W. J. JOHNSON ANNOUNCES.
 In this issue of the Chronicle appears the announcement of Mr. W. J. Johnson of Wade as a candidate for the office of supervisor for beat one, made vacant by the resignation of M. J. Roberts.

Mr. Johnson needs no introduction at our hands. The people of his beat all know him and his record of service to them in the past. He was the representative of his beat on the board of supervisors for a number of years and was always at his post and looking out for the interests of his constituents. He has always been a consistent fighter for good roads, schools and other measures for the promotion of the best interests of the county and his friends throughout the country would regard with pleasure his reelection. We bespeak for his candidacy the consideration which it deserves.

"I'd like to be there!"

YOU have said it—as you have looked at some vivid picture or read some stirring account of our boys fighting with American courage and self-sacrifice. If you cannot go out to them, you can fight for them, over here. Smash open the way for them with howitzers and big guns. Send them ammunition, tanks, airplanes, rifles, clothing, food. Help to keep them victorious.

You can lend as fearlessly, as unselfishly, as they fight. That is your job as a part of our war machine.

OF COURSE you would "like to be there." They don't need you yet or you WOULD be there. But they need guns and shells, every hour they remain on the road to Berlin.

Absolutely the next best thing to going over is to Buy Liberty Bonds—Buy to Your Limit

"This Is the Last of Wars"

Coming in splendor thro' the Golden Gate
 Of all the days, swift passing, one by one,
 Oh, Silent Planet, thou hast gazed upon
 How many harvestings, dispassionate?
 Across the many-furrowed fields of fate,
 Wrapt in the mantle of oblivion,
 The old, gray, wrinkled husbandman has gone
 Sowing and reaping, lone and desolate—
 The blare of trumpets, rattle of the drum,
 Disturb him not at all—he sees,
 Between the hedges of the centuries,
 A thousand phantom armies go and come,
 While Reason whispers as each marches past,
 "This is the last of wars,—this is the last!"
 LIEUT. GILBERT WATERHOUSE
 (Wounded and missing July 1, 1916)

W.S.S.

NEWS RECEIVED TUESDAY MORNING BY RELATIVES IN THIS CITY OF THE DEATH OF MR. MARION C. GRIFFIN AT NEW

York City from pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza. His remains were taken to his old home in Natchez, Miss., for burial, and were accompanied by his brother, whose home is Natchez, and Mrs. M. C. Griffin. Mr. Griffin was some years past a citizen of Pascagoula, and was engaged in business here for a few years. He was a man of sterling character and of a genial, hospitable nature, and during his stay here won the friendship of the entire community by his many splendid qualities as a citizen and friend. He was survived by his wife, Miss Belle Foster, daughter of O. E. Foster, of this city, by his son, Louis Ros, who is now in the service of the army.

W.S.S.

Senior and Mrs. Vincent received a most welcome letter from their son Louis Ros, who is now in the service of the army. Young Ros writes very eagerly and reports himself and the others in the enjoyment of good health.

They're in to Win

Fair targets, every one of these men, for the German riflemen and machine gunners hidden behind the parapet.

But they are not thinking of the bullets whizzing past them; of the shells bursting over their heads.

They are intent on one thing—to scale that bank, take the bridge head and win the day.

And these men are made of the same stuff as all true Americans who read these words.

If we are the same stuff, let us prove it. Let us get into the fight as they do—to the limit—for Victory!
