Funeral Rites Held For Miss McLean

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 4 p. m. for Miss Emma Bowers McLean, long-time Lexington school teacher and a native of Lexington, who died at the hospital May 10 of coronary thrombosis. The Rev. R. G. Valentine of Hazlehurst officiated in the last rites with burial in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Miss McLean, a member of the Presbyterian church, Lexington Garden club and the D. A. R., was born in 1875, the daughter of William Lampkin and Mary Bowers McLean, and was active in church work.

She was graduated from Lexington Normal school and Western college, Bowling Green, Ky.

"Miss Emma," as she was affectionately known to all of Lexington, had been an outstanding teacher in the city school system for about fifty years and has taught the majority of the citizens of this community. She lived up to the highest standards of her profession at all times and gave assistance quietly and modestly to pupils who needed help in any way. She was greatly beloved by all who knew her.

She leaves two sisters, Miss Mattie McLean and Miss Octavia Lansdale McLean, both of Lexington, and several cousins.

Southern Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Services Held For Mrs. Nixon

Funeral services were held Thursday for Mrs. Melissa Weeks Nixon of Biloxi, who died at a hospital in Biloxi. She was formerly from the Tolarville community.

Mrs. Nixon leaves one daughter, Mrs. Fred Miles of Biloxi; three brothers, J. A. and A. W. Weeks of Possumneck, and J. E. Weeks of Clarksdale; five sisters, Mrs. J. D. Sanders, Wall; Mrs. J. S. Gilbert, Miss Emma Weeks, Mrs. W. P. Roach, and Mrs. C. A. Pender, all of Kosciusko, one grandchild, and a large number of other relatives.

Born in Attala county near Kosciusko, Mrs. Nixon attended the Primitive Baptist church. She was married in 1909 to Cass Ottenburg Nixon who preceded her in death about four years ago.

Southern Funeral home was in charge of arrangements. Burial was in Tolarville cemetery with the Rev. Jack Evans of Benoit conducting services.

Control Garden Insects
The time of year has come when it will be necessary to control the many insects that you will find present in your garden within the next few days if not already present.

The Mexican Bean Beetle — In the larva stage is a small yellowish, hairy looking insect that usually sticks to the underside of bean leaves. They eat the green part of the leaf and just leave the leaf shredded in a mosquito bar

"From where I sit"
— by Joe Marsh

Remember How WE Talked?

It went like this at the Hooper's the other night. Hap's eighteen-year-old daughter is talking about "a real gone guy—solid—out of this world, but def."

"Now what kind of language is that?" Hap barks. "Can't she speak English?"

"I'll translate it for you," Ma Hooper says, "in the language of the twenties, when you were about twenty years old. She simply means this fellow is the 'cat's whiskers.' Remember how we used to talk sometimes?" Hap went back to reading his newspaper.

From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

appearance. This insect should be controlled by dusting with derris dust, marlate or cryolite. If you use cryolite use 1 part of cryolite to 2 parts flour. Do not use lime. In dusting for the Mexican bean beetle be sure that you dust from the underside up so that you may get the dust directly on the insect.

Blister Beetle — Gray or black or yellow striped, 1/4 to 3/4 inches long resembling a large lightning bug. They feed in colonies and attack most vegetables, particularly tomatoes and egg plants. These insects can be controlled very easily by dusting or spraying with DDT, Marlate or Sabadilla dust. If spraying with DDT use 1 cup of 50 per cent DDT to 3 gallons of water.

Tomato Hornworm — It is a large green caterpillar 3 to 4 inches long with white stripes on the side. They eat tomato leaves and tomatoes. Handpick the worms and dust with marlate or undiluted cryolite.

Tomato Fruit Worm — Green or brown caterpillar one half to one and one half inches long, feeds on the tomato fruit in all stages of growth. Dust or spray with marlate, DDT, or cryolite.
