Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Mott left Friday for Dublin, Ga., where Mr. Mott has accepted the pastorate of the Christian church. During the two years that Mr. Mott served the Christian church here he deeply impressed his Christian influence upon the community. A pulpit speaker of force, he sought to imprint in the minds of his hearers the necessity of accepting the Scriptures literally, and won the confidence of all by his sincerity of purpose. In his work he was ably assisted by Mrs. Mott, who was unfailing in the work of the church and its kindred societies. We wish for them a pleasant home in Georgia.

Fair Next Week

No farmer in Lee county should be too busy next week to miss coming to the fair at least one day. The management have gone to great expense and trouble to collect together everything possible to interest the people and their appreciation of their efforts should be manifested by their presence. Those in charge of the departments are busy collecting exhibits and all who can assist in making the exhibits a credit to the county should send in their contributions by Monday at the outside.

The racing will be good and it is the purpose of the managers to begin the racing promptly at 1 o'clock each day in order to get through in time to give the visitors from the country plenty of time to return home before night.

Your presence is necessary to make the fair a success and you should not be kept away.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

More Bonds for Good Roads. Other Important Matters.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors convened Monday morning, with all members present.

The docket showed the usual routine matters, and in addition the Board passed several orders of interest.

In the matter of the petition of the citizens of the First district a motion was passed ordering the sale of an additional $40,000 of good road bonds of the First district, the sale to be made at the November meeting if a satisfactory bid is received.

In the Third Supervisors district orders were passed for the construction of additional roads of about two miles on the Tupelo and Marietta road, two miles on the Aberdeen and Saltillo road and about one mile on the Pontotoc and Tupelo road. The two first named roads have been graded and only need gravel to make them first-class roads. The last named road needs to be graded and graveled. Contracts for their construction will be let at the November term.

In the matter of tick eradication the Board decided to defer this matter until after the meeting of the next Legislature. In the opinion of the Board the next Legislature will pass an act making it compulsory for the entire State to enter into the work of eradicating ticks. There are now only about fourteen counties that have not inaugurated the work, and as the matter is of statewide interest and importance, the Board feels that they should wait and see what steps are taken by the Legislature.

Miss Powell Speaks

Miss Susie V. Powell, of Jackson, Miss., state agent for the Girls Canning Club Work and School Improvement Work, spoke twice Wednesday at the court house to a small but enthusiastic crowd of teachers and citizens. At the morning session she spoke on the club work as pertaining to industrial education and very clearly proved that said work should be correlated with all public school work and instead of adding more work to the already overworked teacher it made the work more pleasant and lighter by virtue of the fact that it brought the pupil in touch with its surroundings. It is much easier to teach a child things it has some knowledge of naturally and lead it up to know things it had no knowledge of at all—than to begin on the unknown.

At the afternoon session Miss Powell organized the teachers into an association with Prof. J. C. Windham as president, Prof. W. O. Beaty vice president, and Miss Verda May Newman secretary. She spoke for some time on the importance of organization and co-operation of the school forces, and clearly demonstrated the fact that under such a system the school work would be much more effective and the good done more lasting. In the course of her address she dwelt upon the great need of improvement in the way of buildings and equipments, and impressed the fact that all it took to bring about the change was community leadership on the part of the teachers. Leadership with the power to impress the public that it is worth while to be lead.

Prof. J. C. Windham, Doctors Boswell and Feemster made short talks on subjects vital to the school interest, dwelling upon the importance of co-operation and systematic and judicious work along the lines advocated by Miss Powell.
