MARK THIS, MR. READER.
There's more real live news in the Daily News than in any other South Mississippi news-baper. Mark the emphasis—the put in "jut to fill up." There's to foun in printing just to hear the machinery rattle, nor in the using great gobs of link and to like a b'.

DOCKSTADER'S MIN

STRELS TONIGHT

Close Regular Season at the Auditorium With Matinee and Night
Performance.

As he always did Lew Dockstader comes along this season with something positively new. He never rests until he has found a suitable vehicle for his funnyisms and no occurrence that impresses itself upon the public mind is allowed to go unnoticed. The minstrel reaches out and grabs it, weaves it into his songs or sayings and the result is that up to date people always wonders what he is going to do next.

Mr. Dockstader will be seen at the Auditorium this afternoon and night and the people of Hattiesburg will have a chance to see him in what has been described by critics as the funniest thing he has ever done. He will impersonate no less a personage than the redoubtable Teddy himself in a sketch entited "A Dulb Day in the White House." All the things to go towards making the President fret, his

RHODE ISLAND CALIFORNIA IS FOR BRYAN

Providence, R. I., March 20.—Rhode Island Democrats are beginning to gather in Providence for the State convention tomorrow, when delegates will be elected to the Denver convention. There is every indication that the delegation from this state will be pledged to the support of Bryan. The Central Committee has passed resolutions indorsing the candidacy of the Nebraskan.

THE LOW PRICES MOVED THE GOODS

The third day of Robinson's bargain feast was equally as successful as the two preceding days, and the extra low prices moved the goods. While the day was cool, and a faling off of the spring and summer goods demand was noticeable, the luli was more than made up in the buying of laces, embroideries and other goods not necessary applicable to any weather condition. Mr. Robinson reports quite a trade even in light fall and winter goods, and the shoe sale was extra good. The store had an immense crowd and every one came out a purchaser of some article desired.

Today special minute sales will take place, when many unheard of bargains will be put on. The advertisement in this lacence will separate the same article and little trouble is anticipated in administering a drubbing to the New York-

Aguila.
