfield, Pa., has the honor of claiming her as one of its members since the last of December.

U. S. Grant Circle, Ladies of the Grand Army, will celebrate the third anniversary of the institution of the order in this city by a grand literary and musical entertainment in Typographical Temple on Tuesday evening, April 16. Exceptionally good talent has been secured, and an enjoyable evening may be anticipated. Dancing after 10 o'clock. The ladies have prepared a handsome illuminated souvenir programme for their patrons on that occasion. The entire proceeds will be devoted to their charity fund for the relief of old soldiers, widows, and orphans. Comrades should come out and help in the good work.

BURIED 'NEATH FLOWERS.

Last Obsequies Over the Remains of Mrs. Adelaide Thom.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Adelaide Thom, wife of Samuel Thom, took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, and were attended by a large concourse of relations and friends of the family. Her death occurred at the home of her mother, at No. 105 F street northeast.

The services were held at St. Aloysius' Church, the Rev. Father Dolan officiating. The floral offerings were numerous, the casket being literally covered with beautiful tokens of remembrance.

Mrs. Thom was the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late P. H. Sweeney. She leaves her husband and two children, a son and daughter, to mourn an irreparable loss. Naturally of a sunny disposition, the deceased had won many friends, and their kindness was fully manifested in their solicitude for her comfort during her last illness. Her bereaved relatives desire to express their gratitude for the many bestowed.

The pallbearers were J. A. Diggs, C. T. Rose, Harry Thom, W. Hobbs, John Husband and M. D. Rose.

The interment was at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

DEATH OF WALTER NICHOLSON.

He Was the First Topographer of the Post-office Department.

After a long period of declining health, Mr. Walter L. Nicholson, the first topographer of the Post-office Department, died at the residence of his son-in-law, Dr. Davis, yesterday morning. Mr. Nicholson, who held the position of topographer for twenty years, was well known in Washington scientific circles.

He came to this city from his native home, Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1856, at the request of Prof. Bache, then superintendent of the Coast Survey, and filled a responsible position there seven years. In 1863 he was selected to establish the topographical section of the Post-office Department, a position which was then of great importance to the government. He held this position for about a score of years and then retired, after which he engaged in scientific work.

Mr. Nicholson was a son of William Nicholson, a noted Scotch artist, one of the founders of the Royal Scottish Academy. He leaves two daughters and a son, Dr. William Nicholson.

The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at No. 1013 Sixteenth street northwest.

IN THE INTEREST OF ART.

Mural Painters Organize to Foster Development of All Ornamental Work.

New York, April 13.—The mural painters of this city have formed an organization for the promotion of the delineation of the human figure in its relation to architecture and to foster the development of all ornamental work.

In order to further the objects of the organization it is the aim of the society to hold competitions and provide lectures on the subject of mural painting. The society also has in mind the question of advocating what they term rational decoration for all public buildings.

The officers of the organization are: President, John La Farge; treasurer, D. Maitland Armstrong; secretary, Charles M. Shean, and corresponding secretary, Charles R. Lamb.

Dispute About a Fee.

Judge Cox yesterday granted an injunction to restrain Secretary Carlisle from paying and Charles Brownell from receiving a fee of $1,883 now due from the Government for prosecuting certain Indian claims before the Court of Claims. The complainant in whose favor the order was made is Michael Colbert, as administrator of the late Gen. James W. Denver. Gen. Denver associated himself with Mr. Brownell and furnished him the money to prosecute the inquiries necessary to establish the validity of the claim. It is now claimed if the fee were paid to Brownell the estate would not be able to secure its share.

Two Brothers on a Spree.

Michael and Dennis Daley are brothers, aged thirty-one and thirty-two respectively, and last night they went to the O street market and Dennis purchased a large shad. When they left there Mike proceeded to get very drunk, Dennis keeping pretty well up with him, and holding on to his fish. They got very disorderly after a while and Policeman Auldridge corralled them near the market and piled them into the patrol wagon. Mike turned a big bottle of whisky over to Driver Murphy with an earnest injunction that it be carefully kept for to-day.

Funeral of Judge McComas's Father.

Hagerstown, Md., April 3.—F. C. McComas, father of Judge Louis E. McComas of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was buried here to-day. The cortege started from the home of his son, Mr. Henry A. McComas, and services were held in St. Paul M. E. Church. The interment was at Rose Hill cemetery.

A large number of neighbors and friends were present and followed the remains to the grave. Judge McComas, Mr. N. Carroll Downs, clerk in his court, and other Washington friends were here.

Public Temperance Meeting.

At the regular meeting of Goodwill Council No. 9, S. of J., held Friday evening, April 12, it was decided to hold a public temperance meeting at their hall, corner Four-and-half and G streets southwest, to-day, at 3 p. m. Good speakers will address the meeting.

His Sanity Doubted.

The case of William Rowley, who is now in jail pending a hearing as to his sanity, was yesterday set for next Tuesday.

'TIS RESURRECTION MORN

Spring Dons Her Robes to Greet the Festal Day.

ALL NATURE IS ONE SMILE

Ecrean Blasts Give Way to Gentle Zephyrs and Blossoms Revel On the Sward—In Bush and Tree Birds Warble Hymns of Praise, While Choral Chant and Organ Note Tell of the Risen Christ.

This is the day of the festival commemorative of the resurrection of Christ and observed in the Roman Catholic, Greek, Anglican Lutheran, and other branches of the Christian church. The name of the festival in English is from the Anglo-Saxon Eostre, a goddess of light or spring.

The day, though not so in an astronomical sense, for it is weeks since that the sun entered Aries and the earth rolled into Libre, is by custom made the great divide between the blasts of winter and the blooms of spring; when the regime of King Frost ends, and the reign of Queen Flora begins.

It is spring's inauguration day, and in its honor, the trees of town and country are donning robes of leaves; bright blossoms are waking from their beds of moss; brooks are murmuring soft applause; the birds are joining in the chorus; and the God of the Delphic Fane is gilding all creation with a golden sunny glow.

ALL WINTER'S SCARS ARE GONE.

Out in the country all the scars of winter have been overgrown with green, jeweled with violets, blue as a sweetheart's eyes; spangled with dandelions golden as her hair, and scented with anemones as tender and as gentle as the youth from whose blood Venus thought they grew.

The only winter colors that remain are the perfumed snows of the dogwood and wild haw. Peach and pear, cherry and apple boughs are breaking out in pink and white; the tawney tassel of the sassafras swings and sways, and clusters of wild, red honeysuckle are lighting the south side of the hills with burning buds.

Poplar, birch, and maple, myrtle, elm, and linden are beginning to unfold, the oak seems yielding to the leafing mood, and the graceful willows, that bow under the caresses of the winds and sigh a dirge to every passing breeze, are making foliage gowns of yellow-green. The ivy, pine, and cedar have shaken off the crystals of the skies and taken on a sheen as though happy the rigors of the winter are no more.

Bleak old gum trees, around whose trunks the coon dogs yelped for months, are coming around to drink the nectar of the April clouds and be cheered by the kisses of the sun. Rough-barked persimmon trees are togging up to help receive the season. The locust and magnolia are searching their souls to bring forth spotless crowns of white to deck themselves at Nature's carnival of spring, and the multi-rooted silver poplars are freighted with caterpillar buds.

ALONG MURMURING STREAMS.

Tulip tips, flags and ferns are peeping upward on the margins of the tinkling streams, and the spicewood shows a willingness to blow. Acres of fresh-ploughed ground are venting pungent scents, and bronze-faced, sturdy-sinewed planters are sowing what they would reap.

In the deep and undisturbed woodlands feathered choirs are singing the praises of the day. The redbird, the chewink and the linnet are carolling their gladness in their own peculiar way, and the only notes that seem unhappy are the piteous piping of the rain-crow and the woeful warble of the sad-tongued thrush.

Song is bursting from every bush. Bees are stirring to fitch sweet juices from the bosom of the clover-bloom, and the swallow, the oracle of spring, is on the wing.

In the city the parks are being gemmed with jonquils, narcissus, crocus, hyacinth and tulip bulbs. Gay throngs, clad in rainbow hues, promenade the ways, glad chimes ring out from heaven-pointing spires and Easter carols sound from every side.

EASTER SERVICES.

Elaborate Musical Programmes Arranged for St. Mary's Chapel, St. John's Parish.

The following Easter music will be rendered at St. Mary's P. E. Chapel, St. John's parish, Twenty-third street, between G and H streets northwest, to-day. Rev. Oscar L. Mitchell is the priest in charge, and the lay readers are Eugene L. Henderson and Wm. G. Avaut. Processional hymn, 368; "Christ, Our Passover," Schilling; Psalms, 2, 57, 11; "Gloria Patri," chants, 290, 140; "Te Deum," Meitake; "Jubilate," W. Patten; "Introit," hymn 112; "Kyrie," Tours; "Gloria Tibi," Tours; Hymn 116; sermon; anthem, "Christ is Risen," Banks; offertory; recessional hymn, 110; holy communion, Tours' Communion Service in F; Hymn 228.

The vested choir consists of Masters Harry Saunders, Merle Saunders, Hiram Gray, James Gray, Roscoe Gray, Leon Turner, jr., Charlie Turner, Howard Johnson, Joseph Hill, Ralph Ridgely, Fred Crusoe, Ridgley Dyer, Alonzo Saunders, Ford Dabney, James Mahoney, Charlie Stuart, Willie E. Reed, Hayward Jennings and George Pryor.

The unvested choir is composed of Mrs. Lula Joy Brooks, Misses Priscilla Marshall, Lula Warner, Georgie Makall and Florence Carter, soprani; Miss Cora De Neva, alto; Mr. Harry Wythe Lewis, tenor, Miss Cecil Frances McKee is organist and musical director, and Mr. A. E. Brodie choirmaster.

At 4:30 p. m. there will be a carol service by the children of the Sunday-school, Mr. Parker N. Bailey, superintendent. An address will be made by Rev. W. V. Tunnell, warden of King Hall.

She Wanted Clothes for Easter.

Amelia Baptist evidently made up her mind a few days ago that she was going to have a complete wardrobe for Easter Sunday, but her methods of securing the desired outfit were contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided. She was in Judge Miller's court yesterday on two charges of larceny, one of a coat from Rachael Montgomery, and the other of one pair of shoes, one dress, one apron, and one waist from Carrie Norton. In both cases she was ordered to return the property, and sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or go to jail for fifteen days. As the fines were not forthcoming she will probably spend the showery month in jail.

Appointment of Administrator.

Mr. Louis Shoemaker is named for administrator of the estate of Ann M. Jones, who died February 28, 1895, by the petition filed yesterday by her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Barnes. The other heirs are Mrs. Louise Pearson, Andrew P. Jones, and the children of John Jones, children and grandchildren. The personalty amounts to $7,100 in real estate, notes, and furniture.

Marriage Licenses.

Licenses to marry were issued yesterday to the following: William E. Parker and Sally Grayson. Thomas C. Weaver and Mollie Boswell, both of Montgomery Co., Md. Joseph A. Yates and Elizabeth Kern, of Baltimore. William E. Oliver, of Erie, Pa., and Gertrude Clark. Henry D. Fry and Ida B. Lindsay. Frank S. Lerch and Dorathea Doehrer. Warren King and Gertrude M. Barr, both of Anacostia.

Case Continued Indefinitely.

The case of Augustus L. Grimes, charged with violating the fishing regulations, was again called in Judge Miller's court yesterday. After a partial hearing it was continued indefinitely.
