

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1408 Second Street,
Louisville, Ky., April 14, 1905.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it. I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

Mr. L. M. Thompson

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

ANOTHER COMPARISON OF THE TWO CANDIDATES

DR. H. H. BOULTER, TO COMMUNICATION OF A. Q. CUMBER AND MAKES SOME VERY POINTED COMMENTS.

Under the head, "Sizing up the Candidates" the News of the 11th inst. publishes another article from the pen of A. Q. Cumber, to which, as it is decidedly amateurish, and well within my mental grasp, I wish to reply. Mr. Cumber is a delightfully green proposition but he means no harm by his article "Sizing up the candidates." He rather does good to a certain extent by calling the attention of the voter to the necessity of sizing up the candidates for himself and to wear the collar of no politician even though it might be that of the redoubtable G. T. Mulhatten.

I will now proceed to size up the candidates for myself and if in the process I remove some of the cuticle from the verdant gentleman who signs himself A. Q. Cumber he must not complain when he furnishes such an E. Z. Mark for every hostile reader. If Mr. A. Q. Cumber had asked me to select a pen name I would have chosen A. C. Abbage as appropriate for him. But laying jokes aside, and taking Mr. A. Q. Cumber seriously let us follow his article from the first paragraph in which he says "In his first article in the News the situation as it appeared was sized up. In this one the candidates will be touched up." This is a case evidently calling for retouching.

In his comparison of candidates, Cumber calls Mr. Bliss a theorizer and Mr. Shine a reality. A theorizer is one who thinks, and thinks, and thinks, but does not do anything. A reality, as Cumber calls Shine, or a doer, is one who does things without thinking. I take Mr. A. Q. Cumber's own words for it, for he says Mr. Shine is young and has not had time to theorize (think) much. In this connection I would respectfully call Mr. A. Q. Cumber's attention to the fact that this municipality is not a kindergarten.

Mr. Bliss is charged with being a theorizer but not a doer. Let me ask Mr. Cumber to point any one man within the corporate limits of this city who has done more to prove that Pensacola is not merely a fly speck surrounded by a circle on the face of the United States map, but a living, breathing reality of over 20,000 souls on the shores of the finest harbor in the south with the most delightful climate in the world.

This is the kind of theorizing Mr. Bliss is continually guilty of.

What has Shine done? Has he done as much as the theorizer Bliss? If he has show us; we are from Missouri. A man who does things without thinking as A. Q. Cumber says Shine does, is a blunderer.

Mr. Bliss is a theorist and so is Judge Dunne of Chicago and his 154,000 supporters who have just carried the city election by 20,000 majority for municipal ownership.

Mr. Bliss is a theorizer. He believes in: "Be sure you are right; then go ahead."

If Mr. Shine is a reality, a doer, what has he done? Nothing. What will he do? Nothing. What can he do? Nothing.

If Mr. Bliss was such a man I would be ashamed of my candidate and would like Cumber, he hunting for an assumed name.

Mr. Bliss is a thinker, and Shine is one who thinks he is a thinker.

Mr. Cumber next sizes up the candidates as to their personal appearance and allows that Bliss in that respect would lead the running and also allows that Mr. Bliss is a wholesaler, honest, genial, hearted, good fellow. Thanks, honey. That's our candidate sized up just about right.

Cucumber asks what Bliss could do if elected. I can tell you partly. He will continue to stir up the people to a proper sense of their duties and they in turn will wake up their council to the fact that they were elected for a purpose.

Mr. Bliss after his nomination called for a mass meeting to consider suggestions to the legislature for amendments to the city charter so that the bonds could be negotiated. The council awoke from its long sleep and immediately passed a resolution and sent it to the legislature, embodying Mr. Bliss's reason for calling a mass meeting. That is what Mr. Bliss, the thinker, did within ten days after his nomination. Watch Mr. Bliss and you will see other developments.

Now, Mr. Cucumber, what is boy Shine doing? Show us. Boy Shine running for mayor is to me something of a joke, and as I sit in my office writing my reply to Mr. Q. C. I cannot help shaking with merriment at the idea.

Cucumber calls boy Shine the people's candidate as though there had been an outpouring of the people demanding as a candidate a man tried and true. I was at that great outpouring—I think there were twenty-five or may be fifty present including Geo. T. Mulhatten and as I sat there listening to the floods of oratory I thought of the time the mountain was in labor which after great trembling and mutterings and groanings brought forth—a mouse.

Mr. Cucumber winds up his article with a cute little story illustrating the running of the two candidates on election day. You all know the story of the rabbit, the ghost and the man afraid of the ghost. It is something of a chestnut. But Cucumber omitted to tell us which of the two represented boy Shine. Was it the rabbit that got tangled up with the feet of the man or the ghost which was out the shadow of a man? or was it the man afraid of the shadow?

Come out, Mr. Cucumber, into the open and wage a fair and honorable battle. If you have anything against Mr. Bliss let us have it, but let there be no Indian warfare or skulking behind a non de plume.

PENSACOLA AND MOBILE

THESE TWO TEAMS MAY PLAY BALL AT PALMETTO BEACH NEXT SUNDAY.

The Pensacola and Mobile baseball teams—the old-time rivals—will probably meet again Sunday. If such is the case it will virtually be the opening of the season, so far as good teams are concerned, as it is admitted that the Pensacola aggregation is the only team that ever brings out-of-town players to the city.

Manager Oliver and President Schadt are now in correspondence with one of the strong teams of Mobile, and it is more than probable that the correspondence will be closed within a couple of days and the team secured for the opening game.

Last Sunday the team had a fairly good practice game with one of the teams of the fleet, and for the remainder of the week the men will work out at the park in order to get in good condition and perfect team play.

The season promises to be a good one, as much interest is being shown and it is anticipated that the attendance at each of the games will be exceptionally large.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup.

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns, Druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it. 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by all druggists."
