The $40,000.00 Coronation Robe

Beginning next Monday morning the famous Coronation Robe, made by Madame Barutti of Paris, for the Czarina, will be exhibited in the FURST Cloak and Suit Store. The court train of this marvelous garment is 27 feet long and is lined with 1,500 ermine skins. This beautiful crimson velvet train is loaded with figures and a border of the finest hand embroidery in gold thread. The exhibit has been viewed by over 4,000,000 of people in other cities, and is a further evidence of the interesting character of this establishment. You'll find us always leading in all modern measures.

New Dress Fabric Offerings

This is to be a memorable week's sale. Prices are unmatchable and goods of unsurpassed quality. Particular attention is directed to the quotations for fashionable black fabrics and measuring goods. This is the headquarters for these items, and prices are, of course, always lower. Observe the values and prices on the Black Silk and Velvet items. You'll see that this is the one real mart for all kinds of Dress Fabrics, and that it is a hopeless task to try to find elsewhere anything so good and varied.

WOOD NEARLY ALL SOLD

Poor People Chop Up Fences, Furniture and Walks for Fuel.

PICKING UP DRIFT LOGS

How a Dealer Supplies His Customers—End of the Famine Is Near.

The strike in the coal regions has not only made the price of coal advanced from $3 to $5 a cord, and the freight is so high that many dealers cannot afford to sell it.

In the neighborhood of the Five Corners and West Newark avenue the poor people have been without coal since last spring, and have relied upon wood to cook their meals. Now the supply has given out.

These people during the last two weeks have been chopping everything in the shape of wood. There are not any trees to fell, so they have chopped down their sheds, fences, and even furniture.

All through Shinn Park and "Bottle Alley" many fences are missing. A board walk in Porter street, extending from Newark avenue to Van Winkle street, disappeared in one night.

GETTING DRIFTWOOD.

The old railroad ties which for many years have lain along the P. R. R. tracks have been used to good advantage. Many watch the shore of the Hackensack River, near Newark avenue, for the logs and large wood to float ashore.

There are about five persons for every log. Some use row boats and others have the advantage of those on the shore. The wood dealers in this section cannot supply the great demand, and the supply has given out in many yards.

The only wood yard that has a supply is at Van Winkle and Porter streets, and it cannot fill the orders.

DEMAND UNPRECEDENTED.

"I have been in this business for thirty-three years," said the proprietor, "and never before have I seen such a demand for wood. I had over 500 cords in this yard last summer, and scarcely fifty are on hand."

"If I had fifty men working for me I couldn't possibly fill the orders I have received."

have been putting out 1,000 barrels of wood a week ever since September. Every morning there is a crowd wanting wood and I am weeks behind in my orders.

"My supply will not last more than two weeks, at the very most. Wood which could have been bought at $11 a cord now costs from $15 to $18, and the freight on a carload costs $18. This coal famine was not expected and the foresters did not prepare for it. The trees cut now are too green to burn."

"This supply I have had on hand the last five years. I have given the poor in the neighborhood the benefit by selling them six barrels for $1, and will not charge a cent more for what I have on hand."

WARM THE BABIES.

"A woman came here yesterday and said: 'Won't you please send me a barrel of wood right away, my two babies are almost dying with the cold.' My heart was touched by her sad tones and I took the barrel myself to her home, just a block away. There I saw a baby not two months old and another about a year old. Their little faces were purple from the cold."

"In many homes where I deliver wood last year at this time the winter supply of coal was in the cellars. I can only let each customer have so much, as I want to let them all have the benefit of it while it lasts."

Now the coal strike is ended the people are anxiously looking for relief in cheaper fuel."

AT SEA OVER A TICKET. Bayonne Republicans Will Try Tonight to Select Candidates.

The Bayonne City Republican convention will be held this evening in Convention Hall, Avenue D and West Fort-sixth street. Candidates will be nominated for President of the City Council, Recorder and two Freeholders.

Delegates have not reached any agreement, although Colonel Charles W. Fisher has been the nomination for President. Patrons, now want President Patrick Flanagan nominated for Freeholder, with John A. Warnock, Republican. Fusion leaders admit they are without ward candidates in the First, Second and Third wards, but are ready in the Fourth and Fifth, both Democratic Giblartors.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.

To Frank M. Poye.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey made on the 14th day of hereof, in a cause wherein Henry A. Keller is complainant and the respondents are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, demur or answer to the complainant's bill on or before the twenty-fifth day of November next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed as against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by John Pringle to Henry A. Keller, on the seventh day of July, nineteen hundred, upon lands situate in Jersey City, and you are made defendant because you received a judgment against John Pringle, one of the owners of said lands.
