

The fallacy of savage Africa makes an abhorrent, and fills us with disgust. Yet we have fetiches of our own, one of them great, widely-worshipped, and in whose name crimes innumerable are daily perpetrated. The name of that fetish is Ignorance. To that powerful fetish thousands of mothers annually make sacrifice of their daughters. For what is it but a sacrifice to the fetish Ignorance to permit girls to blossom to womanhood, and enter the marriage relation without one helpful hint of the obligations of that relation and its physical perils?

Just the word which the mother fails to speak would turn the young girl's attention to the danger of irregularity. For it is in the ignorance of the necessity for regularity in the periods that the foundation is laid for the debilitating drains, the female weakness, bearing-down pains, inflammation and ulceration that rob marriage of joy and motherhood of happiness.

That "God-send for women" as women have named it, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, establishes regularity of the periods, dries up all unhealthy drains, cures female disease, and inflammation and ulceration of the peculiarly feminine organs.

Women suffering from diseases peculiarly feminine, may consult Dr. K. V. Pierce, by letter at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, absolutely without charge or fee. Each letter is opened in strict privacy, read as sacredly confidential and to preserve the seal of confidence unbroken, all replies are sent in plain envelopes, bearing no single word of printed matter.

The sweetest girl seen
Is the mid-summer dream
That languidly lounges
In shadow and shade,
And worries her mind
About how to find
A fellow to keep her
From dying an old maid.

HOME GOOD ENOUGH.

Chicago Woman Goes for European Trip But Homesickness Drives Her Home Again.

Mrs. Fannie Hall, 5423 Wentworth avenue, Chicago, has returned to her home delicious with joy over the reunion with her husband and her baby Helen. Mrs. Hall lives in a small apartment in a two-story frame building in Wentworth avenue. She is not rich. Her husband is a master mechanic in an automobile shop. But she prefers the society of her husband and child to that of the rich and distinguished people to be found in the old world.

She started for Europe Decoration day. She had hardly passed the statue of Liberty on the outward voyage when homesickness seized her. For every wave from Bedloe's island to Southampton she shed a tear, and when she got there she could hardly wait for the gangplank to be lowered before she was asking directions to the first boat back to New York. She had a return ticket and money waiting her at Bidden-Baden, but she couldn't wait. She drifted aimlessly about London for three days, and then boarded the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse for New York.

When she arrived in Gotham she was penniless. A dispatch to her astonished husband produced the necessary funds, and she at once took passage on a fast train to Chicago.

"Hereafter Chicago is good enough for me," she said.

GOLDEN PLAQUE FROM TACOMA

President Given Souvenir Which Was Prepared in Honor of His Expected Visit to City.

C. H. Baker, formerly of Chicago, son of William H. Baker, at one time president of the Chicago Board of Trade, as the representative of the Shogunmie Falls Power company of Seattle and Tacoma, Wash., has presented the president with a magnificent gold and silver plaque. The plaque, which is eight by ten inches in dimensions, was made to be presented to President McKinley as a souvenir during his visit to the two Washington cities. As the president's journey was curtailed by the illness of Mrs. McKinley, it was decided to present the souvenir. A representation of the falls from which the power is obtained appears on the plaque. These falls are 270 feet high, which is higher than the dome of the capitol. The power from the falls is transmitted 32 miles to Seattle and 44 to Tacoma. The base of the plaque is solid silver, while the figures in bas relief are of gold. The figures in gold represent the flour mills, smelting works, street car lines, the Seattle distributing station, the underground machinery chamber, and a sketch of scenes along the route. The present is one of the handsomest of its kind received by the president, the cost of the metal of which it is made being $500.

Where to Begin.

A Denver doctor wants useless people killed off. We would suggest, in case his scheme goes into effect, says the Chicago Record-Herald, that it would be well to begin with those who bring in their own poetry and insist on reading it.

GROOT IS BUSY
Arranging For the Coming Free Silver State Convention.

Special to the Leader.

Cleveland, O., July 26.—George A. Groot, the manager of the new Bryan Democracy of Ohio, is still cheerfully aggressive in pushing his plans. The fact that he has received assurances from his star-eyed god, Bryan, that he doesn't want to have a campaign in his behalf carried on, hasn't had the slightest effect in dampening Groot's ardor. In fact, it seems to have sent him forward with his work in making the arrangements for the convention in Columbus on July 31 with greater ardor than ever.

Just now he is engaged in preparing his speech to the convention, which he will call to order as temporary chairman. He has selected Dr. Abner L. Davis, of Findlay, as the temporary secretary. No permanent arrangements for a convention hall have as yet been made, as Mr. Groot is not just sure how many will turn out for his convention. He says that he has received letters from Toledo, Cincinnati, Canton, Findlay and other towns, assuring him that large delegations from those towns will be on hand and the convention will probably reach sufficiently respectable proportions to enable them to lease the Auditorium. It is possible that the candidate for Governor may be nominated in the Great Southern Hotel, which is placed down as headquarters.

Now that General Isaac R. Sherwood has rushed to the front with the announcement that he wouldn't stand for the nomination for Governor and is out of politics, Mr. Groot is somewhat puzzled where to look for a candidate. He says that the General has given him private assurances that he is heart and soul with the movement, and in the next breath adds that the General announces that he is out of politics. So that the General's support doesn't seem to amount to very much, any how.

The quandary as to whom the convention will select as a standard bearer has not been dissipated since the General's refusal to be led forth. The prospect before a candidate does not seem to be an iridescent dream, even in the perverted imagination of Mr. Groot.

"We will have to meet and exchange confidences before anything is settled on that score," said Mr. Groot. "Personally I believe that Judge Patrick, of New Philadelphia, is the strongest man we can put up. We haven't as yet received positive assurances that the Judge will stand, although it is more than likely that he will lead us."

Mr. Groot is burning the midnight oil over his speech to the convention. He intimates that he will have things to say that will make the Johnson-Lean Democrats ponder long. It is probable that Bryan will not deceive the idealization that he received from Mr. Groot's lips a week or so ago, although the gold Democrats and present Democratic management are sure to come up for a good roasting. He will say in effect that Democrats have but two choices this fall if they don't vote the independent gold ticket. He passes over the fact that this is an ambiguous statement, as they would have two chances anyhow under normal conditions, and then says that they must vote the Republican ticket or stay at home. This places every Democrat beyond doubt in peril of his position.

"Why should the Democrats of Ohio abandon the only issue that is before them today, an issue on which the battles of two campaigns have been fought? Are they weak hearted and vacillating that they should abandon the battle before it is fairly begun?"

OLD MAIDS IN ODD UNION.

"Lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine," sang half a dozen maidens of the little village of Butler, near Columbus, O., twenty years ago. Apparently the Butler swains did not resist wine even when they knew the penalty, for the number has grown from 30 to 75 maidens of uncertain age. They have formed a club known as the Old Maids' association. The other day they held their annual reunion in Richey's grove. Several hundred old maids from different parts of the state were present, but not a man showed himself at the gathering. A number of speeches were made, in which the speakers expressed the sentiment and reaffirmed the pledge taken years ago. The association is growing annually, but the effect on the male population has not been pronounced.

Morgan Buys a Painting.

J. Pierpont Morgan has made another great art purchase. He has just acquired Sir Joshua Reynolds' famous portrait group, "Lady Delma and Her Daughters." He bought the picture from the dealer, Charles Wertheimer. This portrait, which stands high among Reynolds' masterpieces and is an extremely attractive work, changed hands at Christie's auction-room nine years ago at $55,000. Mr. Morgan is now said to have paid $10,000 for it. Reynolds painted it in 1780 for Lady Delma, who was a sister of the earl of Carlisle and a great beauty. Reynolds got $1,050 for it.
