KEEP SMILING
By CLAUDE S. MOSS
App. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

The burning question in today's column is, "is your coal bin filled for the coming winter?"

L. H. Stoner is in a black business but he treats his customers white. He is giving you a warning to purchase your coal now. He is not seeking the coal business, as he has plenty. He is not advertising merely notifying you in plenty of time. I'm not boosting this Greenwood Coal and Gin Company as "Lawrence" doesn't like my wit and rumor column and we don't blame him a bit. He thinks the readers like short love stories because the unmarried persons read them to weep over, married folks read them to laugh at, and, as everybody is more or less married, a love column would have a bigger audience.

M. W. Colvard, of Colvard's Bakery, said "I have nothing in my place but what I would eat myself," and when calling on Mr. Colvard, one of the best fellows in your city, I read this sign at his desk: "The chairs in this market are for ladies; gentlemen are requested not to make use of them until the ladies are seated." You folks didn't know he was so accommodating, now did you.

John Dahmer, proprietor of the Dahmer Bakery, is now before you, if you know John, you know a man that is alive, progressive and willing at any and all times to get and do his share of hard work for his friends or city. He went up to Memphis the other night and met a few of his old friends and partook of several nourishments, and returned to his hotel on the last car. He fell asleep and was aroused by the conductor calling the names of the streets. "John street! John street!" yelled the conductor.

Tish not!" murmured Dahmer. I treated the last time!"

We think the reason why there are so many old maids is because a real smart woman won't give a $10 job for a 10-cent man. But what we started out to say was that James Cates, the popular manager of the Delta Battery Co., who always does his part, we are glad to boost. He thinks many a Greenwood man would go home at 8 o'clock at night in these prohibition times, only he can't think of a nice excuse to give his wife for being home so early.

Ge, but Quincy Snedeker who is a member of the Greenwood Remodeling Co., on Carrollton Ave., is a busy man, I'll admit, and we're for him. At times he's so busy he can't hear the fire department pass his place, but just rustle a silk skirt on the street and watch him wake up.

H. F. Schaffel, of the Commonwealth Garage, is an extra, out-of-the-ordinary good person, and one of my friends says when he died he is going to take all his silver with him. Mr. Schaffel, being a good soul, we advise him not to, as where he might go, it might melt.

"If it's from the Greenwood Drug Co., it's good," and this is from there. "I have never met, said a young lady who was in this place of business to buy some chocolate chop candy, "more than two nice young men." "Ah," said Mr. Saffold, looking up innocently, "who was the other?"

The best story on J. P. Knight, proprietor of Knights blacksmith shop, remembers on himself was this one. If I was to name this story I would call it "A Fine Arrangement." Mr. Knight at the age of 6 had a tin horn, and took it upstairs to bed with him. "Now, we will lay the horn away while you say your prayers, said his mother. "No mother, I'll tell you what let's do. You pray and I'll keep right on blowing."

The genial proprietor of the Delta Machine Works is H. G. Kitchell. When a youth he was given a couple of dimes, one for Sunday school collection and one for himself. He dropped one of the dimes and was very much annoyed, but finally told his father everything was alright—that it was the Lords dime he had lost. Now that's "Horace" all over.
