

What Does Your Bank Do For You?

The service of a bank to its customers should consist of a great deal more than merely receiving deposits and handling checking accounts.

Many people suffer inconvenience and actual loss of money because they do not have the benefit of the full service that a bank should render to its patrons.

This institution is fully equipped to serve you in every banking capacity and whatever your requirements may be you will find the facilities of this bank of practical benefit.

Mrs. Child Entertains At The Forrest Club.

The Historical Club, U. D. C., was delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. R. Child at the Forrest Club Saturday afternoon. The guests were received by Mrs. Child and taken to the chapter room by Mrs. D. B. Holmes. Punch was served by Mrs. George Wolf and Mrs. Walton E. Bobo. The business session was instructive and entertaining, and the program on historical subjects and biographies of great men prominent in political life and who shaped the destiny of the nation, was carried out as published. There were a number of pretty musical selections and the patriotic songs were very inspiring. The song, "The Boys Who Wore the Grey," whose touching words expressed sentiments so dear to southern hearts, was enthusiastically received and the sweet singer, Mrs. Leo H. Martin was asked to repeat it, which she did.

After the program an ice course, in the confederate colors, was served by Mrs. E. J. Mitchell, assisted by Misses Mellie Allen, Norma Long, of Jackson; Olive Powe, Mrs. George Wolf and Mrs. Walton E. Bobo.

The decorations were confederate flags and the confederate colors. The white pillars and stairs of the club house were draped with red and white, while above the stairs were two confederate flags crossing. The portiers in the hall were in the confederate colors and back of them was the punch table. The room where the program was rendered was elaborately decorated in red and white, festoons of these colors being over the doors and windows. Misses Maurine Welborne and Elene Gatlin pinned tiny souvenir flags on the visitors. About fifty members and a number of guests enjoyed the afternoon.

direct from the designing rooms of the Redfern models will be with us this week and will demonstrate the value of the Redfern Whalebone Models and their adaptability to the current fashions. Corsets are quite as long as last season---a little lower in the bust perhaps, but there is a subtle change in the waist curve and the hip line that produces the new figure result.

DAVIDSON'S

Her hat was a black velvet one.

The color motif of the pretty party was green and white. Trailing vines covered the punch table, making it most attractive. The tables were placed in the library and parlor and the prize, two dainty embroidered linen handkerchiefs, were won by Mrs. W. T. Cosby. The score cards bearing cupids, were heart-shaped and tied with green ribbons. Miss Haney was presented with a special prize, a hand-painted satin pillow, with the bride-elect's initials on it.

Three young girls, Misses Harriette Hill, a sister of the hostess, Annie Cora Gilliam and Carlisle Hall, in the loveliest of lacy frocks over green slips, served a pretty and dainty two-course luncheon, in which the heart idea and the color scheme, green and white, was tastefully carried out. Accompanying the ice course were tiny white boxes, tied with green ribbons and filled with cake. One contained a ring, another a thimble and another a dime. The ring was found by Miss Gertrude Olsen, the dime by Miss Harriette Hill, while to Miss Bessie Powe fell the thimble.

The hospitality was exceedingly attractive in all its appointments and accessories and was enjoyed by Miss Haney, the guest of honor, Mesdames W. T. Cosby, Robert Field, H. T. Mounger; Misses Lora Haney, Bessie is Nature's signal that a food is good. You need sugar--lots of it. But it must be natural sweetness. Some syrups are masqueraders--really tasteless and healthless, with a sprinkling of sugar.

Haney, Janie McLeod, Corinne Venable, Katie L. I. Allen, Gertrude Olsen, of Canton; Bessie Powe and Allie Camp.

Sweetness

should never be neglected. School days will soon be here, the children's eyes will be called upon for excessive use. While neither parent nor child cares to wear glasses from mere choice, yet it is better to correct the impaired eyesight by the use of glasses than allow a beautiful face to become disfigured, or the child to become physically debilitated from eyestrain.
