

All $10, $12, and $15 Suits at $6.25.

The Buying will begin early this morning. How long the $6.25 lot will hold out depends upon your buying. Wouldn't be surprised if you cleared us out in a couple of days. This is the balance of this season's $10, $12, and $15 suits—which we have been running at $8.25.

Now to Go at $6.25.

We'll be followed as a matter of course. You'll notice that ever since we began business we have always led off—the first to cut the prices and give you the benefit of all lower prices in the wholesale market. We have been as quickly followed by the others—but imitators naturally get little or no credit for doing what honest competition compels them to do. We give you a good, big line to select from. We do not put a couple of fine suits in the window marked at a low price and then tell you we haven't your size in that particular suit when you call for it. We stoop to no such tricks. You can depend upon getting just what we advertise—or getting your money back.

GENERAL BOXING GOSSIP

Dark Outlook for the Fistic Fraternity in New York State.

Manager Kernan Closes His House. Eureka Club Will Pull Off Some Good Contests in Near Future.

The outlook for the boxing fraternity in New York is certainly not of the brightest. For the present, at least, no contests will be held at Coney Island. It is doubtful if this move on the part of the reformers will be productive of the good desired as the stopping of the scientific bouts under the supervision of reputable associations only serves to bring about the vicious private contests.

Plans are now on foot to pull off the Hall-Chapman battle, which was to have been held at the Seaside Athletic Club last Monday night, in private. Warren Lewis is behind the project and if it is carried into effect a vicious battle will likely be the result.

The fight that has been pulled off up the Hudson when the way of reform has swept over the metropolis has nearly all been of the bloody order. Too often have they ended in a free-for-all fight that would have resulted in a clubhouse.

Now that Manager Kernan has closed his nightly boxing exhibitions there will be a falling off in the interest taken in the local boxers unless the Eureka Club steps into the breach and puts on some attractions. As their re-opening fight when they had Howard Watson and Jack McLean on, the sporting fraternity did not offer them the support necessary to make a success of such exhibitions.

It was a first night, however, and the first-class contest that took place should prove to the locals that really good bouts can be pulled off successfully. If the managers of the Eureka should take another try there is no doubt but what they would draw a good house. The bout is scheduled to be pulled off in this vicinity will be the McLean-Randy contest, and as both men will train faithfully it should be a good go. The bout is scheduled for August 6.

If Tony Stannard could be induced to bring McLean down here again and have him weigh in at 125 or 130 pounds, Howard Wilson would give him the fight of his life. The great amount of weight that the local had given him when they last met counted strongly in McLean's favor. The mistake that was made was in not having a front point for weight.
