

WOMAN'S WORLD.

keeping one in tune with the world and with one's fellow creatures, and the happy woman is she who, at fifty and even sixty, has the flush of youthful beauty on her cheek, and the light of her girlhood in her eyes.

too, the doing of reckless things to drive the ache which both of you will regret. It takes two to quarrel. Never be number two. Avoid delicate topics, don't fancy slights, don't be exacting—nothing makes a man worse tempered than to feel his independence is being cut away from him—above all, his hobbies, his work, his old sweethearts.

For small boys of two years or more there are the loveliest new coats in finest broadcloth. These coats are something on the Russian blouse lines, though longer and with a seam down the back covered with stitched strappings.

Another coat for a little boy is very smart. It is in cream white broadcloth, with two side plaits down each side of the back and front. Each plait is caught down by a stitched taffeta strapping which comes down to a deep blouse depth, the fullness being let loose below.

The newest whim of the hostess who dotes on extravagant simplicity is to have her dinner table as plain and simple as possible. A cloth of satin velvet, ferns instead of flowers, unshaded candles instead of elaborate and petticoated electric lights or lamps.

Pongee silk is such a useful material. It is delightful for gowns, for shirt waists, for all kinds of underwear, and there is nothing better for pajamas. A pretty pair of these can be bought for $0.75; a good deal, it seems, for a garment for the night, but pongee will wear and it is always comfortable and looks well.

The newest soft pillow covering is of velvet or suede ornamented with applique designs in leather of contrasting tones. A moss green velvet is applied with the rich hued discs of the sunflower marked by the pyroglyph with brown shadings. Foliage and stems are also burned. A poppy design in red and suede has a background of tan colored suede.

Both sides of the pillows are of the leather laced closely with throngs at the sides and decorated at the corners with leather tassels.

To make Chili sauce remove seeds from six green peppers; peel four large onions and chop both very fine; put into a saucepan, with two dozen peeled tomatoes, eight tablespoons of moist sugar, three tablespoons of salt and one and one-half pints of vinegar. Set on the fire and simmer for an hour. Then let the mixture cool before putting into wide-mouthed bottles or jars.

The straight front corset still prevails. The shore corset, however, is no longer a la mode. A corset is short either above or below the waist line. For instance, slender women choose corsets that are cut off over the abdomen or hips but extend well up under the arms and over the bust.

EQUAL PARTNERS

By HOWARD FIELDING. Copyright, 1901, by Charles W. Hooke.

[CONTINUED.]

It was amusing to suppose that Robinson was still carrying that money in his pocket. He must have put it somewhere. And Elmdorf raked his brains, asking the conventional and generally useless question, "What would I have done in the same circumstances?"

The envelope, looked fresh and the papers on top of it did not. The inference that the thing had been slid into a little used drawer and under those old documents for purposes of concealment was as easy as possible.

With the thin blade of a penknife he very adroitly raised the gummed flap without inflicting any injury which could not be repaired. The envelope contained five $100 bills wrapped in a blank sheet of the firm's paper.

Despite the coincidence of amounts, this was not necessarily the money mentioned in Alden's note to Elsie. If, for instance, Mr. Robinson should say that he had frugally laid by that sum, and had thought his employer's desk the safest place for it, the statement would be equally hard to believe or to disprove.

If Robinson had entered the room at that moment, he would have been arrested for attempted murder, but he

He beheld the strange word reversed. The detective sat down by Alden's desk, holding the money in his hand. His face wore a look of triumph, but it was not pleasant to see, for the resentment which this crime had inspired in him was burning in his heart.

But there came a slow change upon him. His face was puckered around the eyes, and his lower lip got between his teeth. Presently with a hasty hand he scribbled upon a sheet of paper this sentence:

For further particulars inquire of William Elmdorf, New York detective bureau, 300 Mulberry street.

This message he inclosed instead of the money in the envelope, which he carefully resealed. He held it balanced upon two fingers for a moment, eying it critically. Then he replaced it in the drawer under the papers.

viewed the mirror, and saw a stream of blood was flowing. "Bleeds like the deuce!" said he. "You must have cut an artery." Elmdorf looked keenly at Robinson, holding his hand meanwhile in a stream of cold water.

"It will stop in half a minute," said the detective. "If you'll pull my handkerchief out of my pocket and tie it over a couple of seconds, we'll tie the artery." Robinson assisted in this operation, by request, but he was awkward and nervous and seemed not to relish the sight of blood.

When the sun had been up three hours, it was able to look over a low portion of St. Nicholas' building, and see the window of the room where Elsie lay asleep.

"I was afraid you would move too much and hurt yourself," said she. "I knew you must wake soon. How do you feel?"

"I have slept on the couch," replied Brenda. "My maid brought down this loose gown, and I've been very comfortable. I have had some things brought from your house too."

"Did you get my little silver mirror?" asked Elsie, with eagerness. "Oh, how glad of you! Please let me have it." Brenda gave her the mirror, and she gazed long and intently into it; then she sighed and laid down the glass.

"All gone," she said. "Well, that doesn't matter either. Nothing matters any more. But I used to think I would be pretty when I was dead."

"So you will, my dear," answered Brenda. "You'll have a sweeter, prettier face than you have now—the dearest old grandmother's face, with beautiful white curls all around—and the children who come to kiss you will cry about it."

"That's slang," said Elsie. "It merely means terrible." "Well, I'd hardly agree to that word either," said Brenda. "You don't inspire any terror in me. You're only a little bit pale, and perhaps you have cried too much."

BERGEN FIVE A WINNER

Took Two Games in the Royal Arcanum Bowling League Last Night.

TWELFTH WARD WON TWO Second Ward Goes Down in Democratic League—Practice Games Among Clubs.

The Royal Arcanum Bowling League games rolled on Wood's Hall alleys last night offered some surprises to the big crowd present. Bergen Council won two games, defeating Communipaw and Acazia No. 2. The last named clubs met in the odd game and it was won by Communipaw by a small margin.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Acazia No. 2, Communipaw, Bergen, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Communipaw, Bergen, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Bergen, Communipaw, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Bergen, Communipaw, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Bergen, Communipaw, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Bergen, Communipaw, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Bergen, Communipaw, and various individual players.

Table with columns: Club Name, St., Sp., Br., Sc. Rows include Bergen, Communipaw, and various individual players.

NEW RACE RULE. KENNEDY WAS CAPTURED

If Riders Lose Partners They May Double and Finish the Race.

Everything is in readiness for the big international championship six day team race which starts in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Most of the riders, who have been training on out-of-town tracks, have arrived in the city with their retinue of trainers, and will do light work either on the Vailsburgh or Manhattan Beach track today to keep themselves limbered up.

The management has wisely made an amendment to the conditions of the race which will insure the appearance on the track throughout the week of the best riders. In cases where a rider has many possibilities of a rider losing his team mate through accident or other cause, and this after having ridden nearly the entire week under the new conditions, if a rider should lose his partner he will be permitted to double up with any other rider who has lost his team mate.

One hundred and fifty workmen were busy at the Madison Square Garden yesterday and the sound of the hammer was loud to the ear. By nightfall the pine track on which the cycle races will be held will be practically completed and the men will be able to train on it tomorrow. It is all new lumber, and looks like a fine, fast, and yet smoother, with its precipitous slopes at either end, familiar in former years, although the banking is slightly different from the old one.

Now that the cycle manufacturers, those in the trust and the independents, have formed a pool to regulate grades and prices, the Jersey State League of Cycle Manufacturers has decided to nationalize their organization, and a meeting to accomplish this has been called for December 13 in this city.

When the riders of the six-day race line up for their start at Madison Square Garden next Monday morning there will come up the case of Dan Kelly, representing the Century Road Club Association. The Century Road Club as a body is going to give its team a good send-up, and the men in it will be tried out before the race to see the team start on their long journey.

Newark, with Monroe as his mate, finished second in the six-day race, riding a great deal faster this year, and with Jacobson his partner, they are looked upon by the club as almost sure winners. Both men have been training hard, and are able to stand any pace that the other riders are able to set.

Jacobson has held the amateur championship, and is now a professional, and is known as a speedy rider, and one of endurance.

While the problem of sending the Cornell varsity crew to Henley still hangs in balance, the varsity rowing authorities are preparing for the second varsity race which it is now customary to hold annually on Cayuga Lake on Memorial Day. From the present outlook a five-cornered race with crews from Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse and Cornell as participants, is almost a certainty. It will be remembered that last year Cornell rowed second varsity crews on the Schuylkill against Pennsylvania and Columbia, and on Cayuga Lake against Syracuse and Harvard.

The forty-second games of the Seventh Regiment A. A. will be decided tonight in the Army, at Park avenue, Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh streets, New York. Prominent athletes are on scratch in several of the events, among whom are Sheldon, Dale, Allen, Cree, Thomas, McLean, Kent, Baxter, Corvel, French, Andrews, Hughes and Delgado. The events follow: 93-yard dash; 93-yard hurdle; 220-yard hurdle; 880-yard run, handicap; mile run; steeplechase; running high jump; one-mile bicycle race; twenty-mile bicycle race; pole vault and putting the 16-pound shot. Colonel Daniel Appleton will be the referee. The track judges are Major Charles E. Lydecker, Major William C. Fisk, Captain F. G. Langdon and Captain J. E. Schuyler. The field judges are Captain M. B. Steele, Captain J. Davidson, Captain Major William C. Fisk, Captain Robert Magee, Lieutenant F. Barron and Lieutenant L. W. Stoebury. S. D. See will be the starter.

JOHN J. ROGERS SAYS SO

He Also Talks About New President and Booms Temple of Pittsburg.

Will the National League elect a president at its meeting next week? That is the baseball question of the day. John J. Rogers, of the Philadelphia Club, says that he was very much in hopes that Mr. Temple, of Pittsburg, would accept the office, as he was about the only available man to fill the position. "But if it is true, as I have heard, that Mr. Temple will decline to serve," said Mr. Rogers, "I will be very much disappointed, as I know of no other man in the country who is so well fitted to lead our organization. Mr. Temple is very aggressive, perfectly honest, and has no interest in any club, would make an ideal president. I don't like to see the league go along without a head. Mr. Bruns, no doubt, is an able man, and I have nothing to say against the way he handled the league last year, but it does not look right for an owner of a club to also rule the league."

"Did you read the statement made by Jim Kennedy that the American League would not get into New York?" was asked of Mr. Rogers. "Kennedy was right when he said that the American League had missed its chance to get into New York," replied Mr. Rogers. "I know for a fact that at one time Kennedy had the grounds and had everything ready for the American League to get a foothold on the Island of Manhattan. But do you think that it was because Johnson failed to stand by Kennedy that the latter has turned against the American League? Don't you suppose the National League brought something to bear on Mr. Kennedy? You will remember the statement made by Tim Sullivan that he was never interested in baseball for in the American League. That was brought about by the National, and from that time on we had no fear of the American getting into New York proper, though they might get grounds in the Bronx."

When asked if he favored a president for the National League, Bray Dreyfus, of Pittsburg, said: "I don't say recently." "Yes, I favor a president to run the league. I believe that a man of ability should be elected and given power to act as he sees fit. The time has come for Nick Young to retire. He is too old and feeble a man to be at the head of the organization during such times as these. I believe that a man of ability and a difficult matter finding a suitable man for the place. There are lots of men who can fill the bill. Of course, these matters will come up at the league meeting, and will then be decided, as will a great many other important matters."

Robinson, the young New York catcher, will be given a thorough try-out by Manager McGraw in the spring.

Louis Bruce, Toronto's star pitcher, is a student at the Pennsylvania Dental College, and expects to graduate next spring.

"Dusty" Miller, the former Cincinnati outfielder, is said to have purchased a controlling interest in the Chattanooga Club.

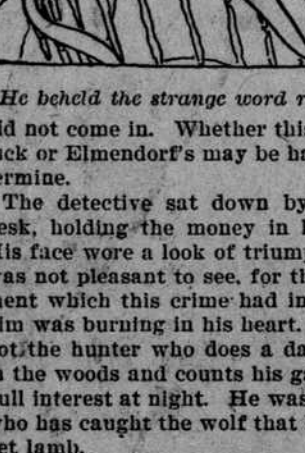

Within the past decade Manager Hanlon has developed six successful captains of the New York Yankees: Kettle, Blackwood, right wings; P. Jamison, center; McGee, left wing.

Princeton, Dec. 5, 1902.—The schedule of Princeton's gymnasium meets was announced today as follows: February 7, University of Pennsylvania in Horticultural Hall, Philadelphia; 11, Lawrenceville at Lawrenceville; 13, Quadrangular exhibition meet between Princeton, Yale, New York University and the University of Pennsylvania at University Heights, New York City; 21 or 23, Washington's Birthday, exhibition in the gymnasium; 27, Yale at New Haven, March 7, Newark Academy, at Newark; 14, Rutgers College at New Brunswick; 27, Intercollegiate meet at University Heights, New York; June 10 exhibition at Brookland Tank Building.

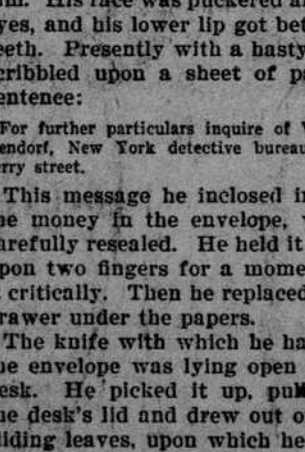

Princeton, Dec. 5, 1902.—The schedule of Princeton's gymnasium meets was announced today as follows: February 7, University of Pennsylvania in Horticultural Hall, Philadelphia; 11, Lawrenceville at Lawrenceville; 13, Quadrangular exhibition meet between Princeton, Yale, New York University and the University of Pennsylvania at University Heights, New York City; 21 or 23, Washington's Birthday, exhibition in the gymnasium; 27, Yale at New Haven, March 7, Newark Academy, at Newark; 14, Rutgers College at New Brunswick; 27, Intercollegiate meet at University Heights, New York; June 10 exhibition at Brookland Tank Building.

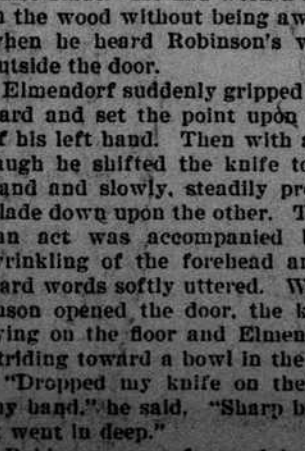

He beheld the strange word reversed.

He beheld the strange word reversed.

He beheld the strange word reversed.

He beheld the strange word reversed.

He beheld the strange word reversed.

GRAIN-O THE PURE GRAIN COFFEE. Even children drink Grain-O because they like it and the doctors say it is good for them. Why not? It contains all of the nourishment of the pure grain and none of the poisons of coffee. TRY IT TO-DAY. At grocers everywhere; 15c and 25c per package.