Former Beaverdam Mayor Dies Sunday

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the home for Charles Weaver, 73, former mayor of Beaverdam, who died at his residence of a heart attack last Sunday morning.

He was the father of Mrs. Raymond Conrad, of Bluffton.

Rev. W. H. Webster officiated at the last rites. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery at Beaverdam.

A Republican party leader in his town for many years, Weaver had been employed for the last three years by the state highway department. He had served two terms as mayor of Beaverdam.

He is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mrs. Raymond Conrad, of Bluffton; Mrs. Ralph Benroth, of Lima; Mrs. Harry Beach, also of Lima, a former Allen County Republican chairman; and one sister, Mrs. James Bragg, of Lima.

Soybeans show more tolerance than other legumes to acid soils. Alfalfa and sweet clover have the least tolerance of any legumes for soil acidity. Wheat and oats are little affected by acid soils, but barley needs lime to produce well.

With Precaution Children Can Avoid Usual Diseases, Doctor Tells P. T. A.

Recommending immunization for whooping cough, small pox and diphtheria for all pre-school children, Dr. A. W. Pinkerton, child specialist from Lima, addressed members of the Parent-Teachers association at the Bluffton High school auditorium Tuesday night.

Also talking at the meeting was the county health nurse, Mrs. Chambers, who told of the work of the county in promoting the health of children.

Dr. Pinkerton discounted the theory that children must get the usual run of childhood diseases. With care for diet, sleep and immunization the child need not have any of the diseases.

Whooping cough is specially serious for young children. The medical profession has experienced unusual success, however, in preventive measures for this child disease.

The common cold should be a matter of far more serious concern than most parents consider it. The incubation period for the average cold is from 24 to 36 hours and at this time action should be taken to prevent its spread.

The child should go to bed, keep warm at all times and stay out of school so as not to affect others. Fever usually accompanies the cold of a child but not adults, the child specialist stated.

The complications resulting from the common cold are often of a serious nature and every effort should be used in controlling colds of children.

We wish to thank all the neighbors and friends for their aid and sympathy extended in the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, David P. Diller; also Rev. Schultz who officiated at the funeral; the singers; those sending flowers; and all those assisting otherwise in any way.
