Those who have learned something of the Master's spirit and share in the love that brought him to save mankind are not thinking of gathering future glory for themselves as they work. Their yearning pity for souls astray has neither time nor mind to sing, "Will there be any stars in my crown?" The life-saver who hears a cry for help and plunges into the stormy sea does not battle with the waves in search of a medal for heroism.—Forward.

THE ITEMIZER will do it for you And the work will suit you.
