FOR SENATOR, I. R. ROSE.

Washington county will present the name of I. R. Rose to the Republican Senatorial convention of the Ninth-Fourteenth district, which will convene at Athens next Tuesday, June 4th, and his nomination will be urged by our delegation, sixty-five votes strong. The services of Mr. Rose, both for his country and his party, argue strongly in his favor, and the Leader, after having made a thorough canvass, firmly believes that it expresses the desire of all good Republicans by saying that he should be nominated. I. R. Rose is well and favorably known to the people of Washington county. The larger part of his life has been spent in their midst, and no one can be found who will say that he is other than a gentleman in every sense of the word, a good citizen, true patriot, an unwavering Republican, an honest man.

For three years and eight months Mr. Rose followed the old flag, fighting the battles of his country, and willing to sacrifice his life, if need be, for the maintenance of our Union and the preservation of the free institutions of our land. Seven months of this time was spent within the confines of Andersonville. Twice he escaped, was recaptured, but the third time he succeeded in reaching the Union lines. He first enlisted and served four months in Company K of the Eighteenth Ohio, and upon re-enlistment he was assigned to Company F, Sixty-third Ohio, in which regiment he experienced service of a most trying character.

Upon his return from the war Mr. Rose entered the pursuits of peace, and his value as a citizen has been in thorough keeping with his services as a soldier. In 1884 he was elected Sheriff of Washington county by a majority of 142, succeeding to this office after it had been occupied by Democrats for eight years. In 1886 he was re-elected by an increased majority, and in all of his official acts he discharged, to the full satisfaction of all the people, every duty given into his care.

The Leader urges the nomination of Mr. Rose, believing that such action would mean the promotion of the interests not only of Washington county, but also of the entire Senatorial district.

Three years and eight months as a soldier in the service of his country, seven months of which time was spent in Andersonville prison, ought to be at least some argument in favor of Mr. I. R. Rose, Washington county's candidate for State Senator, but the Register doesn't seem to think so. The comrades of Mr. Rose, the men who fought with him for the preservation of the Union, along with every loyal Republican, stand for his nomination as will be shown by the action of the Washington county delegation when it goes to Athens.

Washington county Republicans have no candidate for State Senator.—Register.

Well, well, it seems that the poor old ante-diluvian creature is still asleep. Possibly she will awaken to a realization of the fact when the balloting begins at Athens on next Tuesday.

The signs of the times are that the professional politician is on the toboggan.—Register.

Yes, the Register and its gane, for example.

TWO OF A KIND.

The Marietta Register in seeking to prevent the nomination of a Washington county man for state senator, broadly insinuates that because the Register does not own the said candidate, it will go to the extent of defeating him at the polls if he is nominated. The cases of the Register in Marietta and the Courier in this city are very similar. For many years they were the sole representative of the party in their respective cities. They became accustomed to autocratic dictations and rendering nothing in return. They spent most of their time in making war upon such Republicans as refused to pay daily homage to their newspaper thrones. In the case of the Courier it completely demoralized the party and the party organization by demanding that the party shoulder its fight with organized labor.

This attitude made it absolutely necessary for a reorganization and a new deal all around, or else abandon all hope of ever regaining the ground that had been lost. Neither the Register nor the Courier, it seems, will ever forgive those who for the sake of the party encouraged the entrance of loyal and aggressive Republican papers into the field where they were so badly needed. They still consider it their duty to bolt the nomination of those candidates whom they are unable to control absolutely or whom they suspect of friendship to the other side.

There is a way to compel a pretended party newspaper to be loyal to that party or else throw off its mask and we are badly mistaken if the remedy is not applied in the State of Ohio before many years pass.—Zanesville Times Recorder.

DEMOCRATIC OPINIONS.

Monday's Enquirer published interviews with leading Democrats in various sections of the State on the questions of the time and place for the Democratic State convention, and the platform. Following are the opinions expressed by Mariettans:

D. B. Torpy, ex-Sheriff and Clerk of Courts—The convention should be held at Columbus, and Jeffersonian Democracy pure and simple should constitute the platform. The money question should be of secondary consideration. I am for Kilbourne for Governor, and do not think it advisable for the convention to endorse any one for United States Senator.

B. J. McKinney, Editor Times—Columbus is the logical place for all conventions, being easiest of access from all parts of the state. The platform should be Democratic in every sense and positive in every plank. There should be no backing down on the money question. Gold and silver, with the proper ratio, should constitute the basis for our medium of exchange. The date for holding the convention is immaterial.

A. L. Gracey, President Marietta Electric Railway—Columbus is the proper place to hold the convention, and the middle of July would be a suitable time. The platform should not deviate from straight Democratic principles, and none of Tom Johnson's "isms" should be permitted to creep into it. Municipal ownership is not practical. Senatorial endorsement is not advisable.

Charles A. Ludey, Attorney—I am in favor of holding the convention at Columbus, and believe the Democratic platform of 1900 ought to be reaffirmed with the exception of the free silver plank, and this ought to be cut out entirely.

Dr. O. A. Lambert—The convention should go to Columbus, and the middle of July would be a good time. The money question should not be any means be made the paramount issue. Otherwise a reaffirmation of the 1900 platform would meet my views. I am in favor of municipal ownership, but am opposed to the Democratic State Convention endorsing any candidate for the United States Senatorship.

H. B. Coen, Attorney—Columbus should have the convention, and the middle of July would be an appropriate date. I think the platform ought to have a plank favoring bimetallicism. It seems to me that it would be proper for the convention to endorse a candidate for Senator.

Charles R. Richardson—Columbus and the middle of July suits me. Let the platform be Jeffersonian-Jacksonian clear through.

MCLEAN AND KILBOURNE.

Any doubt that may have existed concerning the reported alliance between John R. McLean and Colonel Kilbourne has been dispelled by an Enquirer interview with Lewis Bernard, Mr. McLean's authorized spokesman. In this interview Mr. Bernard talks as follows:

"I know of absolutely no foundation in fact for the story that Judge Jackson is to be the Hamilton county candidate for the nomination. It would be quite likely that he might be chosen if Hamilton county were going to have a candidate of its own, but the vote of Hamilton county will be cast on the first ballot and all other ballots for Colonel Kilbourne, of Columbus. He is apparently the unanimous choice of Hamilton County. I do not think under the circumstances that Judge Jackson's name will be mentioned at the convention. He would have my support if circumstances favored a Hamilton County man, but we are practically pledged to Colonel Kilbourne."

In this paper appears the announcement of R. E. Hull, the hustling Republican of Fairfield township, who enters the race for Infirmary Director.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S ATTITUDE.

There is good reason to believe that the well-informed Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia "Press" speaks with knowledge and authority when he asserts that President McKinley is in opposed alike to Tariff revision and to the Kasson plan of reducing Tariff rates by special trade treaties. The President, it is said, deprecates the opening up of the Tariff question as disturbing and injurious to business interests, and the Babcock folly of slaughtering the minor concerns by removing all Protective duties from foreign products competing with the products of the Steel Trust will receive no encouragement from the administration.

With equal positiveness it is affirmed that President McKinley has not only exerted no pressure for the ratification of the French reciprocity treaty, but, on the contrary, has been in full sympathy with the Protectionist opposition to that ill-advised and mischievous instrument. According to the "Press" correspondent the President did not examine the French treaty before submitting it to the Senate for approval, and hence was not aware that Commissioner Kasson had agreed upon a draft distinctly designed to benefit certain industries by withdrawing needed Protection from other industries.

With equal reason it may be taken for granted that the President had not investigated the scope and operation of the proposed Argentina treaty, which provided for a reduction of 20 per cent. from the duties on wool provided for in the Dingley tariff law.

Undoubtedly the President is in favor of reciprocal trade arrangements that shall enlarge the foreign demand for American products, but it is real and not bogus reciprocity that he favors—the reciprocity authorized by the Republican national platform of 1900, in "what we do not ourselves produce." Those who imagine that President McKinley is today anything less than the sound and consistent Protectionist that he always was are nursing a vain delusion. The President is a friend of American labor and industry. Make no mistake about that!

SENATORS DESIGN.

South Carolina's two Senators, Tillman and McLaughlin, have resigned their seats and will now go before the people to fight it out. These men entertain views that are radically different, and in view of this fact they agreed that both could not properly represent their state in the highest law-making body of the land, hence the agreement to submit the question to the people for settlement. A primary election will be held, the understanding being that the candidate receiving the smallest number of votes is to retire.

Some of the causes leading up to the resignation of the two Senators are given below:

Tillman's Democracy is based on Bryanism as laid down in the Kansas City platform.

McLaughlin repudiates Bryanism and represents the progressive commercial Democracy of the South.

Tillman still advocates the free coinage of silver.

McLaughlin is a Gold Democrat.

Tillman opposed the ratification of the Paris peace treaty.

McLaughlin cast the deciding vote ratifying the McLaughlin treaty.

Tillman is opposed to expansion.

McLaughlin favors it as being in the interest of the Southern cotton planters.

Tillman opposed the Puerto Rican civil government and tariff bill.

McLaughlin voted with the Republicans in favor of it.

Tillman opposed the increase of the regular army.

McLaughlin voted with the Republicans in favor of the increase.

Tillman opposed the ship subsidy bill.

McLaughlin favored it.

Tillman opposed the ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

McLaughlin favored it.

Wheel Stolen.

Chas. Sturgiss is wondering what became of a Cleveland wheel which he left in front of Beagle & Lytle's drug store at about half past ten Monday morning. When he returned from a business excursion to the offices in the Mills building the bike was gone. Search failed to reveal it and finally the officers were notified to keep a strict watch for the supposed thief and his machine.

A Way to Handle the Grain.

The Phoenix Mill Company is having a grain chute built which will run from the railroad bridge to the interior of the mill. On each side of the different roads' tracks large hoppers are being built and into these whole cars of grain may be unloaded. The grain is forced through the conveyor by means of an iron core of auger snake which is kept turning when the grain is being run.

Finger Lacerated.

James Petty, a lad about 10 years old, had the misfortune to mash his finger Sunday evening. The member, the index on the left hand, was lacerated so badly that at first it was thought necessary to amputate it, but it can probably be saved. The injury was received while the boy was playing with a heavy piece of iron.
