The panne crape drop skirt has a deep, graduated, circular flounce tucked in groups and cluster tucks at hem. The applique designs on the skirt at the top and bottom of the flounce and crossing the hip to the point in front are of a heavy cream silk ace. The bodice has a deep tucked yoke and tucking above the girdle, with lace trimming between. The elbow sleeves are finished with a double ruffle, and the lace stock is pointed in

The empire house gown is of net, renaissance lace and batiste over a ink silk princess foundation, veiled with pink chiffon, which is fitted by shirring at the waist and is ruffled at the bettom. The collariess yoke is of sance lace, and the elbow sleeves are finished with chiffon suffies.

The summer gown at the left of the second cut is of white indea linen. The skirt is laid in fine tucks to below the knees, where the fullness is let out and forms a flounce, which is appliqued with designs of yellow lace. The upper and lower portions of the bodice are tucked, with the lutiness making a puff between the tucks. The collar and oke are of yellow lace. There are elbow sleeves, the upper portion tucked; sash of green soft silk and knot of the me sik on the left of the bodice; flat hat of yellow straw trimmed with black and pale yellow roses and parasol of green sitk with frills of white

The other gown is of pink dimity striped with white. The three piece skirt is finished with a deep band of ice, which fastens up the back, has the yoke and lower sleeves of lace over plain pink lawn the shade of the dimitv. The hat is of white tulle trimmed with pink roses and black velvet.

To Press Old Silk. As silk is very much to the fore again it should be borne immind that it ist never be ironed, as the heat takes all the life out of it and makes it seem stringy and flabby. If, however, you wish to press out old bits of silk and ribbon, use an iron only moderately hot and place two thicknesses of paper between that and the silk.

in a gown somewhat dressler than the high school girl or the girl in an exclusive private school. A lovely new gown for a college girl is of fine white point d'esprit trimmed with renaissance lace and white satin ribbon. The skirt is full, as are many of the newest skirts of gauzy stuffs, and worn over a plain silk drop skirt lining. The full yoke and sleeves are of white chiffen. The only touch of color is in the bunch of pink rosebuds worn in the hair and repeated at the front of the skirt flounce, a pretty fad of a New York girl graduate. Dip smelts or fish of any sort in lemon juice when you wish to keep the flesh white.

If you keep parsley wrapped up in a piece of wet cheesecloth, you can keep it for several weeks without spoiling. When molding a cream mixture or gelatin mixture, have a mold just the right size. It is not so apt to break when turned out as if the mold is too

A cup of butter means 16 table spoons. When we measure butter in a cup, we measure it packed solid.

A spatula is very nice for turning cakes, emelets and small fish. Never leave a lemon or any acid jelly in a tin mold overnight, because it spoils the taste. Agate or earthen ware molds are best.

If the gelatin in an earthen mold does not come out readily at first, set it in a dish of hot water for a minute or wet a dish towel and set the dish on it." Be careful that it doesn't stay too long. One cup of sauce means one cup of liquid, regardless of the amount of thickening and butter that you use.

A Point In Piemaking.

In making a custard pie remember that the baking is an important item. Experience may teach one just the point at which to interrupt the cooking. The best way is to watch the pie and remove it from the oven the moment the custard reaches the boiling point. A custard ple is spoiled if allowed to boil in the oven.

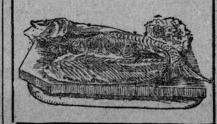

Maple Sugar Biscuit.

A cupful of maple sugar grated or cut in bits stirred into an ordinary quick biscuit dough will give a novel sweet cake. The biscuits are then cut as usual and baked quick. The sugar melts during the cooking and glazes

Planking is thought to be the best method of cooking shad, but to be properly done an open fire is needed, although the oven is often used. The fish is nailed skin side down to a two inch thick, well seasoned oak plank propped in front of the glowing coals and basted from time to time with seasoned butter until the fiesh draws away from the backbone. A majority of people prefer the roe when fried. For this it should be carefully washed, drained, rolled in flour, sprinkled with salt and slowly sauted in a little hot suet or drippings. This frying may be preceded by parboiling. When so prepared, it can be easily sauted in the chafing dish.-Table Talk.

Furs should not be worn on hot days in spring, as the moth makes an early appearance and lays its eggs secretly and swiftly, and the eggs may be hatched after the fur is put away.
