ELECTRICITY.

The Great Growth of the Electrical Business.

A few years ago $1,000,000.00 would have covered the total amount invested in the electrical business, today there is over $800,000,000.00 invested in the same.

The whole history of the business world shows no parallel for such an extraordinary growth. We mention below a few examples of the great and marvelous increase of electrical companies.

General Electric Co.

is paying today over 60 per cent to original stockholders. We believe that the Neely Electric Co. in the same time will do equally as well.

Westinghouse Electric Co.

is paying the original stockholders dividends amounting to over 70 per cent. Why should not Neely Electric Co., with its brilliant prospects, do equally as well.

The Western Electric Co.

a few years ago was a small company, and it had great difficulty in disposing of its stock. Today it is almost impossible to buy this stock at any price, as the dividends to the original stockholders are enormous.

We know of no reason why the stock of the Neely Electric Co. should not in a short time be in equal demand.

What Edison Says:

"I have no doubt that within a short time electricity will be generated direct from coal, and when this occurs, the whole business and manufacturing world will be a blaze of electricity."

Subscription Blank.

I herewith subscribe for 100 shares of the preferred Treasury stock of the Neely Electric Company, at par value of $1.00 per share. I am to receive absolutely free with the above 100 shares of the preferred stock an equal amount of common stock, worth $100.00.

Are You a Depositor in a Savings Bank?

The most reliable savings banks pay only 2 per cent on deposits. The Neely Electric Co. last year paid four times this interest, or 8 per cent in cash, to its stockholders. In addition to this an earning of 15 per cent more was made, which was voted to the Treasury of the company to be used in expanding its business.

We particularly invite subscribers from savings banks depositors for the reason that $100.00 invested in the Neely Electric Co. stock will pay more interest than $400 deposited in the savings banks.

These Are Facts, Not Prospects.

It is impossible for you to find a better investment than the stock of the Neely Electric Co., a home enterprise. THESE ARE FACTS AND NOT PROSPECTS.

NEELY ELECTRIC CO.

An Incorporated, Manufacturing, and Electrical Supply Company.

Neely Electric Co. started business in August, 1900, at 1320 G Street northwest, Washington, D. C. In a small old-fashioned frame building, with a limited stock of electrical supplies, covering a floor space of 1,000 square feet. At the end of the first year the earnings of the company were 23 per cent, from which 8 per cent dividend was declared and paid in cash to the stockholders.

The Board of Directors voted the remaining 15 per cent to the Treasury fund to be used for expanding the business. Today, 18 months after starting, we have the most complete electrical department South of New York.

Occupying the new commodious building, 611 Fourteenth St. N. W., covering over 12,000 square feet of floor space. This establishment has the best and most modern facilities for operating the electrical business.

This business is not confined to a local one, but it is national and international; they are United States Government Electrical Contractors, and supply not only the U. S. Government, but Foreign countries also.

Stock of Neely Electric Co.

A limited amount of Preferred Treasury stock is now offered for subscription at par, $1.00 per share, and with each share of the preferred stock is given absolutely free a share of the common stock, which is also worth one dollar per share.

INSURGENT ATHLETES REJOIN THE A. A. U.

WILL BENEFIT LOCAL ATHLETICS

Y. M. C. A. in Inter-City Contests. Institute Teams in Shape—The Easterns Withdrawal From Basketball League.

The legal papers necessary for the dissolution of the Middle Atlantic Association which was incorporated in Baltimore nearly three years ago, have been filed in the Circuit Court in that city and will be acted upon shortly.

A No difficulty is expected in securing the dissolution of the athletic association as it has no liabilities and is on a first-class financial basis. The application contains the reasons for the dissolution of the association and was signed in proper form by all the officers.

It will be remembered that the association was composed of clubs in Baltimore and its vicinity and the Woodside Athletic Club of this city, all of which seceded from the Amateur Athletic Union and formed an organization independent of its branch, the Atlantic division, because it was not given representation on the board and was otherwise not properly represented by the parent body. It was successful from its inception and gave numerous big indoor and outdoor meets.

At last month's meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union the organization was given a hearing and its petition to be given representation was granted and "all is well" as is shown by the filing of the dissolution papers.

Will Seek Readmission at Once.

Pending action by the court, a meeting of the association has been called for the purpose of preparing the necessary petition for readmission into the ranks of the Amateur Athletic Union.

According to the resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union last month five of the "insurgent" clubs must unite in a petition for readmission. This petition will be signed by all the clubs involved which includes the Maryland Athletic Club, DePaul Athletic Club, Peabody Outing Club, Park Athletic Club, and the Woodside Athletic Club of this city.

The petition will be presented to the Atlantic division of the Amateur Athletic Union through its president, Dr. R. Merrill Hopkins, and from there, if found to comply with all the requirements, it will be sent to President Babbs, of the Amateur Athletic Union, for action at a special meeting of that body.

So ends a merry athletic war.

Athletics at Y. M. C. A.

There will be no ball in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on account of the holidays. On the contrary, there will be increased activity, a series of games in basketball and baseball will be played as a part of the holiday entertainment programme.

The Volley ball team, which is putting up a splendid game, is desirous of arranging games with teams outside of the Association, and will take on the Corcorans as soon as they are in shape.

The indoor baseball team will play a return game of the inter-city series with the Central Y. M. C. A. on January 4.

The District Indoor Baseball League will resume its series January 4 with a game between the Y. M. C. A. and Arlington Wheelmen in the association gymnasium.

The next contest in the series for the all-around team championship will be held January 19 and the events will include:

First—Vault for height from flying rings with a run.
Second—Two standing broad jumps.
Third—Rear vault, left and right over long horse.

The team standing in the all-around contests to December 20 follow:
Captain Fowler's team, 800 points.
Captain Gleason's team, 754 points.
Captain McIntyre's team, 683 points.
Captain Richardson's team, 634 points.

The individual standing on the same date found Gleason leading easily with 328 points, while Stabler his nearest competitor with 283.5 points. The others are: Zuercher, 252; Fowler, 246; McIntyre, 224.5; Summers, 191.5; Ludwig, 182.5; Bateman, 180.5; Spaulding, 180; Pritchard, 172; Richardson, 168; Cheselnie, 151; Decker, 152; White, 136; Hughes, 149; Kerr, 132.

Carroll Institute Gymnasium.

Winning the league game of basketball from the Young Men's Christian Association last week has entitled a lot of much needed confidence in the Carroll Institute players and from now on they may be counted on to do all the work their earlier practice showed they were capable of.

Thompson at right forward of the team is doing the best work of his life. His goaling is one of the features of every game in which he plays. As captain of the team he gets good work out of his men and is a valuable man to have around him.

John Murphy, the right back of the team, and pitcher on the indoor baseball nine, is another valuable man. He plays hard at all times and is a clever point guard.

Bernard Harding, a jolly 200-pound player, is in the game at all times and makes a splendid "forward" and, like Murphy, is a stayer until the last whistle. Ralph Whitten, who plays leftward like a veteran, is clever also with the gloves.

The second team, which is selected from among the following players, Box, Bill Brown, Phillips, Kirby, Kerr, Holbrook, and Brooks, is ready to play any team in the city not in the District Basketball League.

The Juniors are playing a fast game and are ready to meet any local team whose players do not weigh more than 150 pounds. The Second Juniors are also ready for games with teams not heavier than eighty pounds average. Communications upon the subject may be addressed to Prof. M. A. Joyce, care of the Institute.

Corcoran Under Corps.

As many of the members of the Corcoran Under Corps are busy at night during the holidays, practice and all sorts of work has been almost entirely cut out at the Guards' Armory. Regular practice will be resumed Monday, December 30, when the corps meets for the last time in 1901.

Through an error the name of Moriarty, the very capable captain of the Corcorans basketball team, was mentioned last week as of the line-up of the Eastern Athletic Club team. The captain is in fact a member of the Corcorans and he will play with no other team so long as his company remains in the game. He and Captain Clark of the baseball team, have assured Captain Edwards that their respective teams will be faster and better than ever after the holidays. In the last game with the Morrisons the basketball team showed decided improvement over former work.

Jack Rowland writes from Philadelphia that he is arranging games which will require a week's trip instead of three or four days, as at first contemplated.

The teams will play the basketball and baseball games of the Central and West Branch Young Men's Christian Association in Baltimore, between January 10 and 15.

The board of control of the Athletic Association of the District National Guard has given Captain Edwards, president of the association, permission to order fifty additional lockers and to arrange for twenty-four more lights and more heat.

The lockers will be rented to members at 50 cents for a whole year, certainly cheap enough for each man to have a locker.

The gymnasium classes under the direction of Prof. Horan are doing splendid work and are a very decided feature of the organization. Their attractiveness is shown in the fact that over 400 members have attended classes since December 1.

Light Infantry Team.

The Light Infantry basketball team showed its strength last Wednesday when it handily defeated the Washington Athletic Club, which made a run-away game of it with the "Crescents" the week before.

It is generally believed that the Infantry has the fastest team it has had since it came into the league several years ago.

Practices are held regularly by two teams made up of regulars and "subs." The latter are all good players and will have an opportunity to play in league games.

Tierney has left the Infantry team to play with Company A, First Battalion, of which he is a regular member.

The Philadelphia National League team, said to be professional, has asked for a game next month. The team will be accommodated and a date will be fixed next week.

The Infantry's next game is scheduled for December 27, with the Government Printing Office team.

Eastern Athletic Club.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern Athletic Club held last week, George Boyd, manager of the basketball team, reported that his team's share of the receipts from the games played in the Infantry Armory would be only one-third and as that did not seem a fair division the board promptly decided to withdraw the team from the Infantry and it would not play the game scheduled for last Wednesday.

The resignation from the league was dated December 14, so that the management had plenty of time to arrange for another game.

The Easterns have undoubtedly one of the strongest teams in the city and the games in which the team appeared in former years, especially against the Infantry, always drew the largest crowds of the season. It is unfortunate that some arrangements could not have been made to keep the team in the league and have the admirers of the sport see the two teams come together in another championship series.

Manager Boyd announced that the team will keep up its practice and will play exhibition games in its ball on E near Second Street, southeast, and to which friends of the team are invited without charge. Games will be played Mondays and Wednesdays of each week. In addition to these the management will arrange games with prominent out-of-town teams.

Recreating History.

On the left bank of the Seine, at Paris, in front of an antiquary's shop, may be seen a curious little bath in the form of a tub, with a chimney pipe affixed, on which is painted in bold black-and-red letters the following inscription:

"Baignoire de Marat."

On the right bank of the river, at Paris, on the site of the guillotine, stands a small building, the site of which is marked by a black-and-red cross.

Although the relic is accompanied by three official documents, the inscription is hardly convincing. It used to be supposed that it was Marat who was killed in the bath, and that Charlotte Corday was executed for ridding the world of a knave.
