MARIETTA DAILY LEADER

TUESDAY, FEB. 18, 1896

PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

—Little Trixie.
—The case of Catherine Dauber vs. Jacob Ludwig, to recover damages for alleged slander, was on trial in Common Pleas Court Monday.

—The case of Ohio against Eli Robb, who was charged in 'Squire Guyton's court with taking an oil can belonging to the Producer's Refining Company, was dismissed, the defendant to pay the costs. It was a peculiar case and a few words of explanation are necessary to put Mr. Robb right before the public. It seems that he and Mrs. Penn had some difficulty over a disputed account and Mr. Robb picked up and carried away an oil can which he supposed belonged to the lady. He was mistaken, however, as the can was the property of the Producer's Refining Co. Mr. Robb returned the utensil as soon as the warrant was served upon him.

—Nelson Reed, aged 34 years, was brought down from Elba Monday and adjudged insane by Probate Judge Rood. The unfortunate man was very violent and had to be handcuffed and locked in a cell. He appears to be suffering from religious excitement.

—At his home in Glendale Monday morning Mr. Daniel Closs died of stomach trouble at the age of 64 years. Mr. Closs was a veteran of the late war and had resided in Marietta the greater part of his life.

—The base ball scheme is moving along nicely and it will be but a short time until everything will be in shape to do something. Would it not be a good idea to form a league of cities like Sistersville, Parkersburg, Marietta, Huntington and other places of that sort and have some good ball games this season? No doubt all those places would come in and a very interesting time could be had the coming season.—Sistersville Review.

—The grand masquerade ball to be given this evening by the Silver Star Fishing Club promises to be well attended and one of the leading events of the season.

—M. J. O'Connor, of Hartford, Conn., left for his home Monday, after a week's stay in this county looking after business matters.

—Mrs. S. Luchs and Mr. A. Luchs of Bellaria, are guests of the former's sons here, Morris and Lewis Luchs.

—Mrs. Sarah Hann, wife of J. C. Hann, died Saturday at her home in Beverly and was buried Sunday. She had been ill for a long time.

—Mr. H. A. Staley, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Beverly, is reported to be at the point of death.

—The will of Jane M. Cram, late of Waterford township, deceased, was presented for probate Monday.

—Born, Monday, Feb. 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kropp, a daughter, granddaughter to J. D. Pape.

—All the hotels in the city were filled to overflowing last night, and still a number of would-be guests could not be accommodated.
—Pilot Charles Rowland, of the Florence Shanks, who was injured at this place last Saturday, had sufficiently recovered Monday to resume his post at the wheel.

—Sloane and Burton, the two men arrested last week for running a speakeasy at Waverly, had a hearing at Parkersburg Monday. Sloane was bound over to court. Burton was dismissed on the original charge, but was fined $25 and costs for carrying a revolver. The latter is generally known as a "bad" man.

—The "Old Homestead" last night at the Auditorium was greeted by the largest house of the season; standing room being at a premium. There were present many out-of-town visitors, mostly from Vincent and Parkersburg. The play was put on in very good shape—each actor sustaining his part very well. The acting of the old men parts was especially good. The singing was of an unusually high order, the tenor and base having naturally fine voices, well cultivated.

—Mr. F. W. White and Miss Nellie M. Thompson, both of this city, were united in marriage Monday evening by 'Squire Richards.

—John Trevanger, of Masterton, Noble county, and Annie Stickrath, of Liberty township, were married Monday evening by 'Squire R. E. Guyton.

—Hon. D. J. Richards, of Zauesville, is in the city on business.

—Mr. Edward L. Kelsner, of Pomeroy, is a business visitor in the city.

—W. M. Dearth is registered at the Bellevue.

—On Friday and Saturday, Feb. 21st and 22d, the people of this city will be treated to two very fine entertainments, which will equal a trip to Europe without the inconvenience of travel. Mr. C. E. Bolton, M. A., will appear on the 21st in his illustrated lecture "Russia and the Romanoffs" and on the 22d in "Lands of the Midnight Sun." Mr. Bolton is reputed to be one of the best lecturers on the platform and his art entertainments are simply superb. Both lectures will be delivered at Andrews Hall. Admission, single lecture, 35c; both lectures 50c.

—Born, Monday, Feb. 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weinheimer, Jr., a daughter.

—Real Estate Agents J. A. Plumer & Son sold Monday the house of Louis Wendelken, Sixth street, to Mrs. Wm. Hemmeger for $2,500.

—Mr. P. Kunz, Jr., is a $50 subscriber to the boiler works fund whose name should have appeared in the list printed in the Leader.

—The Senior Club will meet to-night with Professor and Mrs. Biscoe. "The Peoples' Lamps," by Parsons in the Arena, will be discussed.

—The many Marietta friends of Mr. Cy. Thomas, the popular salesman of the Central Ohio Paper Co., will be pained to learn that he is confined to his bed with typhoid fever.

—S. C. Wilhelm left via the T. & O. C. Ex. R. R. for Granville, to visit friends. He will be gone until Saturday.

—The Congregational church social will be entertained Thursday evening at the home of Dr. O. M. Willis, Fourth street.

—The house of Charles Meisenholder, Wooster St., was sold Monday morning to Mr. Al. Beasley. The price paid was $1,850. J. A. Plumer & Son negotiated the deal.

Jane Husted Whittlesey.
Born at Greenwich, Conn., July 26, 1812; died at St. Cloud, Minn., February 10, 1896.

It was a peaceful end to a life full of years, and in which there had been much of happiness as well as much of sorrow. At the age of six years, Mrs. Whittlesey moved with her parents from her Eastern home to Marietta, Ohio, the oldest settlement of the West. Here on October 25, 1838, she was married to Mr. William A. Whittlesey (attorney of the Treasury department during President Lincoln's administration) and with the Hon. Joshua R. Giddings. He served in the state legislature and represented the Marietta district in the Thirty-first congress, declining a re-election, as he preferred to devote his time and energies to the practice of his profession and became one of the leading members of the Ohio bar. They had four children—one son dying in infancy and a daughter in young girlhood; a son, Captain W. Beale Whittlesey, who was killed while bravely leading his company at the battle of Mission Ridge, and a daughter, Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, of this city, who survives her, and at whose home she died. Mr. Whittlesey died in 1894, after a painful illness.

Mrs. Whittlesey bore the sorrows which came upon her as mother and as wife with resignation and took up the burdens of life with patience and a brave heart. Every duty was faithfully met. Quiet and unassuming, yet in all matters of principle she had the firmness which came with her Puritan blood. She only asked to know what was right and just, and that she did to the full measure of her strength and ability. During the past twenty years her time has been fairly divided between her old home at Marietta and her new one at St. Cloud—finding in the one the pleasures of the ripened friendships of early days, and in the other the happiness which came into her life with a younger generation. Thus the years passed by, their joys finding a response in a thankful heart and their sorrows being borne without repining. She was an earnest Christian, a member of the Congregational Church, and when the end came it found her ready and willing to go. She leaves besides the one daughter, two sisters, one of whom has always made her home with her and was with her when she died, and the other living at Parkersburg, W. Va.

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at W. H. Styer's Drug Store.

FATALLY SHOT.

An Enraged Husband Shoots a Chicago Boarding-House Keeper.
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Walter P. Bennett, a boarding-house keeper, of 127 East Sixteenth street, was Sunday afternoon fatally shot by Albert E. Williams. Mrs. Williams recently left her husband and went to live at Bennett's house. Sunday afternoon Williams came to the place and broke in both the front door and the door leading into his wife's bedroom. Not finding any one in he went into the hall and fired two shots from his revolver into the ceiling. He then came down stairs and meeting Bennett, fired the remaining cartridges at him.

Saved His Life
—By a fortunate discovery in the nick of time. Hundreds of persons suffering from consumption have had the progress of the disease stopped, and have been brought back to life and health by the "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce.

Years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, now chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., recognizing the fact that consumption was essentially a germ disease, and that a remedy which would drive the germs and their poisons from the blood would cure consumption, at last found a medicine which cured 90 per cent. of all cases, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease.

The tissues of the lungs being irritated by the germs and poisons in the blood circulating through them, the germs find lodgment there, and the lungs begin to break down. Soon the general health begins to fail, and the person feels languid, weak, faint, drowsy and confused.

This is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; it drives the germs and poisons from the blood, and has a soothing effect upon the dry cough. In cases of bronchitis the "Discovery" is invaluable.

"Golden Medical Discovery" increases the amount and quality of the blood, thus invigorating and fortifying the system against disease and builds up wholesome flesh and strength after wasting diseases, as fevers, pneumonia, grip and other debilitating affections.

Geo. M. Hirt, of Anderson, Indiana, writes: "I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and chest, and I suffered intensely with it. I tried several of our best physicians here and they gave up all hopes of my recovery, and thought I would have to die. I took your cough and spit blood for hours, and I was pale and weak. I was greatly discouraged when I began the use of the 'Discovery,' but I soon got better. It has been five years since I took it and have had no return of that trouble since."

DOUBLE MURDER.
Killed His Wife, Assaulted and Killed His Little Niece, and to Cover His Crimes Fired the House.

AUGUSTA, Ky., Feb. 17.—Early Saturday morning Robert Laughlin, living about three miles from here, met his brother-in-law, Lee Jones, and told him a horrible tale about how he, Laughlin, had awoken at daylight to find a burly murderer bending over him in the act of cutting his throat; how he had grappled with the fellow, who had escaped, together with a pal who had been in the room; how he, Laughlin, had staggered from the house, which in the meantime he had discovered to be in flames, and had gone to a neighbor's, leaving his wife and his niece, May Jones, aged 12, in the building. The woman and the girl were cremated.

Sunday Laughlin confessed that he did the deed.
The inhuman husband was at once arrested and hurried to jail at Augusta to escape the fury of his neighbors.

Marshal Sayers and Judge James A. Wallace were of the opinion that Laughlin had murdered his wife and niece hours before the man had confessed.

The murderer had attended the funeral of the two victims Sunday afternoon and was at the home of W. W. Laughlin when the officers went to arrest him. Circumstances had pointed to him as the guilty man, and when the posse called at the house the aged father and mother and the brothers and sisters were comforting the supposed bereaved man.

The slight wounds on Laughlin's neck were made by him, he says, in an attempt at suicide after realizing the enormity of his crime.

There are some people here charitable enough to believe that he is insane.
Laughlin was Monday morning taken to the Maysville jail.

Merchant vs. Druggist.

If a "merchant" offers you a "dollar" bottle of "medicine" for "23 cents" you can make up your mind right then and there that he's got either a "dark stained glass intellect"—don't know what he's doing—or's got what you call a "commodious, hard-wood conscience" and is selling you "stuff." He would prefer to tell a "lie on one month's credit" than the "truth for cash." Whenever you expect to get "something for nothing" you get "nothing for something." Moral—Buy your "drugs and medicines" from a "Druggist" because "he knows what he's selling" and the safest place to buy them is from "us."
