

By Paul Tardy
Shot at a whole lot of doves the past weekend. Killed a few.
Reports from over the area indicate that the dove population is greater this year than it has been for some time during the first season.
Word comes that Tandy Stepp, Chick Weathersby and quite a few others out their limit near Howard. Hunt Cade and Henry McClellan, Jr., left their stands early over near Cruger, so, must have had their limits. At this writing, Wednesday noon, a crew of Lexingtonians is headed for the Howard area to shoot up a lot more shells.
We'll be interested to hear any and all reports.

As the Georgia Bulldogs and Alabama Tide prepare for their meeting Saturday, you can just bet, in spite of the court's ruling against Look magazine, there's not much telephoning going on between the two schools this year.

A word to the wise should be sufficient. To those of you who have the opportunity to attend the sales clinic to be held next week in Durant, you would be wise to take advantage of it. Whether you ever intend to sell anything or not, you will come away from Roy Hatten's lectures feeling better than when you went in.
While teaching you to be a little easier to get along with and enjoy living with yourself, he crams a little education in your head and packs it with a touch of humor. He might be described as an egghead Dave Gardner bringing a Dale Carnegie message with Houdini's wand.

Short space, short thoughts, short column.
30F0RNOW

Holmes youth rates high in Kosciusko Livestock Show

Holmes County youth's Humphries of Durant - red showed their colors at the Central Mississippi Livestock Show at Kosciusko on September 11, 12 and 13th. The Grand Champion steer was shown by Tom Slack of the Pickens Pacesetters. Carolyn Cunningham of Tchula showed the Reserve Champion. Nathan McKie, Ann and Rose Atkinson all of Pickens Pacesetters showed red ribbons.

In the Dairy show, which was the strongest in years, Hardy Mitchell of Lexington showed the Grand Champion of the Guernsey breed. Judy Neal of Lexington placed second in a strong senior calf class in the Jersey division. Bill McKenzie of Durant placed 4th in a very strong two year old Jersey cow class.
In showmanship, Bill McKenzie and Gary Bouchillon both of Durant placed second and third respectively in the Junior showmanship class.
Others showing and their placing were Sloan Mitchell of Lexington - red ribbon; Gary Bouchillon and Ralph

Circuit Clerk Henry McClellan, left, and Miss Carolyn Cade of Emory watch "the fish man" dip up and weigh catfish by the thousands last Thursday as pond owners from over the county came to haul away the fingerlings for stocking their ponds. 50,000 fish were distributed to individuals by the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission from a tank truck on the square in Lexington. Staff photo

Lexington merchants plan big fall sales promotion

Twenty four Lexington merchants are banded together for another big fall town-wide sales promotion this year, according to J. M. McRae, secretary of the Lexington Chamber of Commerce. The promotion will be similar to those carried on in the past with special pricing of merchandise and added incentives for trading in Lexington.
The promotion will begin Friday, September 27, with special promotional buying incentives slated for each Saturday, October 5 through December 7, the C of C announced.

The participating merchants are Thurmond's, Patterson's Variety Store, Henrich Drug Store, Brown's Department Store, The Fincher Company, Cohen's, Flowers' Department Store, Volunteer Food Store, Williams Outlet Store, Peoples Drug Store, O. L. Ellison, T & T Store, Louie's Grocery & Market, Western Auto Store, C. Kee Grocery, Ben Franklin Store, The Riley Company, Mayo Grocery, Hydratane Gas Company, Sunflower Food Store, Schur's General Merchandise, Power's Grocery & Market, Texaco Service Station, and Community Grocery.
Further details are to be announced in newspaper and radio announcements and advertisements, the chamber said.

Sales Clinic starts Tuesday in Durant

A three-day sales clinic in Durant, sponsored by the Durant Merchants Committee, is scheduled to begin next Tuesday, September 24. The meetings, to be held in city hall, are to begin each night at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday, said Hugh Skinner, chairman.
Roy Hatten, sales training coordinator for the Mississippi Power and Light Company, will conduct the clinic which is open to Durant merchants, business men and their employees and interested persons from surrounding areas.
Merchants and business firms of Durant participating will include Piggy Wiggly. (Continued on back page)

M. E. Holloman dies Tuesday services today

Miles Edward Holloman, prominent Lexington businessman, died at Holmes County Community Hospital Tuesday night after an extended illness. He was 54.
Funeral services are to be held at 10 o'clock this morning (Thursday) at First Methodist Church in Lexington with the Reverend Crawford Ray officiating. Burial will be in Odd Fellows Cemetery with Masonic Rites at graveside. Southern Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.
Owner and operator of Holloman's Machine and Supply Company for a number of years, Mr. Holloman was a member of First Methodist Church and a mason.
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Billie Prater Holloman; one son, Miles Edward, Jr., two daughters, Harriett Lynn and Elizabeth Carol, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holloman, all of Lexington; two brothers, J. C. Holloman of Grenada and J. W. Holloman of Houston, Texas; four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Duke of Bermuda Islands, Mrs. Elizabeth Hull of Bay Springs, Mrs. Walton Murphy of Lexington, and Mrs. Irene Harthcock of St. Louis.

HUGH CLEGG SPEAKS TO LOCAL LIONS

Factories moving south are finding that production is up in quantity and quality with Southern labor and environment according to Hugh H. Clegg, Director of Development and Assistant to the Chancellor at University of Mississippi, who spoke to the Lexington Lions Club meeting here Monday night.
Clegg talked on the industrial growth of Mississippi and the South, and discussed status of the present factory at Ole Miss. He said that even though the turn-over in professors at the school was somewhat heavier than usual, replacements are competent and the quality of teachers will be as high as ever.
He pointed out that many manufacturers in the North have established pilot plants in the South and will probably move other factories here after learning of the many advantages which can be realized with southern labor and cooperation.
He said that a survey showed average production in the South is 18 per cent above that with Northern labor. Quality of the products was (Continued on back page)

Morris Williams named to board of realtors

At the regular meeting of the Jackson Board of Realtors, Tuesday night, September 3rd, Morris C. Williams was elected President of the Jackson Board of Realtors. W. P. Bridges, Jr. was elected Vice-President and A. R. Stringer, Secretary. The Jackson Board has a membership of 101 Real Estate Brokers and 18 associate and affiliate members. Morris is also serving as Vice President of the Jackson Multiple Listing Service during the current year. He has been engaged in the sale of real estate for Reid-McGee & Co. for 10 years and is a Vice President and member of the Board of Directors of that firm, engaging in the sale of commercial and investment real estate.

Mr. Williams, as President and official delegate of the Jackson Board will attend the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in New York City, November 8th through 14th. The State Real Estate Convention will be held in Jackson in October.
Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Williams, of Lexington.

Martin Funeral service today

Funeral services for Wesley A. Martin, 87, retired planter of the Cameron community near Pickens, are set for today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. He died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joe Cauthen, after a lengthy illness.
Mr. Martin was born in the Cameron Community and had lived most of his life there. He was a member of the Shiloh Presbyterian Church.
Funeral services will be conducted by the Reverend C. P. Thrall at the church, with Worthey Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Ward Martin, two daughters, Mrs. Cauthen and Mrs. Edgar Putnam, both of Pickens; four sons, J. B. Martin of West, Edgar, of Lumberville, Md., Jesse of Memphis, and Eldon of Kosciusko; a sister, Mrs. Bessie Leatherwood of McFee, Ark.; eighteen grandchildren and seventeen great grandchildren.

Larry Abernack wears badge on his mother's shoulder at ceremony honoring him upon earning his Eagle rank at the Lexington Lions Club meeting Monday night. Staff photo

Hornets bop Senators; Tchula downs Durant

HAHS, HJC on losing end

by Wayne Rodgers

TCHULA 7, DURANT 0

The Tchula Panthers broke a thirteen year jinx on Friday the thirteenth when they defeated the Durant Tigers, 7 to 0. It was the first time in thirteen years the Panthers had defeated the Tigers, and ironically, it happened on Friday the thirteenth. It was a closely fought contest all the way with defensive play being outstanding by both teams.

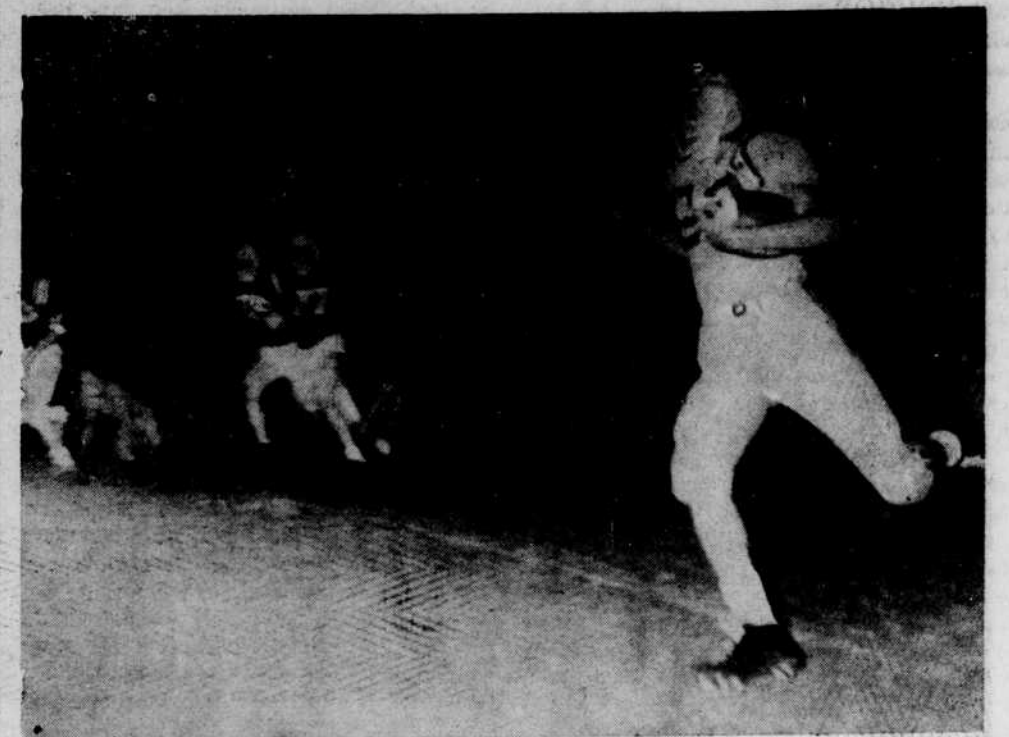

The only score of the game came in the second quarter when Wayne Self of Tchula went over from one yard out. Self had scored previously on the same series of plays but the TD was called back because of an offside penalty. The score was set up by an 18 yard pass play from quarterback Bruce Taylor to Self. Self added the extra point.
Durant's only threat came in the second quarter. This threat was ended when the Tigers lost the ball on downs. The drive carried to the Tchula twelve. The Panthers only other threat came when they drove to the Tiger one yard line in the closing moments of the game but lost the ball on downs.

The longest Tchula run was produced by two Panthers, Billy Paul Lee and Billy Bell. Each had runs of 26 yards. Top gain for the Durant Tigers was the product of Danny Humphries. It was a twelve yard gain.

Outstanding offensively for Durant were Danny Humphries and Darryl Smith. They were high in the line of defense for the Tigers. The Tigers' defense was led by Billy Paul Lee and Billy Bell. Each had runs of 26 yards. Top gain for the Durant Tigers was the product of Danny Humphries. It was a twelve yard gain.

The Durant Tigers open their home season tomorrow night at 8 P.M. against Kilpatrick, while the Tchula Panthers take to the road for the first time this season, traveling to Glen Allan, for their second conference battle of the season.

LEXINGTON 45, NORTH CARROLLTON 6
The Lexington Hornets got

Walter Sullivan heads down the sidelines for a long gain to set up the third of Lexington's seven touchdowns against Carrollton Friday night in a 46-7 win. The win evened the Hornets' season record at 1-1 after defeat at the hands of Ackerman last Friday night on the home field.

For Lexington . . .

Jewel Knight appointed new MP&L Co. manager

Jewel Knight, presently serving as Mississippi Power & Light Company's manager at Durant, was named to a similar position for the utility at Lexington it was announced today by Donald Gray, vice president and operating manager for the utility. Knight succeeds James B. East, former Lexington manager.

Grady Harrow, engineer at College at Clinton and MP&L's Durant office, was named to replace Knight as a draftsman for the utility in Jackson.
The new Durant manager has served in various engineering positions for MP&L since January, 1955 and has held his present position at Durant since November, 1959. Mrs. Harrow is the former Mrs. C. G. Harrow of Jackson and the couple have three children, Grady, III, 18; Michele, 15; and Donna Lynn, 13. The Harrow family are members of the Durant Baptist Church.

Harrow is a member of the American Legion and serves as Boy Scout Committeeman in Durant. He was Chairman of the most recent Boy Scout fund drive in the community. Since his arrival in Durant he has played a prominent role in civic activities having served as treasurer, secretary and vice president of the Durant Rotary Club.

The managerial changes announced today will become effective immediately.
Knight is very active in church, civic and youth activities. He is president of the Methodist Men's Club and a member of the Official Board of the Methodist Church. While in Tylertown he served as president of the Rotary Club and is presently holding the office of secretary of the Durant Rotary Club. He is also past president of the Byhalia Lions Club and has participated actively in Boy Scout work in the various communities in which his work with the utility has taken him.

Grady Harrow, who succeeds Knight as MP&L's Durant manager, has been with the utility for the past 17 years. He attended Mississippi Out of Town Visitors Captain and Mrs. E. G. Lipsey and children of Luke Air Force Base, Glendale, Arizona, are visiting Capt. Lipsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lipsey in Lexington. The Captain will leave with his family for a tour of duty in England September, 23.

Jaycees sign Mid-State to bowl

Coaches of the Mid-State Conference have signed a contract with the Lexington Jaycees to furnish one of the teams for the annual Jaycee Football Bowl game to be held in November at Branch Field at Holmes Junior College.

The vote of the coaches to furnish for the bowl game the top team or second team in the Conference was unanimous, according to Jaycee Billy Upchurch, bowl chairman.

The contract was signed by Upchurch and by the conference president, Sam Kendrick of Ackerman after a unanimous vote of approval by the coaches. The contract will place at a meeting in Lexington the Lexington Jaycees and the coaches of the Mid-State Conference. The coaches will be chosen at a date late in the season by the Lexington Jaycees. Date of the bowl game will be set by the conference, Upchurch said.

Newly elected Lexington Jaycees president Sam Kendrick, Ackerman coach, seated, signs contract with Lexington Jaycees for the 1963 Jaycee Bowl to be held in November at Holmes Junior College, as Jaycees Billy Adams Upchurch, bowl chairman, looks on. The contract is to guarantee the Jaycees the top or second team in the conference for play in the game. Staff photo by Wayne Rodgers.

GROWL STAFF MEMBERS stop for a pose while studying typography in planning for their 1963-64 editions. Shown here are, left to right, Billy Wilson, sports editor; Jo Ann McCrory, editor; Mrs. Linda Darnell, sponsor; and Mary Frances Allen, assistant news editor. Staff photo